NO NEED FOR UNREST SAYS JAMES J. HILL

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 21.—James J. Hill, the "empire builder," the "father of the northwest," cannot see why the business men of the country should at present fear to engage in new enterprises, nor can he see any reason whatever for the semi-paralysis which is gradually creeping over the United States.

"It's only a senseless lack of confidence," said Mr. Hill, in an interview just given out. "And why this lack of confidence? Some man, somewhere, has grown timid over something or other, and has cried 'hooray' at his neighbor. His neighbor probably jumped and the next fellow took fright without knowing why he was frightened. And so on."

"It's just like a flock of sheep. If one starts to run, every sheep in the flock will follow, even if they die for it."

"During this big national conservation congress we have talked about conserving water and conserving land; conserving coal and conserving iron; it's too bad somebody didn't say a word about conserving common sense."

"That's what this country needs right now—to conserve common sense. There's an article by Colonel George Harvey in the September North American Review dealing with the conservation of common-sense that well illustrates the business condition of this country right now and gives as the panacea for the business paralysis, the suggestion that our business men use a little common sense—just ordinary, sound common sense. I wish business men everywhere would take that advice."

"I can see no reason for the fears which seem to possess our business men. I have preached a 'return to the farm' policy for years and expect to continue to do so; but that's no reason for fear on the part of business."

"Money and business are, of course, very careful, and it is right that they should be, but not to the extent of cutting off their noses to spite their faces. Especially when it is so unnecessary and they need the noses, too."

PROHIBITION CHIEF ISSUE IN IDAHO

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 21.—The state central committees of the democratic and republican parties met today and framed their platforms. As was expected, the statewide prohibition was the principal issue.

The republican platform favored the submission of a constitutional amendment providing for statewide prohibition at the next general election.

The democrats declared themselves in favor of the initiative and referendum and the submission of the prohibition question under its provisions.
