WHITE SUMS UP THE APPLE CROP THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES

(Special Correspondence.)
 NEW YORK, July 15.—Discussing the coming apple crop of the west on Thursday, W. N. White, a dealer in fruits and general produce, said that the government pathologist has estimated the apple crop in the Rogue river district at 600 cars.

"I am satisfied," said Mr. White, "that California has a much heavier crop than last year, and that Humboldt, Sonoma, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara and San Diego counties have at least 6000 carloads of fruit. One station in Santa Cruz county last year loaded 2869 carloads. Jackson, Douglas, Marion, Wasco, Umatilla, Grant, Union and Yamhill counties in Oregon will produce considerably over 2000 carloads. Jackson county alone has 600 carloads. The Hood River Fruit Growers' association estimate their Newtown Pippin crops at 100,000 boxes, as against 25,000 last year.

"In Washington the output in Yakima, Chelan, Walla Walla, Columbia, Whitman, Spokane and Lincoln counties will aggregate 6000 carloads, as compared with less than 2000 last season. Six counties in Idaho, namely, Ada, Canyon, Kootenai, Latah, Lincoln and Nezperce will produce 1200 carloads of fine quality, or 750 carloads more than last year. The output in Utah will be 400 carloads and in Montana 300 carloads.

"According to the Intermountain Fruit Journal, Grand Junction, Colo., will produce 2000 cars; Fruita, 500; Clifton and Rifle, 100; Paonia, 400; Hotchkiss, 300, and Montrose, 700 carloads. Fremont and Boulder counties, on the eastern slope of that state, will ship 1500 cars, making a grand total for Colorado of 5590 carloads, and yet here today, on the 18th of July, there are Colorado Ganos on this market selling for $1 to $1.12 per box from the crop of 1909. Furthermore, the market report says that there are some Washington Winesaps in transit.

"Three counties in New Mexico, San Juan, San Miguel and Chaves, will produce not less than 400 carloads. In giving these quantities of apples, notwithstanding what some penneilers have stated about last year's crop, I want to point out that last year California had 6000 carloads, Oregon's crop did not exceed 500 cars, while Washington had about 1500 carloads.

"On the first of December last the total quantity of boxed apples then in storage amounted to about 2,000,000 boxes. These boxes reduced to barrels, and barrels combined aggregate about 4,000,000 barrels, and its has taken eight months to sell them. Knowing what these goods have made since the first of December and considering that even at these prices they were helped by the frozen oranges from Florida and California, which stopped the consumption of oranges and increased the consumption of apples, I might ask the question what would have been the prices were it not for this particular factor?

"We have often heard of the 66,000,000 barrel crop of 1896. There are very few people who have taken the trouble to inquire what became of that crop. I am told that a considerable quantity was fed to the cattle and made into cider and vinegar, and that good apples sold at 75 cents per barrel. Looking at the banana supply of that date, I find that the importation of bananas in 1896, valued at port of shipment, represented $4,500,000; in 1908 it increased to $11,500,000, being the only free of duty fruit brought into the United States.

"In 1896 the California output of citrus fruit, oranges and lemons amounted to 7300 carloads. In 1908-9 it was 40,000 carloads, and according to all reports, if nothing happens to the crop of 1910-11, it will be in the neighborhood of 50,000 carloads. Florida is said to have a crop for 1910-11 estimated at 6,000,000 boxes. Then there is a crop from Porto Rico, which, I suppose, will always come forward, no matter what the price is, on account of its low freight.

"Last year a good many people were surprised about the price of pears and early apples, forgetting to take into account the Western New York peach crop. From all directions news comes of the fine crop there is at present in Western New York. There may be a shortage of early apples for a little, particularly from the states of Ohio and Iowa, which suffered severely from the April freeze.

"There are plenty of apples in the west, and also in the east. Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New York state all have plenty of winter apples, and lots of other kinds of fruit. If half the 1896 crop should ever materialize, lots of it would have to be sold at low prices. Now the public have varieties of all descriptions; in 1896 they only had one or two varieties and a few curios. Apples sold here today at $1.15. Has had to pay 50 cents freight, 15 cents storage and sundry other expenses, so that it is easy to reckon what is left for that box of Ganos which cost $1.20 in Colorado last season.

"I notice that one newspaper in the west comes forward with the statement that Europe will require 4,000,000 boxes of apples this year. For the westerner's information, let me say that I sold the first car of boxed apples ever sent to England, in 1885, and 520,000 boxes of apples is the largest number ever sent there in one year."

ONE DEAD, TWO ARE MISSING IN HOQUIAM FIRE; HOTEL BURNS

HOQUIAM, Wash., July 22.—One person is dead and two are missing as a result of a fire which destroyed the Hoquiam hotel early today and for some time threatened destruction to the business section of the city. The fire was brought under control at 3 o'clock and danger to adjoining buildings had passed.

Mrs. Olesen, aged 70, a guest of the hotel, was burned to death in her room. Two men, one a lineaman named Junett, are missing and are believed to have perished in the burned hotel.

The fire started in the hotel, an old wooden structure, shortly after midnight and was soon a mass of flames. A strong wind which was blowing carried the sparks toward the city.

Water in the reservoir was low and the firemen were almost helpless in fighting the flames. Volunteer firemen hurried to the assistance of the fire department and did heroic work in preventing the spread of the fire to adjoining buildings.

The Hoquiam cigar factory next to the hotel caught fire and was totally destroyed. Thirty persons were in the hotel when the fire broke out and all but Mrs. Olesen and two men were taken out in safety. Two of the guests of the place were severely injured and were taken to a hospital.

The Hoquiam was once the leading hotel of the city, but was converted into an apartment house several years ago.
