ZEPPELIN HEARTBROKEN OVER CRAFT'S FAILURE

BERLIN, June 29.—Heartbroken, but undaunted by the wreck of the aerial liner Deutschland, Count Zeppelin, its inventor, announced today that he will at once construct an airship half the size of the Deutschland, but with a carrying capacity of 40 passengers.

Manager Soleman of the German Airship company, which conducted the trips of the Deutschland, said the fate of the big liner would alter the company's plans for passenger passenger air lines.

"No airship of another type would have dared to ascend in such a wind as prevailed yesterday," said Coleman. "No other airship could have weathered that hurricane. The problem of navigating the air in rough weather was solved by the Deutschland's ascension yesterday, but the problem of alighting in rough weather is unsolved."

Method. Method is the very hinge of business, and there is no method without punctuality. Punctuality is important because it subserves the peace and good temper of a family. Calmness of mind, which it produces, is another advantage of punctuality. A disorderly man is always in a hurry. He has no time to speak to you because he is going elsewhere, and when he gets there he is too late for his business or he must hurry away before he can finish it.
