DAMON AND PYTHIAS TO BE PRODUCED HERE

An elaborate production of that drama of true fraternity, "Damon and Pythias," will be given at the Bijou Theatre, Sunday evening.

Phillip Keene, a young actor, and nephew to the late Thomas Keen, the tragedian, and a strong supporting company, including Laura Keene, will

Some years ago Keen recognized in "Damon and Pythias," which was written nearly a century ago by John Banim, an Irish poet, a play which, after proper reconstruction, could be made into one of the strongest combinations of dramatic action, spectacular effects and powerful morals, and after months of careful "tryouts," the present version, stripped of cumbersome repetition and with many of the original lines transposed, was made. Pythias has been made the dominant character, since it was he who made a sacrifice that has gone down in history.

The following fine notice is from the San Francisco Bulletin:

Last evening a fine performance of the never old "Damon and Pythias" was introduced at the Valencia theatre, under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias.

Phillip Keene played "Pythias" and proved that he is worthy to carry the great name of Keene upon the stage. He made a fine impression upon the Knights and their ladies. In voice and physique he is admirably suited for the idealistic youth. The cast, headed by Miss Laura Keen, give Mr. Keene good support and the performance was all around good.

Scenery accessories showed that the stage management had left nothing undone and did it well.

The play is of especial interest to members of the Knights of Pythias, and the following letter from H. Schaffner, Grand Keeper of Seals of interests to members of that order:

"It was my pleasure on April 28, last, to witness rendition of the play 'Damon and Pythias' by your company.

"I was very well pleased with the play as modernized by yourself because of its special adaptability to our order, and because of the excellent manner in which it was represented.

"I regret that more of the members of our order could not avail themselves of the opportunity to see the play, since it would have been beneficial in its results to them, as giving a broader view of the lessons taught by our order, and especially that of the basic principle—friendship.

"I have no hesitancy in commending the play as you present it, and also in the manner of its presentation.

Fraternally yours
H. SCHAFFNER, G. K. or S."

Court Tries in Lone Town.

VALDES, Alaska, July 1.—The revenue cutter Rush, with United States District Judge Edward E. Cushman's traveling court, arrived in Juneau yesterday to pick up their other officers of their court. Besides United States Marshal H. J. Sullivan and United States District Attorney C. D. Murnane, the members of the grand and petit juries will board the cutter here. The traveling court will be gone until August 15 and will touch at insolate sections to the westward as far as Dutch Harbor. Cases are to be tried along the route.

M. G. Womack was transacting business in Medford and Jacksonville Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. C. L. Gant is perfecting arrangements for the opening of a piano school in Central Point. Mrs. Gant is a talented musician, having graduated under the tutorage of able eastern masters, and her school will doubtless be of great benefit to the community.

S. A. Pattison, the editor of the Central Point Herald transacted business in Medford and Ashland Friday and Saturday. He went to Ashland to select a camping place for Mrs. Pattison and the children, who will enjoy an outing in the Sylvan City during the chautauqua.

While boarding the train early this morning M. G. Womack was severely bitten by a savage dog. But Mr. Womack is not superstitious and refused to demand the dog's life on a hydrophobia charge.

The patrons of the Willow Springs district have voted bonds for a new modern school building which they intend to complete in time for the opening of the fall term of school.

The Rogue River Athletic association is being formed here, it being the intention of the promoters to lease ground and build an athletic park with stockade and amphitheater with left and right bleachers. The center will contain baseball, football and basketball grounds, and the outside circle a velodrome track for bicycle and motorcycle racing. It is thought the park will be ready for the opening of next season's field sports.

Central Point will be practically depopulated on July 4, as the greater number of our citizens are preparing to spend the day at various points outside. The Rogue River Valley cornet band and many citizens will spend the day at Woodville.

The carpenters have finished the exterior work on the third story of the Central Point hotel and have turned their attention to the interior finish and decorations. The work will be complete within two weeks.

It has not been definitely decided as yet whether the Johnson tabernacle will be torn away or left for the use of the Y. M. C. A. during the summer and fall. Many desire to retain the structure for that purpose.

The medical fraternity of Central Point report the health of the entire community in a flourishing condition. "Never better in the history of the town," said a leading physician this morning.

TEDDY IS INVITED TO ATTEND BIG BATTLE

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 1.—A telegram from Jack Gleason, one of the promoters of the Jeffries-Roosevelt fight, inviting Theodore Roosevelt to attend the Jeffries-Johnson fight at Reno, July 4, was received at Oyster Bay today and a copy forwarded to the ex-president, who is in Boston. The message read as follows:

"With the most sincere hope that you will be able to attend, I extend to you an invitation to be present at the boxing contest between Jeffries and Johnson at Reno July 4. This is but a slight token of my appreciation of the many courtesies you extended to me while I was visiting Washington during your occupancy of the White House."

The medical fraternity of Central Point report the health of the entire community in a flourishing condition. "Never better in the history of the town," said a leading physician this morning.

The rites of baptism will be administered to a number of recent converts today.

The town of Tolo, or "Mineolo," is to have a newspaper. Alf M. Rhoades, a veteran printer, is billed as editor and proprietor. The name of the new publication will be the Gold Pan. Let us hope the foolish brother may strike pay gravel.

The Postal Telegraph company has a crew of linemen working in town, putting up poles and stretching wire. Central Point, it is understood, will have a commercial station of that company.

Carl M. Garver, a tourist from Iowa, came in from the upper Rogue river Saturday morning. While crossing the desert Mr. Garver was digging for agates and unearthed a petrified salmon, which seems to be of the steelhead specie. The fish is perfect, about 18 inches in length. He will ship the specimen home to Des Moines to be exhibited in his drugstore window.

The "Lazy Neds" of this locality, who, since the finish of hay harvest, are basking in the "shade of the old apple tree," have revived the once national game of horseshoes and are working the game overtime.

The "Trade at Home" club is being organized here and promises fair to draw a large membership. It is the duty of the members to patronize home merchants in all things possible, promoting home business, eat home-made bread, support home preachers, marry home girls and raise home-made families, and this means much for a fellow's home town.

If Central Point hasn't a health officer, she needs one badly enough, as there are back alleys and side streets, back yards and front yards, which would make a stranger believe that "our hopes are built on nothing less than alleys vile with filthiness," but in truth, the greater number of our streets are clean and sanitary. But the microbe of filth lurks in at least a half-dozen places. Clean 'em up!

BASEBALL HERO'S WIDOW GETS $5000 BY BENEFIT

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 1.—Nearly $5000, netted at the Powers benefit, was given to the baseball player's widow today. About 12,000 persons attended the benefit. Players from all the American league teams participated in the events.

Collins of Philadelphia equalled the world's record of 14 1-5 seconds for circling the bases. Speaker of Boston and Austin of New York were tied for second with 14 3-5 seconds. Hooper of Boston, formerly of the Sacramento Pacific Coast team, won the long-distance throwing contest by tossing the ball 356 feet 4 inches.

ONLY ONE IN JAIL ON THURSDAY NIGHT

"Dancing Harry" was the only cognomen of the chap taken to the city jail Thursday evening, according to the records. When he was gathered in by the police he was helpless, but as soon as he had support on each side he began to dance. He danced all the way down the street to the jail except when his support was withdrawn, then he collapsed. "I'm like a lot of baseball pitchers," he said, as the doors clanged on him. "When I haven't any support I'm no good."
