CANADA RACING GAME.

Death of Sport in New York Expected to Help Canadians.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 2.—The death of the racing game in New York is expected to boost the game in Canada, and backers of the fall meeting here believe that the card offered will be one of the best in the Dominion. Many horses from Saratoga will be sent to Canada for this meet and it is expected that they will attract many followers of the sport from New York.

The race course has been improved since the summer meeting. The betting ring has been enlarged and a new enclosure for the cashiers has been erected.

FAILS TO SWIM CHANNEL.

Was Within Four Miles of France When He Gives Up.

DOVER, England, Sept. 2.—Ted Heaton, who attempted today to swim the English channel, was forced to abandon the feat when within four miles of the French coast. He was picked up by the tug that followed him and started at once for Dover. He had been in the water 16 hours when forced to abandon the effort.

LEWIS TO MEET ALL COMERS.

Will Fight Mansfield Tonight Before Club in Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Harry Lewis, who meets Harry Mansfield, the English welterweight, tonight before the National Sporting club, will sail soon for England and France, where he will meet all comers. Lewis is confident that his showing tonight will make his continental tour profitable. In a former bout Mansfield nearly finished Lewis in six rounds.

TRAINER GOES TO ENGLAND.

Jimmy Rowe, for Years With Keene, to Sail for Britain.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Jimmy Rowe, for 14 years trainer for J. R. Keene's stable, will sail Saturday for England, where he will take charge of the Duryea stable for the fall meeting.

During his employment with the Keene stable that stable has annexed over $2,000,000 in purses. Rowe has trained winners of many futurity and eastern handicaps.

KAUFMAN IS CONFIDENT.

Already Begins Negotiations to Get a Fight With Burns.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Big Al Kaufman of California is so confident of defeating Bill Lang of Australia Monday night when they meet at the National league baseball park in Philadelphia, that he already has begun negotiations with Hugh McIntosh for a bout with Tommy Burns. Kaufman believes a victory over Lang will put him in line for a fight with the former champion.

A special train will be run from New York to Philadelphia to take the fans to see the battle that was "almost" staged in New York August 16.

YOUNG UMPIRES WANTED.

President Lynch Makes Friends by Amendment of Plans.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—President Thomas J. Lynch of the National league who rose to his present position over the "indicator route," has made himself solid with the fans by announcing that he proposes to weed out the old umpires and sign up some "youngsters."

Lynch has had a sharp eye on his arbitrators and has concluded that they are not up to the required standard. The umpires of the American league are considered superior and it is likely that next season will find several new faces among the National league umpires. The decision has pleased the fans, who have considered the National league indicator men generally incompetent.

SMITH AFTER THOMPSON.

Is Very Anxious to Hook Up With Champion Wolgast.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Sammy Smith of Philadelphia, who is anxious to fight Champion Ad Wolgast, will meet Jack Dorman of New York at the Loungers Athletic club Thursday night. If Smith wins he will be matched with "Cyclone" Johnny Thompson before the National Athletic club September 23, provided Thompson does not sail for Australia by that time.

MABEL PUTMAN KILLED.

man of Grants Pass, while employed at Ayres spur, a lumber camp just south of Ashland, was beaten to death in the dead of night as he lay in his bunk. Mabel Putman at the time was residing there, assisting her mother, who was in charge of the cookhouse. An Italian named Joy had been assisting in the kitchen and had been very attentive to Miss Putman. When Thrasher went to work at the spur he is said to have made remarks about the relations existing between the Italian and the young woman, and it was a theory set forth at the time that Joy had committed the crime, being enraged by the reports. Although an attempt was made to fasten the crime upon him, no proof of his guilt was found.

During the investigation Miss Putman was put through a severe cross-examination by the district attorney, but she clung to the statement that she knew nothing. Several times she bitterly assailed her questioners for intimating that her relations with the Italian were questionable.

BRUTALITY CAUSES STRIKE.

none too strong to stand the strain of caring for the homeless and the persons evicted must turn to charity, to crime or to the grave for an end of their troubles. When it becomes known on the east side among employers that a man is a striking garment worker every door is closed upon him.

Will Fight On.

"Nevertheless, our people will fight on and will die fighting or starving, as the case may be, before we will resume work under bestial conditions."

"Those conditions are frightful. They are inconceivable to any one who has not worked under the tyranny of the contractor and the boss. The child-labor law exists on the statute books, but it does not exist in Hester street, in Baxter street, in the hundred streets where the sweat-shop system reigns."

Eight Dollars a Week.

"A man may work 10, 12, even 16 hours a day for the sum of $8 a week. That is the highest price. The lowest hardly has been reached. Some of the children work for nothing for experience. After that a penny an hour is considered good pay for a beginner."

Lavender was surrounded by scores of passionately angry Yiddish workers, who besought him to order a general strike and apply sharp remedy for a situation already at lowest ebb. The secretary replied that he could do nothing at present, but that the council probably would meet within a short time. The pressure brought to bear on the union leaders is tremendous and as the day wore on it became more and more doubtful whether they could withstand the demand.

Ray of Comfort.

A ray of comfort came today when it was learned that the city aldermen from the east side had paid the fines of the imprisoned strikers and that the men and women had been released.

In several cases the liberated prisoners returned to their tenements to find their families cared for by friends, eviction notices having been served in their absence.

Instance of Brutality.

Judge Snitken, hearing the hundreds of eviction cases which have resulted from the strike, rebuked George Hallock, a wealthy real estate owner, for his heartlessness and suspended for a week an eviction case, so that the defendant, Nathan Hyman, might attend the funeral of his wife.

Hyman's pitiful story touched the judge. A process server, he said, forced his way into the house and thrust a summons into his hand while Hyman was kneeling with his children about the body of his wife, who died while the officer was knocking at the door.

Hallock was complainant in the case. "Did you know this man's wife was dead?" the court inquired sharply. Hallock admitted that he did. "They were undesirable tenants," he added, defensively, "and I wanted them put out."

"Haven't you any feeling?" the judge asked.

"It's a matter of business," Hallock replied.

He was going to say more, but the judge cut him off and lectured him severely. Then he postponed the case for a week and sent Hyman home, telling him to look out for his children as best he could, and assuring him that he would not be disturbed until the funeral of his wife was over.

Forty strikers were jailed during the morning for violating Justice Goff's injunction against picketing or interfering in any way with the employers.

PEOPLE MAY LEAVE WORK.

are closed at the height of the season. Fifteen hundred shops are running crippled and thousands of shops would face ruin with the cessation of work at this time. The manufacturers of other cities could not meet the demands throughout the country of the fall and winter trade and the cost of clothing would jump from 20 to 50 per cent, it is predicted.
