JEFFRIES IS DEFICIENT IN BOXING

Corbett's Advice Discarded by Ex-Champion and But Little Glove Work Done—Difference of Opinion in Camp of Big Fellow—Cornell Thinks Fighter in Fine Trim.

BY MAX BALTHASAR. MOANA SPRINGS TRAINING CAMP, Reno, Nev., July 1.—If any question has arisen in regard to Jim Jeffries' condition, it has to do with his boxing, and while there has been an almost constant cry on the part of his admirers for more glove work, it has not been until the past week or so that things have come to a crisis within his own camp. Jim Corbett, supposed Moses, who was chosen to lead Big Jim out of the wilderness of uppercuts and left jabs, has shown signs of rebellion. Taking to heart the many criticisms offered because of Jeffries' failure to do more boxing, and feeling that some odium attached to him, the ex-champion became quite free in his talk of Jeffries' evident indifference. Refused to Box. Jeffries, Corbett insisted, needed more boxing. Whether he is heeding the public cry or trying to spare his own vanity or—best of all—honestly believing that he is a better boxer than Corbett. Corbett, ever since he announced himself as being ready to box with his two-time conqueror, has shown that he has been displeased with the manner in which the gloves were slogged. It remained, however, for a friend to point out that since he joined the big fellow's camp Corbett had the gloves on with Jeffries for just seven rounds. "I have done the best I can," said Corbett. "I have pleaded with Jeffries to do more boxing. He needs it. Morning after morning I have begged him to put on the gloves with me and he has invariably promised, but when the time came he wasn't there. Of course, there is little time left now in which the big fellow can do glove work and it's hardly worth while to bother about it. I am really sorry Jeffries has not done more boxing. At that, he's going to win, but failure on his part to do more boxing will be very evident when the battle is over. Camp Divided. "That there has been a difference of opinion on the boxing question in Jeffries' camp has just become known. Three weeks ago Jim was in shape in which a couple of days of drying out could have gone into the ring with as much safety as to form as when he begins work next Monday afternoon. The camp has not been exactly divided against itself, as the preponderance of judgment was against any more hard work, boxing or otherwise. Brother Jack, who has been with Jeffries in all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and in this was borne out by Farmer Burns, Roger Cornell and Bob Armstrong. Joe Choyanski has been noncommittal, but willing to admit that his old rival was "ready." To Cornell the ex-champion gave ear. Roger maintained that all Jeffries needed was a little road work to keep his muscles flexible. Jeffries hesitated a long while between the double clamor—Corbett's insistence on one side and Cornell's training wisdom on the other. In the end he heeded Cornell's advice, and the result was that Jeffries has almost entirely ignored the gloves. Whether a mistake has been made only Monday's contest can tell. No Umbrella Shade. Although the afternoon of July 4 is expected to be a scorcher, there will be no umbrella between rounds to protect Jeffries from the blistering rays of the Nevada sun. This is not because he and his trainers do not think it wise to have shelter from the sun between rounds, because Mrs. Jeffries objects to her husband carrying an umbrella into the ring. "It's bad luck," she says, and in deference to her wishes and superstitious tribute to the god of luck, a special awning, instantly adjustable and collapsible, is being made. It will be so constructed that when the bell closes the round it can be instantly raised over Jeffries' chair, and by the same contrivance be closed when the clanging gong calls him to the center of the ring again.

FINEST OF BALL PARKS OPENED AT CHICAGO. CHICAGO, Ill., July 1.—The finest ball park in the world. That is the verdict expected by Charlie Comiskey this afternoon when the new American league grounds on the South Side are thrown open. The White Sox will be at home to the St. Louis Browns and thousands of Chicago fans, including several regiments of militia, will witness the game and inspect the new home of the White Sox. Comiskey has arranged for a parade this afternoon in which 5000 state militiamen and various civic organizations will act as escort for Vice-President Sherman, Mayor Busse and the players of both teams. The "Old Roman" himself will be in one of the automobiles in line. LANE COUNTY ASSEMBLY MEETS NEXT SATURDAY. EUGENE, Ore., July 1.—The Republicans of Lane county will hold an assembly at Eugene next Saturday to suggest names to go on the ticket at the primaries next September. Delegates have been elected for some of the precincts, but many will send none, some of the Republicans of the county not favoring the assembly. Among the avowed candidates for offices are I. H. Bingham, and L. E. Bean for state senator, the former to run independently of any action of the assembly. For county clerk there are three announced candidates, County Judge Helmus W. Thompson, fill be a candidate for that office. BALTIMORE TO HOLD PANAMA EXPOSITION. BALTIMORE, Md., July 1.—The Merchants' & Manufacturers' association and several other civic organizations are enthusiastically encouraging that steps be taken to secure aid from congress for a fair in Baltimore in 1914 in honor of the completion of the Panama canal. Baltimore is planning to hold its Star-Spangled Banner in 1914. Hotel Arrivals. The Nash—W. H. Lilley, F. L. Hopkins, Seattle; B. E. Meredith, Portland; E. J. Good music. C. E. society at 7 p. m. J. C. E. society at 6:45 p. m. Another innovation is to be introduced. It is a special medicine and instrument rack. This will be placed on the side of the ring beneath Jeffries' corner, safe from damage between rounds and ready to be opened and available for use the moment the seconds bound into the ring, when the periods close. Women at Fight. While there will be many women present at the fight, including most of the prominent members of the divorce colony, Mrs. Jeffries and the other women in the Jeffries party will not see the fight. Instead they will receive a special report of the battle over a direct ring-side wire. Similar arrangements have been made for the Johnson camp, the negro not caring to take the chances of starting a demonstration by having his white wife within the arena. Rickard and Gleason have announced that there will be no preliminary encounter and that the big show will start at 1:30 p. m., Pacific time. Haskins for Health.

