EIGHT-CLUB LEAGUE SOON.

Question Will Be Decided Early in Next October.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Whether the Coast league will be an eight-club circuit or will remain as it is with six will be settled early in October. Judge McCredie of Portland, Henry Berry of Los Angeles and Ed Walters of Oakland will represent the Coast league at a conference to be held with a like number of men from the Northwest league, and their report will be submitted to the directors at their October meeting.

This action was decided upon at the meeting of the league last night. The single umpire system as it now stands probably will endure if last night's discussion by the directors may be taken as an indication. The double system was favored strongly by Hogan of Vernon and Berry of Los Angeles, but Ewing of San Francisco, Walters of Oakland and Graham of Sacramento opposed it, while McCredie of Portland remained neutral.

It was decided that Manager Wolverton and First Baseman Cameron of Oakland much show good cause for their conduct during the game on Thursday at Los Angeles before they would be allowed to play again.

JOHNNY EVERS SARCASTIC.

Says Report He Is to Play With Boston Is Not True.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—"Little Johnny" Evers, second baseman of the Chicago Cubs, dropped into a sarcastic vein today when asked about a report that he would play with the Boston Nationals next season.

"The report," said Johnny, and he squinted as he does when he feels the hunch that he is going to slam out a three-bagger, "unfortunately is entirely wrong. I am not going to play with Boston, but with Green Bay, Wis. I am extremely weary, tired, disgusted, worn out and fatigued by playing with such a rotten aggregation of bushers as the Cubs. Make that strong.

"Although there can be no question that Boston is better than the Cubs, as the present standing of the teams undoubtedly will show, I have decided to go to Green Bay, which, as I said before, is located in Wisconsin somewhere, and there, I am assured, I will join a team that has some class. Is this perfectly clear?"

$200,000 for Ballplayers.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 17.—John H. Farrell, secretary of the National baseball commission, announced today that the sum paid for players drafted from the minor leagues this year exceeded $200,000.

NEW FIGHTER APPEARS.

Jack Goodman Proves to Be Something of a Scrapper.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A new light has burst on the pugilistic firmament. The "light" is Jack Goodman, whose victory over Fighting Dick Hyland of California has set local fightdom on fire. The fans are singing loud their praises of the new star. They believe Goodman is the most scientific youngster now in the business and that his apparent lack of punching ability is more than offset by his cleverness.

Goodman's next match probably will be a ten-round go with Paddy McFarland. In the event of this match falling through, Goodman says he will try to get on with Ad Wogast.

NEW COACH AT O. A. C.

Former Dartmouth Player Will Train Farmers This Year.

CORVALLIS, Or., Sept. 17.—G. H. Schildmiller, who formerly played with Dartmouth college eleven, has just arrived to take up his duties as coach of the Oregon agricultural college football team. Last year he coached the University of Maine football team.

The men will be called out for practice immediately after college begins, September 23, according to Schildmiller today.

While in Dartmouth Schildmiller played halfback.

White Easy for Attell.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 17.—That Abe Attell picked another "soft thing" in Charlie White is the opinion of fight fans here today, who witnessed last night's bout.

Attell fought his usual fight, avoiding punishment at all times and lashing out hard enough to hold his opponent safe. The fans say that Attell did not extend himself at all until the final round, when he fairly swept White off his feet, landing at will.

White was game, but lacked steam, and the pace was altogether too fast for him.

NEW RULES FAVORED.

Coach Stagg of Chicago Believes They Will Help Game.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Coach A. A. Stagg of Chicago university believes that the changes in football rules will eliminate much of the danger that attached to the game as formerly played and that the new style of play will make the game more popular than it has ever been.

"I believe the new football rules eliminate much of the danger of serious injury," said Stagg today. "The game this season will be fast and interesting to the spectators."

AND ACTORS

The arrival in this country of the great Polish violinist, Haroldi, has been the cause of much comment in the press from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The European triumphs of this remarkable virtuoso have long been familiar to those who keep in touch with the world of music. His old-world recitals have been the musical and social events of European capitals for almost three seasons. There Haroldi has become the idol of the people, for his music is of a kind that appeals to all classes. The greatest tribute paid his art is the fact that he attracts throngs of people who are not in the habit of attending musicals. His very appearance suggests the unusual and invites curiosity. And when he plays his music goes straight to the heart, holding his auditors spellbound from beginning to end. Many music lovers who have learned of the effort which Manager Hazelrigg of the New Auditorium, is making to secure Haroldi for this city have assured him of their co-operation. Negotiations are still under way and, while Haroldi's American managers write that they cannot promise a concert for this city, they advise that they will do their best to make it possible. It is expected that definite word will be received from them within the next few days.

Lottery Man Coming.

The underline at the Medford theatre is Shubert's famous comedy, "The Lottery man," which will hold the boards for one performance Wednesday, September 28. This company was "jumped" to San Francisco direct from New York city to open the season at the new Savoy theatre, and also inaugurate the independent or "open door" policy on the coast.

Noted Swimmer Here.

The Natatorium management is fortunate in the new swimming instructor, who has just been engaged, Mr. "Jack" Overdorf, who is already well known here from his connection with the Ashland nat.

Mr. Overdorf is one of the most noted swimmers in this country, being a pupil of Champion Daniels, and while they have never met in a set contest, in private trials Daniels was never able to win except by inches.

Mr. Overdorf was instructor at Luna Park natatorium, Seattle, for two years, and during his last five months there had 429 pupils. During the A. Y. P. exposition he entered and won the free-for-all hundred-yard dash in 6 seconds. The world's record for this distance is 59 seconds, made in the Olympian contests at London. He also took first place in the high dive. Mr. Overdorf will be a welcome addition to the staff of Natatorium attaches.

UNCLE SAM GETS AFTER BANKRUPTCY GRAFTERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Uncle Sam is after the bankruptcy grafters. No, not the miserable wretch who plans to perpetuate a fraudulent failure, but a man much more dangerous to legitimate business, the grafting lawyer, the type which makes a specialty of crooked bankruptcy practice.

It is largely through the efforts of commercial bodies that the attention of the department of justice has been called to the work of the legal shark. This type of lawyer was severely denounced at the recent convention of the National Association of Credit Men at New Orleans and it was resolved to endeavor to eliminate him.

It would not appear at first sight that a lawyer could throw a solvent business into bankruptcy proceedings, but nevertheless it is frequently done. Once in the grasp of the bankruptcy court it is almost impossible to get out, and even a solvent concern would be months struggling through the law's delays at a terrible expense before it could prove solvency. That is what the grafting lawyer figures on, and if the legal expense bankrupts the concern, then it cannot prove solvency, and the legal vulture is in his glory.
