

VETERANS PASS IN LONG PARADE

Nearly 100,000 People Watch Gray-Haired Soldiers Pass Review Stand in Atlantic City Under a Sweltering Sun—Wild Ovation.

ATLANTI CITY, Sept., 22.—The annual parade of the Grand Army of the Republic was held here this morning. Under a sweltering sun the gray-haired veterans, many of them cripples, hobbled along through the streets and past the reviewing stand on which were Vice-President Sherman and Governor Fort. Everywhere the old fighters were met with cheers, and one old man hobbling along on a crutch was given a wild ovation. Fully 100,000 persons saw the parade. About 15,000 Grand Army men were in line.

The day was exceedingly hot and it was expected that some of the marchers would collapse. Ambulances and hundreds of attendants lined the route, but in only one or two cases were their services needed.

Silas Taylor was the grand marshal. Walter Edge was chief of staff. Commander-in-Chief Van Sant headed the parade until the reviewing stand was reached, when he took his place beside Sherman and Governor Fort.

It was estimated that the attendance at this year's encampment fell short 10,000 if what it otherwise would have been because of the refusal of the railroad companies to grant reduced rates.

The question of erecting a statue to General Robert E. Lee will be the chief topic of discussion tomorrow.

MOB THREATENS ETHEL LENEVE

Only for Strenuous Activity on Part of Police She Would Have Been Injured—Onlookers Hiss Threats Against Girl.

LONDON, Sept., 22.—An enraged mob surrounded Ethel Clare Leneve, Dr. Hawley H. Crippen's typist, today as she was being taken to the Bow street police court, and but for strenuous activity on the part of the police she would have been injured.

Miss Leneve is completely unnerved as the result of the hostile demonstration. She remained calm in the face of the mob, but as soon as it had been dispersed she became hysterical and it was necessary to summon a physician to quiet her. A hundred or more persons followed the girl and her police escort when the trip to the police court was begun. Soon several hundred had surrounded her and prevented her progress. The police formed a cordon and with drawn "billies" fought their way through the crowd. The onlookers hooted and hissed and made threats against the girl.

Crippen's trip to the courtroom was marked by no demonstration. The building in which the hearing is being conducted has been put under a triple guard.

The demonstration against Miss Leneve is believed to have resulted from the testimony of Mrs. Jackson at the inquest Monday.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC OFFICIALS HERE

Vice-President J. P. O'Brien, Superintendent L. R. Fields, Assistant General Passenger Agent John M. Scott and Traveling Passenger Agent Jenkins were among the Southern Pacific officials who attended the opening of the new Grants Pass depot Tuesday and who visited Medford in their private cars later in the evening.

Messrs. O'Brien and Fields left early Wednesday for Portland, but Messrs. Scott and Jenkins remained over the day. Before leaving Mr. O'Brien made an early morning tour of the city, inspecting the many new buildings, visiting the Natatorium, the Pacific & Eastern depot site and other places of interest. Mr. Scott spent nearly the entire day noting the changes and growth since his last visit.

All were greatly impressed by the remarkable progress Medford is making, the greatest of any city on the coast. Since their visit last spring ten miles of streets have been paved, the water system completed and construction begun on many business blocks. All of the officials expressed pleasure over the appearance of the city and predict a great future for Medford.

The new Natatorium was a great surprise to all and pronounced a great advertisement for the enterprise of the community.