JEFF SPENDS DAY FISHING Probably Gong Will Sound Promptly at 1:30 o'Clock Monday—Drying-Out Process Begins Tomorrow—

JEFF SPENDS DAY FISHING. RENO, Nev., July 1.—It is probable that the gong that will start the big fight July 1 will sound at 1:30 p. m. to the minute. Jeffries already has outlined his program for the day of the fight and one of the principal features of it will be his arrival at the arena a few minutes before the time for the fight to start. Jeffries does not believe in the time-worn trick of making his opponent nervous by compelling him to wait after he has gone to the ringside. If good advice prevails Johnson also will appear on time, and the big mill will be put on without preliminaries as near to the hour set as the promoters can bring it about. Jeffries tumbled out of bed early today and started fishing. He left at 4 o'clock with a Reno friend, announcing that they might be back by noon. He seemed happy over the prospect of landing some big bass, and the fight was the last thing he thought about. He intends to enjoy himself to the utmost today, as tomorrow he drying out process begins. Jeffries dreads this, and so do his camp mates. Life will be as miserable for the trainers as it will for the big fellow while this is going on. Monday the big fellow will sleep late. He will lounge about Moana until noon. He will eat a light meal probably and then prepare to go to the arena, where he will arrive about 1:15 p. m. Johnson, who announced yesterday that his heavy work was over, took things easy today. Although he appeared a little nervous early in the week, he was smiling and confident this morning. He says he weighs exactly what he expected to weigh and if he took off another ounce he would throw himself out of form. The force working on the arena was increased today and everything is expected to be in shape by tomorrow night.

BUTTE FALLS SALOON LICENSE HITS SNAG. John O'Connor, from somewhere, has had a petition in circulation in Butte Falls, which he will present to the county court at its next session, asking for a license to operate a saloon in Butte Falls. The petition met with poor success at the hands of the actual residents of the town. A remonstrance followed close on the heels of the O'Connor petition, and was signed by the residents and taxpayers, with two or three exceptions. The women took a hand in the matter and put up a remonstrance, which was signed by all the women in town except two, and they are the wives of blind-piggers, and one of them gave as a reason why she would not sign the remonstrance, she thought that "no lady would sign such a thing."

WALK WITH EASE Dr. Mann, the chiropodist and foot specialist, has arrived in town and is prepared to remove corns, bunions, ingrowing toenails. I have the only bunio cure in the world without a surgical operation. Little Essay of Human Interest About Corns. Corns were discovered by Lord Cornwallis at Cornwall in 1738. Corns are composed of firefalls, red pepper, toothache, rheumatism, volcanos, nerve-ness, heartburn and insomnias all piled up and jammed together with a pile driver. A corn is a second cousin to the appendicitis. There are too many of such things. They should be cut out, but Dr. Manns don't cut them out—he removes them without blood or pain—no bad results. Corns are an abomination and a burning shame. They will drive a woman to the chiropodist and a man to drug. They will drive a man crazy if he has any other troubles; they will drive a four-horse team if they are sore and irritated. Free consultation. All work guaranteed. Room 4, Palace Hotel. Roseburg, Ore., June 3, 1910.—I heartily endorse Dr. Manns. He has removed corns from my feet and thereby not only cured the corns but cured my rheumatism, from which I have suffered for a long time. Dr. Manns' work was highly satisfactory. JOE HUFFMAN, Chief of Police.

Moore, chief justice of the Oregon supreme court, completed his 18th year of service on the supreme bench of this state yesterday. During that period he has written 801 opinions, sufficient to fill several volumes of the Oregon reports. The venerable chief justice is nearly 66 years old, but is still capable of much active work. A HAPPY SMILE Former Medford Man Gets into Trouble According to the San Francisco Examiner of the federal grand jury in that city on Tuesday afternoon voted an indictment charging several counts of perjury against Charles P. Snell. The Examiner's report adds: "Sensational developments followed each other in rapid sequence in the grand jury room. The indictment of Snell, it was learned authoritatively, places the government in a strange predicament. It amounts to an admission on the part of the government that Dr. E. B. Perrin, millionaire timber and land dealer, was convicted in a wrongful way and that after carrying the case to the circuit court of appeals, the government practically acknowledged that the conviction was improperly obtained." Snell was formerly a lawyer at Medford and later figured prominently as a government witness in certain prosecutions for alleged timber land frauds. The indictment above is on account of alleged perjured evidence given by Snell, and mixed up with him in alleged questionable methods pursued in securing evidence upon which to convict prominent defendants involved.
