CIRCUS AND PRIMARIES SAME DAY

Saloons Will Have to Close and the Farmers Vote Early in Order to Get into the City to See Buffalo Bill—Liquor Dealers Will Lose Circus Patronage.

Saturday, September 24, bids fair to be one of the busiest Medford has seen in many long months of busy days. On that day the statewide primaries will be held, and Buffalo Bill will bid us his biennial good-bye. The saloonmen are worrying considerably over loss of trade, for they will be forced to close while the polls are open, and circus day is one of their very best bets. Every circus day preparations are made for a tremendous business, but this time they will lose out.

FOLK BOOM MAY SPLIT DEMOCRATS

Four Parties Hold Conventions in Missouri Tomorrow and Folk Boom for Presidency is Principal Matter Before Democrats—"Old Guard" Opposes Him.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 12.—The presidential boom of Joseph Wingate Folk, former governor of Missouri and famous graft prosecutor of St. Louis, will be the cause of a split in the democratic platform committee, according to Missouri politicians. The conventions of the democrats, republicans, prohibitionists and socialists, according to the provisions of the primary law, will all be held tomorrow.

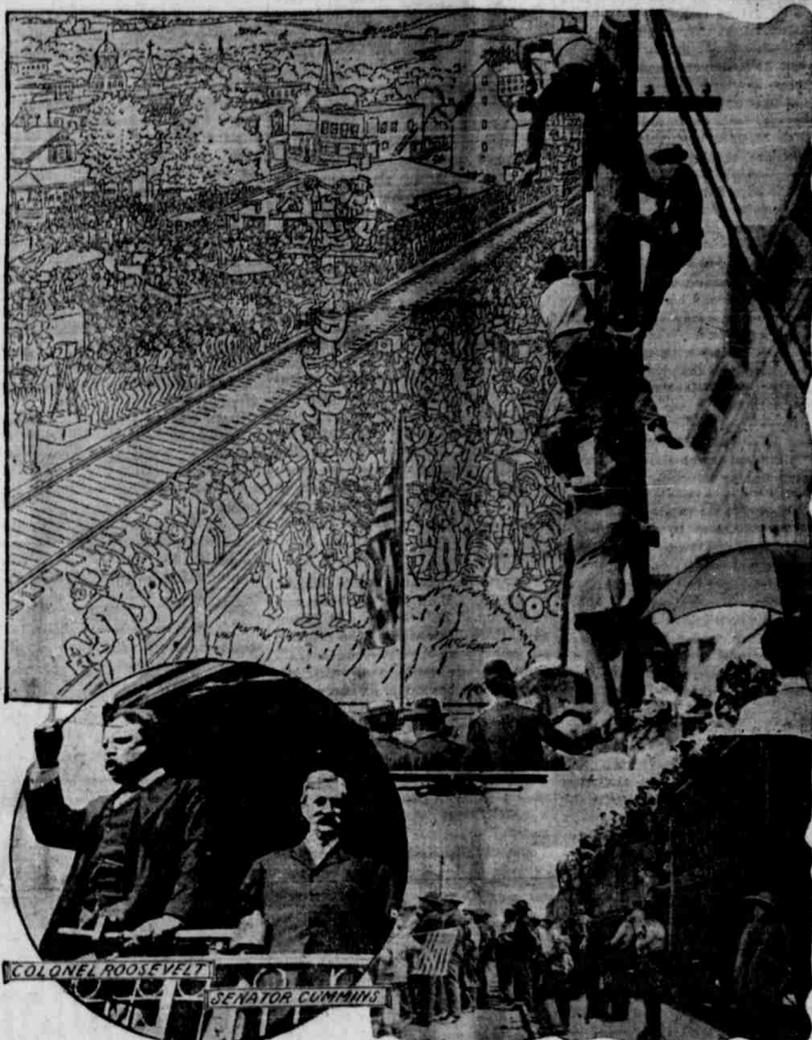

The Folk boom will be the principal matter before the democrats. An effort will be made to secure his endorsement for the presidential nomination. It is learned. Folk himself will not attend the meeting, but his friends will be there and will endeavor to force through a resolution endorsing Folk for the presidency. The "old guard" of the democratic party in the state oppose the movement. Some of the leaders are determined to fight it, even on the floor of the convention, if necessary. It is predicted that the question may cause a serious split.

