STRIVE TO END FOREST FIRES

New Posters Sent Out All Over Oregon by States Forestry Board, Telling What Not to Do to Prevent Fires.

"Would you set fire to any man's house?" queries the Oregon state board of forestry on cloth posters, that are being sent all over the state.

"If you saw a house burning would you pass by without doing anything?"

"Do you realize that timber is quite as valuable to the owner and much more so to the community and to you? He can build a new house, but not a new forest."

"Oregon loses 200,000,000 feet of timber yearly through fire. Each thousand feet burned is a loss of $2 to the owner. But the community loses $8 in wages. Timber means pay checks to support all industries; but burned timber pays no wages. Timber pays taxes in your county. If it burns other property has to pay the difference. Care with small fires is the best means of preventing large ones. Therefore—

"Don't toss away burning matches or tobacco.

"Don't make a campfire if leaves, rotten, or a. inst logs where you can't be sure it is out.

"Don't burn your slashings in dry season without permit from a fire warden.

"Don't operate an engine using fuel other than oil without equipping it with a good spark arrester.

"Put out any fire you find, if possible; if you can't put it out, notify a fire warden or other public officer. Remember that little fires become big ones if left alone. If you don't know the fire laws, send for a copy. Help enforce them. This notice is posted for your good and that of the community."

A. B. Westall, secretary of the state forestry board, is sending the posters into every community. He asks that they be posted in conspicuous places. Large quantities of the posters are being sent to state fire wardens who are charged with their distribution. The Oregon state board of forestry consists of Governor Frank W. Benson, B. O. Stevenson, game and forestry warden; H. C. McAllister, master fish warden; S. C. Bartrum, Roseburg; L. S. Hill, Cottage Grove; G. W. Peavy, Corvallis; A. B. Wastell, Portland.

SUE JEFFRIES FOR $5,000 FOR DRAWING CONTRACT

RENO, Nevada, July 2.—Although Jim Jeffries endeavored to get all his financial matters cleared up before the big fight, another suit is pending against him in the Reno courts today. The lawyers who drew up the contract for the deal whereby Jeffries and the promoters disposed of their moving picture rights to an Eastern syndicate have filed suit for $5,000 which they claim is a fee due them for their services.

Tex Rickard and Jeffries are seeking to reach an agreement with the attorneys out of court.

A BIG BILL AT THE ISIS

The management has secured an extra strong attraction in Mr. Solinda, the HUMAN ARC LIGHT, whose performance is without a doubt a great novelty. His act alone is well worth the price of admission. In addition, we have Bessie Louise King, the Irish prima donna, who keeps the audience in an uproar with her witticisms and high class singing. Also Mr. Perez is clever in his impersonation of marble statuary. The management wishes to spare no expense in securing the best of talent in order to please the public of Medford, always introducing the latest moving pictures.

The Isis theater is one of Medford's principal places of amusement, where ladies and gentlemen can spend an hour of enjoyment. The management makes a specialty of securing only the best high-class vaudeville.

The Oregon-California socialist encampment, which will attract workers in the new faith as far as Alaska and Mexico, will be held at Klamath Falls, Ore., next week. Three hundred tents will form a community such as has never been known in this country. During the progress of the meeting the principles of socialism will be carried out in act as well as in word. Every activity of the community, every financial transaction, will be attended by that equal interest principle for which socialism stands. The experiment is being watched by a number of writers from eastern centers.

NO FLOWERS WANTED SAYS JEFFRIES' SPOUSE

RENO, Nevada, July 2.—"No flowers" is Mrs. Jeffries' order.

She doesn't want any sentimental person to tote big bouquets of sweet smelling posies to the rightside for Jeffries to sniff during his periods of recuperation between the arduous times when he will paste right hooks and left swings to the body of Mr. John Arthur Johnson. Mrs. Jeffries says it's bad luck to have flowers, and she is the supreme court when it comes to considering omens in connection with the fight.
