REAL FIGHTING IN SPAIN SOON

Just When Matters Will Reach a Climax Cannot Be Foretold—There is One Coming—It's Only a Question of Time.

GERBERE, France, Aug. 20.—Just how quickly the pending church-and state situation in Spain is going to develop real fighting is pretty hard to guess. Hostilities may begin almost any day now. Or they may be warded off for a good many months. Each side is afraid of the other and their fears make them hesitate. At the same time, things can't stand still. There's a climax coming and the only question is—how much time is going to intervene between now and the moment of its arrival?

Whoever gets the idea that the Spanish anti-clericals' quarrel is with the Roman Catholics is mistaken. Out of the country's total population of close to 20,000,000, it is estimated that not more than 10,000 are anything but Roman Catholics. Naturally the people are not at odds with the church of which they themselves are members. It is the State Church they are attacking—Spain's one great, overshadowing vested interest. It is a monsterland-holding, commercial and industrial organization that the anti-clericals are opposing it.

The Papal administration has, as a matter of fact, taken sides with this organization, which seems to put the anti-clericals in a position of hostility to Roman Catholicism, but an overwhelming majority of them are good Roman Catholics for all that. Incidentally, there is the best authority for the statement that more than one-half the members of the College of Cardinals believe the Vatican is making a mistake in supporting the Spanish State Church, or that, at any rate, it is making a mistake in supporting it so unqualifiedly as it is doing. So that if the Spanish anti-clericals are injuring their standing as Roman Catholics by opposing the Papal administration, a majority of the Cardinals are injuring theirs, too.

The whole of the present trouble is due to the fact that the church, as a vested interest, has been appropriating to itself so large a proportion of the country's wealth that the masses of the people have been and still are kept upon the very verge of starvation. As might naturally be expected of so enormous a vested interest, the Church is intensely conservative, not to say reactionary, and as it has had until very recently the tightest kind of grip on the government, it has been able hitherto effectually to suppress every attempt in the direction of progress, or improvement in the people's condition.

With that portion of the great army of churchmen which concern itself purely with spiritual matters—that is to say, the parish priest-hood—no fault is found. This class, indeed, is practically as poor and oppressed as the masses of laymen. It is the so-called "religious establishments" against the anti-clerical campaign is being waged. The members of the various "orders" which conduct them are estimated at upwards of 100,000. They conduct agricultural operations upon an enormous scale, run factories, laundries and mercantile concerns, loan money, manage vast estates and, in fact, engage in every line of business open to the lay community.

WANTED IN PORTLAND IS NABBED HERE

Ray L. Brown, wanted in Portland for larceny of various articles, among which was specified a $100 diamond ring, was apprehended by Chief Shearer Saturday morning. Brown had been here for several days and claimed to be a theatrical man, which statement was borne out by the papers found upon him and his previous record. His wife is in Klamath Falls, and it was through letters passing between the two that Brown was located. Chief of Police Cox of Portland, upon whose orders by telegraph Brown was retained, has been notified.

In a letter to the local police the Portland authorities placed particular stress on the fact that he was wanted for the theft of the diamond and asked that great care be taken to prevent the prisoner from disposing of the stone or destroying the pawn ticket, should it have been pawned.

Neither stone nor ticket were found upon the prisoner's person, but his effects have not been searched, nor will they be until the representative of the Portland police force arrives.

MEDFORD BECOMING DISTRIBUTING CENTER

At first thought one would hardly suppose that Medford was as yet, much of a distributing center.

Make a visit to the wholesale grocery houses, the hardware and dry goods shops, to the lumber yards and you will find that every day goods are being shipped from every one of the above mentioned places and many times in car-load lots. The Wood's Lumber company reports a car of lumber for Phoenix, and states that lumber is being shipped to almost every point in the valley every little while.

If statistics were compiled the result in lumber going from the Wood's company alone would be surprising and were all classes of commodities listed the total would be something great.

state, and Siskiyou and Modoc counties in California, join in an exposition to be held in this city some time in the near future.

Fruit growers from the Rogue River valley and farmers from many portions of the counties proposed to have join in the exposition have signified their intention of joining in the movement, and many owners of fast horses have requested that they be informed of the dates on which the fair will be held, as they wish to participate in any races that might be held during that time.

As yet the movement has not taken definite shape, but if enthusiasm is any sign of its ultimate success the fair will be held in this city some time this fall.

BIG FIRES RAGING IN SHASTA COUNTY

FRENCH GULCH, Cal., Aug. 20.—Clouds like a pall over this section caused by the flames which are raging in the forest in the Clear Creek section, and are climbing the side of Mt. Mary towards this town. The fire is about seven miles to the south and east, and has burned over an area five miles square. There is no apprehension felt as to the safety of this place, although the flames are not under control and a large force of men is in the field fighting the fire. The flames can be seen from Redding, fully 20 miles distant.

The greatest loss has been caused at Oak Bottom, a locally famous pleasure and outing resort owned by the Desmond Brothers. All of the groves and fields in that vicinity were burned over and a force of men by fighting the flames all last night were able to save the hotel and buildings.

The fire has been burning since yesterday morning and its origin is unknown.

WANTS TAFT TO BECOME REAL INSURGENT LEADER

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20.—Senator Dolliver of Iowa, who is investigating the charges of Senator Bristow, that Senator Aldrich benefited by his tariff bill through the tariff on crude rubber, said today: "If the old leaders would recognize the Republicanism of the young men who are backing insurgency, there would be no insurgency. I would like to see President Taft become a real Republican leader."

SEEING DOUBLE

is a common form of eye trouble. It can only be remedied by the use of the most accurately fitted glasses.
