THOUSANDS AT GANS' FUNERAL

No Less Than 35,000 People View Remains—Procession Three Miles Long Follows the Old Master to the Grave.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 13.—Lying in state at Whatcoat Methodist church, the body of Joe Gans, former lightweight champion pugilist, was viewed today by 35,000 persons. Hour after hour they filed silently by the flower covered coffin. Early today the final services in the Argyle street home of the "Old Master" were held, Rev. Carroll Gibbs officiating. The ceremony was brief, and attended only by the immediate members of the family. After the last prayer had been said the bier was carried from the house to the waiting hearse. Carriages, automobiles, people on foot, young and old, were waiting in the street. When the procession started for the church the mourners formed themselves into orderly ranks that stretched back through three miles. Eight carriages, banked and smoothed in a wealth of flowers, followed the hearse. Behind these came the closed carriages of Mrs. Gans and the foster mother of the deceased. The burial took place this afternoon.

BELIEVE RACING GAME IS NOW DEAD IN OHIO

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 13.—Sheriff Hirstius of Cuyahoga county announced today that he would arrest all pool sellers and bookmakers at the Randall race track the moment they began operations. The notice caused a panic among the sporting men, who are violent in their denunciation of the sheriff's action. In view of the threat, President Drexeraux of the Jockey club has promised that no liquor will be allowed to be sold at the track. It is believed that Hirstius' action will kill the racing game in Ohio. Many horsemen already are leaving the state.

first manager. The company has been in financial straits all summer, and its mill and logging camps have stood idle. The stockholders ratified the transfer of the company's property to the Fruitgrowers' supply company, in trust, and it was deemed inexpedient to resume operations this late in the season, but the arrangement made by the stockholders will permit of a resumption early next spring.

ACTION OF LAKE IS MYSTIFYING

Water Sinks Several Feet at Night and Rushes Back to Its Usual Level at Sunrise—Soundings Are Being Taken.

TRUCKEE, Cal., Aug. 13.—Mystified by the daily rise and fall of the waters of Donner lake, which sinks several feet at night only to rush back to its former level with the sunrise, investigators today began soundings to determine the cause of the phenomenon. The complete apparatus has been received from Mare Island navy yard. Donner lake always has been the subject of many strange legends since several score of immigrants, snow-bound and lost in the days of '49, perished on the shores of the lake. The few who survived the Donner disaster kept themselves alive by devouring the flesh of their comrades. These grisly tales have been augmented by several mysterious drownings and in four instances men camping upon the shores of the lake have suddenly gone mad without warning. The Indians look upon the lake as evilly enchanted.

ANTI-ORIENTAL LEAGUE FORMED IN HAWAII

HONOLULU, Aug. 13.—Following the announcement that 2000 Filipinos were to be imported to the Hawaiian islands as sugar plantation laborers, the organization of anti-oriental labor leagues was begun today. The associations will ask that drastic legislation be passed prohibiting so large an influx which the labor leaders say would upset conditions in the islands. Feeling is running high over the threatened immigration.

NO BODIES FOUND AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Aug. 13.—Although scores of searchers have been dragging the river near Mount Vernon for hours, no trace of the bodies of C. B. Sterling and Edward Rowland, who drowned Tuesday night when their automobile ran into the river, has been found. Today officers are dragging the river from some distance below to Mount Vernon in the hope of locating the bodies. Rowland and Sterling were driving their automobile to Mount Vernon and failed to see that the bridge was open. They were not missed until yesterday morning, when, after a search, the machine was brought to the surface. In it was Sterling's traveling bag.

WE ARE BUSY ALL THE TIME

Why?

Someone said that it was because we had a good location. We admit the location is good, but location is a very small part of the reason for our being busy.

Price Quality, Treatment

These three words more nearly cover the reasons. We handle the best goods the markets afford and in goodly assortments. You get what you want and know the QUALITY is right. Our PRICES are as low as the lowest.

TREATMENT—This is the important word. We never allow anyone to go away disappointed. If you get unsatisfactory goods, we take them back and even refund the money, if no other way will satisfy. We try and succeed in making every patron feel that we will do everything in our power to satisfy them.

