

DAILY PAPER GRANTS PASS

Editor Voorhies of Courier to Start Newspaper, Believing That Conditions Justify It—Will Be Independent Republican in Politics.

The time has come in the opinion of Editor Voorhies of the Rogue River Courier of Grants Pass, to launch a daily paper in that city, and here is his bow to the public:

For many months the Courier has had in contemplation the publication of a daily edition, and many of our leading citizens have strongly urged the published to venture the enterprise. It is claimed that a daily with a full press report with strong city and county news columns, will be of great service to Grants Pass and Josephine county. The publisher of the Courier has been conservative in this matter, but has finally come to the conclusion that the field justifies the expenditure of the capital necessary to inaugurate and carry forward the undertaking, and to this end a large number of subscribers have already been secured and a considerable amount of advertising contracted for. The Daily Rogue River Courier will fully cover the field of daily journalism and it will be aimed to make it a credit to the city in which it is published. It has engaged the United Press report and the office will be served by leased wire with an operator in our editorial rooms. The report will contain not less than 12,000 words daily and the paper will be issued every afternoon. In politics the Daily Courier will be independent republican.

The paper hopes to be a factor in building up the industrial interests of this city and county and it pledges itself to do any and all things that may be of benefit to the men and women who have made their homes in the Rogue River valley. Whatever will advance the interests of Grants Pass and tributary country, to that will we give attention.

PINCHOT MAKES STRONG SPEECH

In Support of Senator La Follette, Ex-Forester Makes Interesting Talk—Outlines Conservation and Its Need.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 3.—Gifford Pinchot last night made one of the strongest speeches of his career, in support of Senator LaFollette in this city. He took up the cudgels for Senator LaFollette and it is predicted that the Wisconsin senator's stock will take a big boost. Pinchot was tendered an ovation that lasted several minutes. He said:

"We want LaFollette back in the senate. He is needed to continue the fight alongside of Roosevelt, and if you will permit me to say it, alongside myself."

"Conservation is a broad term. In its broader sense it means the application of common sense by all the people to the things that in a direct way affect the people. It is not confined to the department of the interior, or to any other department. It applies to the whole nation and to every part of it.

"And conservation will come into its own. Anyone who is unable to see the feelings that are now sweeping over the entire country from Maine to the Pacific, must have fossilized brains from lack of use. The day is coming and it is not far away when the people will actually govern themselves and will recognize in entrenched privilege only a deadly enemy to be cast out of the way. The days are surely numbered."

Pinchot was at Osawatimie when Roosevelt delivered his already famous speech. Speaking of that occasion, Pinchot said:

"At Osawatimie I heard one of the greatest political announcements ever made. It was the announcement on which every aggressive man from the Atlantic to the Pacific can join hands.

That speech showed clearly just what sort of a man Roosevelt is. It conveyed the fact that he is progressive in unmistakable terms. I knew and many others knew it was so, all along. Even the standpatters know it now."
