

Henrietta Crosman at the Theatre Tonight

Although Henrietta Crosman's skill is such that her personal efforts are sufficient to carry any play to success, she has always shown the wisdom of surrounding herself with a splendid company. Such is the case with "Anti-Matrimony," in which she will appear at the Medford theater for one performance, this evening. Every part is portrayed by an actor of skill, while as for Miss Crosman, the role of Mildred Grey is another of those brilliant portrayals for which she is noted. Miss Crosman is one of the few stars who can afford to have the best company, for no matter how brilliant her supporting players may be, they cannot outshine her. "Anti-Matrimony," her newest and biggest success, is a whimsical comedy by Percy Mackaye, extremely amusing and of compelling interest.

BLUE LEDGE CAMP PROMISES WELL

Joe Moris Says One Mine Has $8,000,000 Worth of Ore Blocked Out—Is Richer Than Rosland—Many Old Spokane Men Own Interests.

(Spokesman-Review.) "On the Oregon border, in Siskiyou county, California, is a camp which I think will prove a big winner," said Joe Moris, one of the original locators of the War Eagle mine at Rosland, B. C., yesterday. "It is known as the Blue Ledge camp, after the principal property in it, and is situated in Elliott creek mining district, three and a half miles from the postoffice of Hutton, Cal., and near Medford, Or., which is its supply point.

Once Bonded by Patsy Clark. "The Blue Ledge is owned by the Townes of New York, and is developed by nine tunnels to a depth of 1800 feet or more. The lower tunnel, known as the Harvey tunnel, was started when Patsy Clark had a bond on the property. After he threw the bond up and the Townes took hold of the property they extended this tunnel for some distance and crosscut to the ore shoot. A winze has since been sunk to a depth of 350 feet on this shoot. Estimates of the ore in sight in the mine average around $8,000,000.

Spokane Man Railroad Promoter. "The mine is now ready for a railroad and smelter. The right of way for the former has been secured and smelter sites have been optioned at Seattle Bar, on the Applegate, and Joe Bar, on Elliott creek. To connect with the Southern Pacific railroad will require a branch 40 miles long. The promoter of the proposed railroad is Jack Allen, a son-in-law of the late A. M. Cannon, one of the promoters of Spokane. Mr. Allen was superintendent of the defunct Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern railroad when he lived in Spokane, and married Mr. Cannon's stepdaughter, Kitty Clark.

Many Oldtimers in District. "There are many other properties of proven merit or great possibilities in the camp. Among these is the Copper King, owned by Billy Purdue, formerly associated with Pat Burns in the meat business at Nelson, B. C.; 'Coolgardie' Jones, formerly a partner of Volney Williamson at Kaslo, B. C., and Edmund Twohy, a nephew of D. W. Twohy, the Spokane banker. It shows seven feet of ore, averaging 6 per cent copper.

Larson Estate Interested. "The Bloomfield is another property with a good showing. The ledge is 15 feet wide, and assays well in gold and silver. It is owned by Andy Jeldness, a brother of Olaus Jeldness of Spokane, the Pete Larsen estate, 'Doc' Reddy and a man named Hamilton, one of the original owners of the Blue Ledge mine.

"Henry Callahan, formerly interested with the McGuigan boys in the American Boy mine in the Slocan country, owns a group adjoining the Blue Ledge on the east, which looked very good to me. "I am personally interested in the Flammarion group, which joins the Callahan. It has just been surveyed for patent. With my associates I am also interested in two claims on the Cook and Green vein adjoining the Bloomfield. On the Flammarion we have done 300 feet of tunnel work, but have not got deep enough yet to find ore which has not been oxidized or leached. The vein matter assays fairly in gold.

"The Cook and Green vein is so called because it is cut by a creek of that name. It is a parallel ledge to the Blue Ledge and has been located for a total distance of six miles.

"The First National is another good looking property. It is owned by Medford people. Bruce and Sullivan have a group on the Cook and Green vein which shows 10 to 12 feet of copper ore that runs from seven to 12 per cent copper, some of it assaying as high as $20 in gold.

"The ore of the district below the zone of oxidation resembles closely that of the Rosland camp, except that it carries more chalcopryite. A general average of the ore exposed in the Blue Ledge mine is about 6 1-2 per cent copper and from $3.50 to $4 in gold.

FRUIT INSPECTOR PREDICTS BIG CROP

Many Young Trees Overloaded and May Be Injured by Heavy Bearing—Meyers Says Never Before Were Conditions as Ideal as This Year.

G. W. Myers, county fruit inspector, was in Medford Tuesday on business.

"How is the fruit crop, Mr. Meyers?" he was asked. "The crop as a whole is good," he replied. "In some localities it is phenomenal. I do not believe that in all my experience I have seen so many six year-old orchards, both of apples and pears and bearing so heavily as some of them are doing this year. In one older orchard I found the trees breaking down and asked the owner why he didn't thin his fruit and relieve the trees from the weight. He said that the fruit on those trees had always been over-sized and that he was trying to grow more apples of smaller size. Next year he may not have either apples or trees. The fruit crop of the Rogue River valley this year, in my opinion will be over 1000 cars. How much more than 1000 I am unable to state, but it will be nearer a hundred over than a hundred less.

BOY 13 AND GIRL 19 ELOPE AND ARE WED

LOUISVILLE, Ill., July 13.—Frank L. Farris, the 13 year old son of Charles L. Farris, formerly state representative from this city, eloped with Nell Krutsinger, 19 years old, daughter of Sam Krutsinger, a local business man.

They were married in some place outside the state, returning here the following day. The marriage was kept secret until this week. No body but the young couple's parents know where they were married. It was a great surprise to their friends.

The romance began a year ago, when the two were going to school together. Owing to the law in this state they had to go elsewhere to get a license. Master Farris is the youngest married man in the state, perhaps in the whole country. He and his bride will reside with his parents in this city.

It may require a short "campaign" of want advertising to find the kind of work you're looking for. But it would require a long campaign of any other sort of "looking."
