PLOT AGAINST QUEEN THWARTED

Police Fear That Plot May Be Far-reaching in Its Connections and Are Carefully Looking Into It—Man Arrested.

NAPLES, July 30.—Italian police today are investigating the plot against the life of Dowager Queen Manheria which culminated in the arrest of the man selected to carry out a revolutionary death decree and his suicide last night in the jail at Milan.

The police fear that the plot may have connections in other cities and the authorities of Naples, one of the strongholds of the anarchists, are active. Many arrests are expected. The police have clues to others concerned in the plot, it is declared, and hope to bring them to justice. The plot was to have been carried out yesterday, the tenth anniversary of the assassination of King Humbert, who was slain July 29, 1900.

Details of the plot have not been given out by the police but it is said that the assassin was to have slain the queen as she was on her way to attend memorial service held in honor of the late king.

The assassin gave himself up to the police. His courage failed him and he went to the police station before the police had heard of the plot.

King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena, when told of the plot, were greatly shocked. The king has requested the police to investigate thoroughly the movements of anarchist societies throughout Italy.

ALFALFA IS CURE FOR DELIRIUM TREMENS

Alfalfa, hither to holder of a plebian place in the food scheme, is destined to become a comprehensive medicative and remedial element that will put all others in the shade, according to Dr. Marian N. Clark of Los Angeles, who announces the discovery of remarkable curative properties in the plant and blossoms.

Her idea, already carried out on a small scale and suggested by the mental industry, is to electrolyze the alfalfa and condense its healing elements to vest pocket size—a haystack of medicine in a tablet.

Dr. Clark carefully recounts many incidents of curing with the condensed alfalfa juice many nervous ailments, from delirium tremens to "that tired feeling."

One of those was the aggravated case of a Reno sport, who bet on Jeffries and drowned his sorrows in so many tall ones that the cobras came to get him. The condensed hay expert beat 'em to it and cured the victim so effectively that now he shudders at the sight of even a dog, if the dog is a growler.

Tobacco chewing, gloomy thoughts of suicide, insomnia and a host of other undesirable things fade away like the mists of the morning under the soothing influence of a few forkfuls of alfalfa done up in a tablet.

LAWLOR TO TELL WHAT HE THINKS

Judge Says Absence of Gallagher, Chief Witness in Graft Cases, Should Be Explained to People Interested in Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Judge Lawlor of the superior court intends to tell the persons interested in the case against Patrick Calhoun just what he thinks of the continued absence of James L. Gallagher, former supervisor and principal witness against Calhoun in the graft cases now pending.

The judge declared he had heard much about the reasons for the absence of Gallagher. He said he would go over the entire record in the case and at the next session of court at which the case comes up give his own views on the reasons for the absence of the witness.

"If a material witness is absent the people are entitled to have a reasonable effort made to locate and produce him," Lawlor said.

The judge intimated that his remarks would indicate whether a reasonable effort had been made to get Gallagher here.

Gallagher is said to be living in or near Vancouver, B. C.

After considering the question since last Friday, when he was tendered the assembly nomination for judge of the Thirtieth judicial district, Hon. H. L. Benson has announced that he would accept it, and stand as a candidate for the office. In doing so he made the following statement to a representative of the press:

"Under the circumstances I can do nothing but accept a nomination about which I was not consulted. I never sought it, and have always stated that I was not a candidate. I do not want it now, and would much prefer that the honor should go to someone else, but my friends seem determined to force it onto me, and I am thus put in a position of being compelled to accept it."

A COOL CUSTOMER

will buy more goods than a warm one will in hot weather.

A cool customer will buy with less palaver.

He—or she—will be better natured, less cranky and easier to sell to; and you know it.

Moreover, you yourself, and your employes, will be in a better selling mood—if your store is cool and pleasant than if it is sticky and suffocating and savors of a boiler-room in its stifflingness.

The Electric Fan is a blessing and a cheer which you can ill afford to ignore.

Life in the dog days is a question of degrees.

Make your place of business habitable and inviting to the people, and the trend of trade will be in your direction.

It stands to reason—it's logical—it's apparent.
