

CONDITIONS IN ROGUE IMPROVED

Master Fish Warden Clanton Files Report for July, Which Shows That Law Along Rogue River Is Being Enforced in All Respects.

Master Fish Warden R. E. Clanton has made this monthly report for July as follows:

Work was begun some time ago on a series of retaining ponds at the Conville central salmon hatchery for the purpose of holding and feeding young fry during the coming season, but, after completing the excavation, it was found that the ground was too porous to hold water without sinking the ponds with either concrete or lumber, which would necessarily entail the expenditure of considerable money from the hatchery fund or district No. 1. Owing to its porosity, however, it was deemed wise to take up the work at this time, as it would jeopardize our hatchery operations during the coming season, but as it was absolutely essential to have these ponds finished to take care of the output of fry, called on the various canners and dealers along the Columbia river for a view of soliciting their aid, I am pleased to report that most of the men interested subscribed liberally, the sum of $1350 being do-

Three of these ponds are each 100 feet long, 20 feet wide and 3 1/2 feet deep, while nine of them are each 100 feet long, eight feet wide and 3 1/2 feet deep. The lining thereof by concrete will cost approximately $50, and by lumber, coated with asphaltum, approximately $25. These figures were submitted to the donors, who advised, under the circumstances, that lumber used. While the amount raised far is not sufficient to complete the ponds, there are several other parties interested in the salmon industry of the Columbia river who have not been seen, but I feel satisfied that some of them will contribute to these funds.

Rogue River.
Upon taking charge of the office of the Ament fishway, at Grants and left same in charge of W. A. Bailiff Smith, to be carried to completion. After further investigation, however, the fishway still proved to be inadequate, and Deputy Warden Sandry and Water Bailiff Smith were instructed to make additional repairs. They now inform that the fishway is in excellent condition and working beautifully. After finishing the above work at Ament dam, it was found that fish could not surmount the Gold dam with ease, and upon taking matter up with the manager of Condor Light & Power company promised that he, with the assistance of Deputy Warden Sandry, would have the defects remedied and fishway placed in first-class shape without delay. Deputy Warden Sandry has since informed me that the power company has kept its promise and the fish are now ascending Rogue river without any difficulty.

Umpqua River.
As reported by my predecessor, arrangements have been made for construction of a permanent hatchery on the North Umpqua river, miles above Glide. Lumber has been ordered for the building and this; wooden piping and connections to furnish water supply for the hatchery are on the grounds, and we have everything in readiness for the reception of eggs during the coming fall.

July 13, upon information furnished by Deputy Warden Sandry, C. C. Roseburg was arraigned in justice court for operating a drift within 600 feet of the power company's fishway on the Umpqua, which offense Mr. Clark was found guilty, and a fine of $50 and costs imposed against him, which is July 13, Water Bailiff Smith seized net found fishing within the net limit of the Ament fishway, on the river, in which was entangled pounds of chinook salmon. The net was sold to the Rogue River fishermen's union, as hereinafter mentioned, and the net stored away.

July 13, received from Deputy Warden Sam L. Sandry for the salmon seized from C. C. Clark, operating a net within the 600 foot limit of the fishway on the Umpqua river, near Roseburg, on July 13, $5.20.

July 25, received from Justice of Peace Long of Roseburg, one of fine imposed against C. C. Roseburg, $16.70.

A. P. Stover, Irrigation and Drainage Engineer, Has Been Engaged by Rogue River Valley Canal Co. as Their Irrigation Engineer.

A. P. Stover, irrigation and drainage engineer, late of the United States department of agriculture, has been engaged by the Rogue River Valley Canal company as their irrigation engineer.

Mr. Stover is well known in the government service. His latest bulletin, No. 226, on "Irrigation Experiments and Investigations in Western Oregon," by the department of agriculture, has created much interest and favorable comment and has called attention to the vast importance of irrigation in both the Willamette and Rogue River valleys.

Mr. Stover has for a number of years been engaged in government irrigation work, and for the last three years has been in charge of the department work in Oregon. Much of the irrigation work now going forward and several of the large enterprises in the state have been the direct result of the exhaustive investigations and favorable reports made by him. It was through his practical tests that the vast benefit of irrigation was so successfully demonstrated in the Willamette valley, and it was also largely through his efforts that irrigation in the Willamette is being applied. His bulletin shows that the monthly rainfall of July and August in that section is less than one-half inch, which is far below the necessary amount needed for perfect plant development. Where irrigation was applied crop production was increased from 60 to 200 per cent, showing without question the benefit derived and the necessity of irrigation in the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue River valleys.

The Rogue River Valley Canal company is congratulating itself upon securing the services of Mr. Stover and the company has certainly added a very important man to its splendid organization.

WESTERN PACIFIC RUNS FIRST THROUGH TRAIN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 22.—Welcomed by thousands of persons whose cheers mingled with the din of whistles all over the city, the first through passenger train of the Western Pacific railroad arrived here today. Such enthusiasm has not been seen here before since the early days.

Newspaper men and officials who rode on the train were whisked in automobiles to Hotel Sacramento, where Governor Gillet and Mayor Beard delivered addresses of welcome. The governor said: "There is plenty of room for the Western Pacific in California and the west. We are glad to welcome this new road, which opens a magnificent territory to the eastern settler."

"The good which will result to this state from the new transcontinental line cannot be measured in the minds of the present generation. But the future will demonstrate what this great commonwealth of California, aided by proper railroad facilities, can do."

A store should be advertised as regularly as it is opened for business. A merchant who wouldn't close up for a while now and then "to save running expenses" shouldn't stop advertising now and then to "save ex-