The "old guard" endeavored some time ago to induce Folk to accept the support of the state machine for the presidential nomination. In return they asked him to stay out of the senatorial fight. Folk refused to accept the terms and at a "harmony" banquet in Kansas City the refusal caused quite a ruckus.

NORLING MINE NOW ON BUSINESS BASIS

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 12.—John Norling, the veteran cornetist, has his mine on a business basis. Under the direction of W. J. Butterly of Philadelphia, an up-to-date stamp mill has been installed and a force of men are working getting out the ore. For a time the forest fire which has been raging on Jackson and Forest creeks threatened their new mill, but a couple of days' hard work saved it. A company has been organized to work the property under the name of the Southern Oregon Mining & Milling company.

Camera Proves Welcome of Colonel Roosevelt In West as Anticipated by Cartoonist.

Photos by American Press Association. Colonel Roosevelt's journey through fourteen states has furnished photographers and cartoonists with many interesting subjects, and probably several thousand pictures have been taken of the former president or places that he visits, but none of them is more interesting than the reproductions above. Some days before Mr. Roosevelt reached the middle west cartoonist McCutcheon of the Chicago Tribune offered the subscribers of his paper a cartoon depicting the anxiety of the people of Iowa for the coming of their distinguished visitor. The cartoon represented a typical town of the Hawkeye State with its population about the railway depot watching, while on telegraph poles and from the tops of freight cars other hundreds scanned the distant horizon for a sight of the traveler's train. When the special train bearing the visitors arrived in one of these towns a photographer of the American Press Association with the colonel's party was one of the first to alight for a snapshot of the crowd of welcome. Notice how like the cartoon of McCutcheon are the characters in the real photograph, even to the telegraph pole and the box cars.

WE WON'T PLAY WITH YOU, NOW

DODGE CITY, Kan., Sept. 12.—Any action of the pro-Ballinger members of the Ballinger-Pinehot investigating committee may take when they meet in Chicago will be void, in the opinion of Representative Madison, republican of Kansas, a member of the committee, who is at home here today, following last week's meetings of the committee in Minneapolis.

BITTER FIGHT IS ON IN MAINE

Democratic Candidate for Governor Claims Election by Five Thousand Plurality—Republican is Optimistic of Re-election.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 12.—An enormous early vote was cast at the general election in progress here today. Frederick W. Plaisted, democratic candidate for governor, claims that the early returns indicate he will be elected by a plurality of 5000. Bert M. Fernald, republican governor, who is fighting for re-election, is optimistic and claims the state by a plurality of 6000. He was elected in 1908 by 7653 plurality. The republicans are claiming the four congressional districts.

VOTERS ARE VERY SLOW IN SIGNING

List at Noon Today Had Grown to 3152, Which is About 50 Per Cent of the Voting Strength of the County—Only Two Days Are Now Left.

The vote at the primaries on September 24 in this county will be the lightest cast at a county election in several years, if the registration books are a criterion. Desultory registering continued today, and with the rolls closing Wednesday night, unless voters are interested in the meantime, the list on record will be far below normal.

On Saturday night only 2868 persons had registered. Today at noon the list had increased to 3152, which is about half of the voting strength of the county. The Medford list is far below normal. Over 500 more should register in this city. Every citizen should enroll in time to vote at the primaries. That election is just as important, in many instances, more so, than the final election. Register! Do it now!

Chief Shearer arrested Charles Daly, alias Harry O'Neil, in this city Sunday afternoon at the request of the sheriff of Chehalis county, Washington, received by mail earlier in the day. The charge against Daly is grand larceny, made by his wife, with whom he has had trouble. The sum alleged to have been stolen is $2100.

Daly has been in Medford several weeks, working as bartender in the Oaks and Office saloons. While in Medford the police have had no trouble with Daly, and the arrested man has friends here who believe that the charge is simply the outcome of a family squabble and without foundation.
