Ashland Notes

Ashland business men are rejoicing over the reduction in express rates agreed upon by the Wells-Fargo Express company. The reduction on the 100-pound rate from Portland to Ashland is from $2.50 to $2.10 and other rates in proportion.

Mrs. Robert Nell, wife of a prominent Ashland business man, died on Wednesday night at the age of 56 years, after a protracted illness. The funeral will be held from the family residence Friday afternoon with interment in Ashland cemetery.

Rev. L. M. Pierce, of Pringhar, Ia., who has been filling the pulpit of the First Congregational church of this city for the past few weeks, has been given a call to the pastorate, but declined because unwilling to leave his present charge in the Iowa city.

Word comes from Madera, Cal., of the death of Miss Helen Hooper, formerly of this city, which occurred August 30. The remains will be brought to Ashland for interment.

Rev. E. H. Hicks has returned from his summer vacation and will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church next Sunday. His family, who have been visiting in Roseburg, are expected home this week.

News has been received here of the marriage of F. H. H. Hedgpeth, junior member of the contracting firm of Hedgpeth & Son, and Miss Frances Johnson. The happy event took place at the residence of the bride's mother near Roseburg a few days ago and the young couple will be at home to their friends in this city after September 10.

Ad Helms is having a big packing house 34x64 feet in size erected at his orchards seven miles east of Ashland. The crop of apples in this orchard is reported to be a bumper one and many of them will be exported to European markets.

Word has been received of the death of Henry Pegg, a well known miner formerly of this section. He was found dead in his cabin on the south side of the Siskiyou a few days ago, sitting in his bunk with a pair of overalls which he had been mending in his lap and a threaded needle in his hand. He was about 70 years of age and formerly resided and prospected in the upper Rogue river country.

Dr. F. H. Johnson of Canton, Pa., has purchased the dental practice of Dr. Caldwell and is already in possession of the office.

J. N. Hart, candidate for the republican nomination for attorney general of the state, was in Ashland yesterday visiting his uncle, Julius Hart, and looking after his political fences in this section.

Many camping parties are passing through Ashland, having been driven from the wilds because of the forest fires or fear of them.

There will be a relay race at the natatorium Tuesday evening next. The race will be followed by a dance.

Judge and Mrs. O. H. Gilmore of Carnegie, Okla., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bagley on High street, and expect to spend the fall and winter in Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farmer and son George, who came here from Oklahoma some months ago, have gone to southern California to spend the winter. They expect to return to Ashland next spring.

E. J. Wilbur of Chicago arrived in the city a day or two ago and is in charge of the Ashland Suburban Orchard Syndicate, the purchasers of the Walte holdings on the north side of Bear creek.

Mrs. E. L. Atkinson and M. S. Muitt went to Portland yesterday for a few weeks' outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Fry of Cincinnati were guests at the home of W. M. Barber and family the first of the week.

Mrs. George Rose and Misses Esther Sanford and Rose Whitten are back from a visit to Newport.

Mrs. I. D. Applegate, mother of Mrs. Emil Pell, has returned to her home at Klamath Falls after a short visit at the home of her daughter, in this city.

F. G. McWilliams is back from a visit to the seashore at Newport.

Mrs. F. G. McWilliams is expected home daily from a visit with relatives in Iowa and Minnesota. She has been absent about two weeks.

The Commercial club will hold a booster meeting next Monday evening to inaugurate a campaign of advertising, etc., for Ashland. The club is taking active interest in the district fair at Grants Pass and the resources of Ashland will be on exhibition there as well as at the state fair at Salem and the harvest home exhibit at Portland.

Work on paving the streets is being pushed, the Warren Construction company having a large force of men at work. This company has been very good about furnishing men and tools to fight forest fires and this has delayed the work somewhat.

The second stories of the new bank block and the new Enders building are nearly up and the work on both buildings is being rushed to get them enclosed before the fall rains set in. The Shook building is nearly completed and the storerooms will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks.

The forest fires around Mount Ashland and on Neil creek are still burning, but are being held in control by the citizens and regulars. The Ashland Commercial club sent a dozen boxes of peaches up to the soldiers a few days ago as a token of their appreciation of the work being done.

Ashland's schools will open Monday next. The present buildings are inadequate to the demands of the city and until the new high school building can be erected it will be necessary to rent quarters for one or more rooms. Negotiations have been under way the past week between the board of education and the Chautauqua Park club for the use of one of the buildings in the park for that purpose.

The Ashland commercial college will open for the fall term on September 12 and the college preparatory school about the same time.

Fire Warden Carter of Grants Pass spent several days of last week here looking after his business interests.

STRIKERS ARE LODGED IN JAIL FOR DISORDER

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Seventy-four men and 11 women of 200 striking cloak makers, who attempted to parade Fifth avenue today, are in jail charged with disorderly conduct on the complaint of members of the Knickerbocker club that they were "being disturbed."

The 300 marching members of the cloak, skirt and suit makers' union were stopped by the police near the club and Inspector McCluskey ordered them to disperse.

"Lazarus had a right to eat the crumbs falling from a rich man's table," cried Samuel Rosenthal, the strikers' leader. "Why should the rich object to our eating our own crumbs at their gate. We are seeking work to buy us those crumbs."

STEALS TO RAISE MONEY TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 2.—Rev. Augustus A. Haubeich, pastor of a German Lutheran church in Middleburg, O., stole 17 watches and $18 in currency from students of Eden college, St. Louis county, in order to raise money to attend the Pennsylvania district conference of the German Evangelical synod.

This was the statement made by Mr. Hauberich when taken to Clayton Wednesday by an officer who went to Ohio to get the pastor.

"My license to preach in the Lutheran church has been taken from me by the governing board of the Lutheran church," said Hauberich. "I am willing to take additional punishment—will go to the penitentiary and learn some trade."

PIG CLIMBS TREE AND SHAKES DOWN APPLES

DAYTON, Wash., Sept. 2.—The latest domestic freak in this part of the northwest is a "climbing pig," so designated by J. L. Dittmore, deputy county treasurer, who made the discovery at the Bert White ranch, eight miles east of Dayton.

When driving along a country road the official saw some animal in an apple tree shaking the limbs violently. He investigated and found a sorrel hog standing with his front feet on the lower branches scraping the limbs free of apples. When the ground had been well covered the sorrel pig came down and proceeded to satisfy his hunger.

Make Every Dollar Worth More Than a Dollar!

An educated ad reader will never be poor. To "know advertising" is to have a practical knowledge of values—of things—of when and how and where to buy. No one, having and utilizing such knowledge, could ever be unthrifty, or in any sense careless or reckless of expenses. For such knowledge makes for thrift—for saving. It makes one proof against shams—false values—manipulated reductions.

The intelligent ad reader uses as much thought and ability in buying things as is required in earning the money that is spent for them. And that amounts to a substantial increase of the value of every dollar of the family revenue!

A LAVATORY LIGHT

What a convenience is an electric light in the lavatory. It can be switched on and off when needed. The danger of breaking chimneys by spattering them with water is eliminated. The necessity for matches is overcome. A simple turn of the wrist and the room is flooded with light.

It may be arranged so that the light can be switched on before or after entering the room.

This is only one of the many comforts possible in an electrically lighted home.

Our representative would be pleased to talk this matter over with you.
