CENTRAL POINT NEWSLETTER

Miss McDowell returned from Ashland on Friday, after a few days' visit with friends residing in that city.

Postmaster Guy Tex is at home again after three weeks spent in Oregon's metropolis. Mrs. Tex and little Paul stopped off for a short visit in Eugene.

A little daughter of Mrs. Eugene Sanborn is suffering from an injury to her knee, resulting from a fall received about a week ago. Inflammation developed and the little one is now under the doctor's care, but no serious trouble is apprehended.

Mrs. Austin returned on Friday morning from a visit in Phoenix.

J. M. Caldwell, formerly of Central Point, but more recently of Yoncalla, has returned with his brother, mother and sister, and will again make this city his home. He has rented Mrs. Randell's house at the corner of Sixth and Oak.

Mrs. J. W. Myers returned from Portland on Tuesday with a very severe cold, which threatened to terminate in pneumonia. She is, however, considerably better at the present writing.

Dr. Anderson will take a little pleasure trip north about the first of July, during which time he will visit Portland and possibly other points.

C. W. Jeffers leaves Central Point next Monday for his claim, up near Butte Falls. Mrs. Jeffers will not accompany him this time.

About 25 candidates for baptism will receive that rite next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The mode of baptism will be immersion, and some near point of the Rogue river will be chosen as the place. Rev. K. H. Sickafosse will be the officiating minister and all of the candidates will unite with the Christian church. It is understood that all the churches will receive quite a large number of accessions to their membership next Sunday, as a result of the union evangelistic work recently carried on here.

Rev. M. E. Coen and family will return to Woodville some time next week.

Charles Wood of Chico, Cal., is in the city visiting with his grandmother, Mrs. T. J. Kelsoc, and his aunt, Mrs. James Cline. He arrived last Monday and will remain some time.

A. D. Houston, recently of this city, but now in Weed, Cal., will spend the Fourth here with his wife and babies.

Pantorium to Spend $5000 or Over Plant

Not very many people realize that the Pantorium company has spent something like $10,000 in equipment for carrying on their work of dyeing and cleaning. Now they are busy taking out the old machinery and installing new, and expect to spend in all about $5000 more for equipment.

A new boiler, two and one-half times the capacity of the one used previously, has been installed. A new spotting room has been fitted up where every article will be examined and processed separately for spots.

New steam cleaning, vaporizing and scouring rooms have been added, these to contain all the latest improved copper divates, etc. Everything is so arranged that no article can possibly become damaged while being cleaned and so that work may be done quickly and most satisfactorily. Everything from the finest silk or chiffon party gown or fine feathers, coats, gloves, etc., can be cleaned perfectly by the Pantorium.

TABLE ROCK ITEMS.

Crops are looking well in this vicinity. The hay crop is about all cut.

K. A. Wyckoff came down from Portland for a short stay at his ranch.

Master Fred Collins of Jacksonville is visiting with his uncle here. S. K. Adams was in Medford and Central Point with a load of berries and produce this week.

Mrs. John Vincent of Jacksonville was a caller in Table Rock this week. There were quite a number of voters present at the school meeting Monday. J. H. Lydiard was elected clerk for one year and S. K. Adams director for three years.

One of the late social events was an ice cream social at S. D. Carpenter's, in honor of his 36th birthday. Quite a number of his friends were present.

W. A. Aiken, the Medford plumber, was in Table Rock this week.

Mrs. Arnold Bailey returned on Thursday from a visit with her sister in Ashland.

A New Era in Burying

It is remarkable to note the radical changes of opinion that have occurred among individuals, indeed, among whole communities, upon the question of mausoleum burial. In less than five years the work of building these mausoleums under the patents and copyrights of the International Mausoleum company has increased by leaps and bounds, until at the present time there are thousands of them being constructed throughout the United States. Stop and think a moment of this "better way," contrast the burial of your loved ones in mausoleums, with earthly burial. How often have you gone to a funeral and stood around the grave during a downpour of rain, saw the form of one near and dear to you lowered into a watery grave, then listened to the dismal sound of the earth falling upon the coffin lid? Have you not often thought, is there not a "better way"? Then read carefully the following letter written by Mr. Blythe:

"Cleveland, O., April 14, 1909.
 "My Dear Mr. Blizard: Yesterday I made my first visit to Shelby, O., to call upon the International Mausoleum Co. and to inspect the mausoleum erected there by them. I learned there was to be a funeral held in the mausoleum during the afternoon. The funeral party, on its arrival, left their carriages and assembled within the large marble-lined corridor of the mausoleum. The light streaming through the skylights which run the entire length of the building, reflected by the marble, made it lighter than the gray day outside. The services were brief and dignified. All stood uncovered without any discomfort. At the completion of the services the casket was quietly raised to the third tier and laid into a pure white lined compartment, and that was the end.

"No dirt, no mud, no bedraggled flowers, no rush to get out of the rain. I was greatly impressed with this simple burial in the mausoleum of an old lady, whom I knew nothing about. The dignity, simplicity and magnificent decency of it would appeal to all, and in the language of the poet, 'Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch around him and lies down to pleasant dreams.'

"Yours very truly,
 (Signed.) HENRY A. BLYTHE."
 There is now under construction at Cleveland, O., one of the finest mausoleums ever erected by the International Mausoleum company, holding upward of 2000 bodies.

The people of Medford have an opportunity to purchase apartments in the mausoleum to be built here.

To Remodel Bijou Theater

Mr. W. H. Fluhart arrived in Medford yesterday and announces that he will take over the Bijou theater tomorrow and proceed to gradually make it into the best and most popular playhouse in the city or on the coast, outside of Portland or Frisco.

Mr. Fluhart claims to have plenty of backing and inside of thirty days promises to remodel the entire house by putting in new seats, decorating the interior, fixing over the stage, adding more ventilators and fans and by putting on the best moving pictures and higher class of vaudeville.

The name will in all probability be changed, but will be kept open every night from now on.

and it is to be hoped they will take advantage of the "better way." Any information desired will be cheerfully given by Logan Blizard, Main 1141.
