BOISE, Idaho, July 2.—The announcement from the department of justice at Washington that United States District Attorney C. H. Lingenfelter had been removed from office has caused a sensation in political circles of Boise and at Lewiston, Lingenfelter's home.

fed himself before the department before he was ousted.

Previous to the department's action Lingenfelter had been disqualified to prosecute the northern timber fraud cases, the Barber Lumber company cases, two bank embezzlement cases and several other important legal matters which came under his jurisdiction.

Lingenfelter was appointed to the office of district attorney following the stirring scenes in federal circles here in July, 1908, when N. M. Ruck, who held that office and brought the indictments of conspiracy against Senator W. E. Borah and Ruel Rounds, United States marshal, was removed.

LOOKOUT FOR NEGROES, IF BLACK WINS

Apprehension Throughout South Over Result of Reno Fight—Negroes Think Affair Will Determine Social Position of Race.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2.—There is apprehension throughout the south over the possible outcome of the Jeffries-Johnson fight. The negroes of the south are taking an intense interest in the affair, believing that the result will determine the social position of the blacks.

It is feared that the heads of the southern negroes would be turned in case Jeffries is defeated. It is almost certain, many southerners predict, that in that event the negroes would assume an arrogant attitude and as usual in such cases in the southern cities, would endeavor to show their superiority over the whites by crowding women off the sidewalks. Should this occur, they declare, rioting would be almost sure to follow, and the clashes between the two races would be almost inevitable.

ing women off the sidewalks. Should this occur, they declare, rioting would be almost sure to follow, and the clashes between the two races would be almost inevitable.

Negro government clerks here are nervous and excited over the fight and are paying more attention to it than any event in years in which the two races have figured so prominently.

Many congressmen from the southern states, asked their opinion of the matter, declare that they do not believe the negroes will be stirred by Johnson's victory.

5 CENT BEER IS NO MORE IN MEDFORD

Liquor Dealers Agree Upon New Scale of Prices—All Saloons Charge Uniform Rate—Effect of High License Apprant

No more 5 cent beer for Medford. An agreement has been reached among the liquor dealers of the city and a new scale of prices unanimously adopted. The price of draft beer, bar whisky, etc., will be 10 cents a glass, while mixed drinks and bottle goods will be 12 1-2 cents.

Liquor dealers claim that they are forced to raise the price of beer on account of the $1000 license imposed by the city council. In this regard high license is having its usual effect in raising the standard of saloons. While as much liquor will probably not be sold as under the old regime, there will be more profit in what is sold, and customers will probably demand a better grade of beverages.
