EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. J. C. Howlett

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Freeman of Peyton met at the Sunnyside last Saturday evening rather unexpectedly. Mrs. F. having come out on the Eagle Point and Peyton stage for the purpose of going to Medford to meet her husband, and he came out on the train on his way to go up to Peyton that night to see her, as he had heard that she was indisposed, and just as he was preparing to start for Peyton he learned that she was at the Sunnyside, so came over, and they remained until Tuesday and took the stage for home, she feeling much better in health.

J. T. Haley, who bought a part of the old Laffin place, called Monday morning and reports that his children have the scarlet fever and that his house is quarantined, and that he and a hired man are keeping batch in a tent, and that he has no way of getting word to or from his family, as the mailcarrier refuses to handle the mail from the house.

Rev. Abbott, Sunday school missionary for the M. E. church, preached Sunday night to a large audience. In the morning he lectured to the Sunday school and a few who had heard that he was to be there. His lecture in the morning was exceptionally fine and interesting to the children, as well as to the adults, and if he should happen to return to this place he would receive a cordial greeting.

T. H. Williams has taken charge of the barber shop while the proprietor, Mr. McDaniel, has gone to California on a business trip.

Our annual school meeting was held Monday. There was a good attendance, and A. B. Zimmerman was elected in the place of W. L. Childreth, whose term of office expired as director, and A. J. Florey, our accommodating postmaster, was elected clerk.

Dr. Bonner and wife and one of Fort Hubbard's boys called for dinner Monday on their way to the Big Butte country.

Mr. Rosebaugh, business manager of the firm of Hutchison & Lumsden, and young Mr. Lumsden, came out Monday in their auto, called for dinner and went on their way, but I was so busy that I only had time to say "Howdy" and they were gone.

Mrs. Levi Murphy of Ashland came out Sunday evening with her son, Orin, in his auto to pay Mrs. Howlett a visit. They are oldtime friends of long ago. Mrs. A. N. Thomas, another oldtime friend to the two, by special invitation, called and spent the day Monday with Mrs. Howlett and Mrs. Murphy. We have all been acquainted for the last 40 years.

Jimmie Duggan, one of our prosperous farmers, is hauling lumber to build a new house.

The railroad company has moved the steam shovel onto the north side of Butte creek and it is working on the hill just north of the depot. The company are rushing the work along as fast as they can. Mr. Calahan was down Monday and reports that he has his part of the contract completed near the north side of Round Top. John Murphy, the foreman of the gang that is boarding at the Sunnyside, spoke for board for ten more men, making a gang of 24. There were 43 stayed here Monday night, and we had 33 horses in and around the barn to feed. So the readers of the Mail Tribune will see that there is something doing at Eagle Point.

Speaking of Eagle Point, brings to my mind that the Hillcrest ball team came over last Sunday and played against the Eagle Point boys and got licked, but not quite skunked. The game stood 2 to 19 in favor of Eagle Point.

John W. Smith and G. H. Wamsley are at work raising the Sunnyside barn and putting on a new roof, increasing the storage capacity and making more stable room. There were two men came in Monday evening with teams and engaged board and stable room at the Sunnyside. They are here to haul pipe for the Medford pipe line from Eagle Point to Wasson canyon.

John McKee, son and daughter, Mrs. John Higinbotham, came out Tuesday, called for dinner and went on to Medford the same day.

J. C. Moore of Elk Creek and two other men came out Monday, stopped over night with us and went on to Ashland Tuesday.

Messrs. Dodge and Laton are engaged boring a well for E. S. Wolfer. They are having some trouble on account of the gravelly formation they have to go through.

The rain and cloudy weather the past week has been worth pennies to the corn, late grain and gardens and has not hurt the hay.