Don't YOU think this would be a good trading place?

WANTED: LEADER FOR DEMOCRACY

Aspirants to Presidential Chair in Democratic Ranks Are Woefully Lacking, Says Roger Sullivan of New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Democratic aspirants to the presidential chair are woefully lacking, according to Democratic National Committeeman Roger Sullivan of Illinois, who is in New York.

Barring Harmon of Ohio and Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, and possibly Senator Bailey of Texas, Sullivan says no democrats are being mentioned prominently as candidates. "There seems to be a strange lack of aspirants," said Sullivan. "Bryan, of course, is not in it, but I suppose he will try. I doubt, though, if he can command the delegates from Nebraska at the next convention." Sullivan believes the next house will be controlled by democrats.

PRUNE CROP HEAVIEST SOUTH

Salem Grower Tours State and Finds Best Yield in Southern Counties—Thinks It Mistake to Supplant Prunes With Apples.

W. C. Tillson, a leading prune-grower of Salem, who recently visited Medford to inspect orchards and fruit conditions, on a 1000-mile automobile trip through the fruit districts of Oregon in an interview upon his return comments upon the prune situation in Southern Oregon: "I discovered that the crop in Southern Oregon is much heavier than in the northern section. The area over which prunes are grown is much smaller in Southern Oregon than it is here. There prunes are largely grown in the valleys, where there is a rich alluvial soil, and the trees are large, strong and healthy. The prunes there also average somewhat larger than the prunes in this district. In the northern part, where the prunes are grown on the uplands, the soil is materially different.

Neglected Orchards.

"In the south I found that a good many orchards were dying out, some from lack of cultivation and some from the fact that they were not located on the proper kind of soil, and in these cases the owner might just as well allow them to die off. If the growers will select suitable soil and give proper care to their prunes they must find that this class of fruit-raising is highly profitable.

"Prune orchards in Southern Oregon are widely scattered, while in the Willamette valley they are more concentrated. In the south I saw only one orchard on the high land. This is the property of Dr. J. M. Hauslmaier of Portland and is planted at an elevation of 1000 feet. The trees are loaded to the fullest capacity and at that elevation, the owner says, the fruit is never injured by frost, and he has never lost a crop. This orchard lies ten miles southwest of Roseburg. It probably will yield 100,000 pounds this year.

Replaced With Apples.

"Near Medford I found that the prune orchards have been very generally replaced with apple orchards. In fact, they seem to have the apple craze there. To a large extent I think this change is a mistake, but time will tell as to the advisability of making this change. I noticed that many hundreds of acres of new apple orchards are being planted in many sections, but the new prune acreage is comparatively small. "I should estimate the prune crop

RECOGNITION BY U. S. IS WANTED

Representatives of Madriz Interviewing Acting Secretary of State Wilson Trying to Have Uncle Sam Acknowledge Madriz Faction.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—In an attempt to gain recognition from the United States, General San Sebastian Salinas and Dr. Modesto Barrios were still in conference today with Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson, presenting the claims of the Madriz faction in Nicaragua. It is reported on high authority that Wilson made it clear that his government would not change its attitude toward the Central American dispute between Madriz and Estrada, recognizing neither except where injury to Americans or their interests are involved, when both will be held responsible. Wilson, it is said, expressed a desire to bring about a compromise between the warring factions. The representatives of both Madriz and Estrada probably will meet at the state department to discuss the situation.

STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 13.—C. P. Rendon, deputy district attorney of San Joaquin county, shot and dangerously wounded himself with a revolver today at his home. Rendon attempted to put the gun in the pocket of his coat, which was hanging on a hall tree. The gun fell and was discharged.

this year at 20,000,000 pounds for both Oregon and Washington. Last year the combined fruit crop of the two states was 28,000,000 pounds. Washington this year has a very light crop, probably not to exceed 3,000,000 pounds, which will give Oregon a probable production of 17,000,000 pounds.

"The prune crop the state over is badly damaged by the long-continued hot, dry weather and the trees are shedding. Consequently there will be a lessened output, which will be in many sections a material one if the dry weather continues. The size, as a rule, will also be smaller."
