WILTON LACKAYE MAKES A HIT

Characterization Was Well-Nigh Perfect—His Lines Are Drawn as Fine as Those of a Painter or Sculptor.

Last night's play was the opening of the regular theatrical season, and the large and fashionable audience that greeted Mr. Lackaye in his new play, "The Battle," showed that Medford playgoers know when a real actor comes to town. Mr. Lackaye's reputation is well established as one of the few great American actors. His characterization is well nigh perfect. He is an artist who draws his lines as fine as the painter or sculptor, never for a moment losing the character that he is portraying.

As to the play, it is built upon the much talked of social problem of the present day; but unlike the plays of mandarin sentiment that are written to appeal to the prejudice of the masses, this play gives both sides of social life in New York, the dwellers in the tenement and the very rich. It plainly shows that this is a day of opportunity, and that it is clearly the fault of those who fail to grasp it.

Mr. Lackaye portrays the character of one of New York's multi-millionaires, who in his early life had lost track of his wife and son. In visiting one of his tenements he finds by accident that his son is living the lowly life of the poor and striving to solve the social problem of his time. The father, assuming another name, commences life in the tenement with but a few dollars and shows how with intelligence and industry he can amass a fortune even surrounded by the poor conditions in which he finds his son. As the play progresses he wins the love of his son and makes himself known. The moral of the play is "Help those who try to help themselves."

There are many good attractions booked for the coming season—ac-

IS SLANDER TO CALL WHITE WOMAN BLACK

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—Because Judge Monroe in the superior court held that it is slander to declare that a white woman has negro blood, Samuel Mendelsohn, manager of a theater at Vallejo, must pay Helen Ogden $1000 damages.

Miss Ogden alleged that Mendelsohn caused to be printed in a theatrical paper a statement that "Miss Ogden, a colored woman, is a person without veracity." The girl sued for $25,000, claiming that until the circulation of the alleged statement she had been able to earn a large salary as a vaudeville singer.

Minor Fight Tonight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—"One Round" Hogan and Frankie Smith meet tonight in a four-round bout at Dreamland rink, as the main event of the Golden Gate club's card. Hogan has been installed a 10 to 7 favorite over the Oakland boy, and betting has been unusually heavy for such a short fight.

Should Hogan win he will challenge Ad Wolgast. Hogan has fought 37 battles and has won them all. He has never gone more than four rounds, however.

Blind Leader eDad.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—General Charles Brayton, known as the blind dictator of Rhode Island, veteran of the civil war and prominent for the last 30 years in Rhode Island politics, died suddenly here today from heart disease.

tors that have never appeared in Medford before. The mixup between Klaw and Erlanger and the Shuberts has worked good to the actor and the local manager.

Mr. Hazelrigg has an orchestra that promises to be a feature of the coming entertainments. He has added a 'cello and his musicians are all first-class artists.

AUTO RACING DRIVER KILLED

Control of Machine Is Lost and Man at Wheel Is Fatally Injured—Was Preparatory Spin for Vanderbilt Cup Race.

MINEOLA, L. I., Sept. 23.—George Robertson, driving a Benz car on the Park way at 60 miles an hour today, lost control of the machine and was probably fatally injured.

He was taken to a hospital, where it was found his right arm was broken, his collar bone broken and his skull probably fractured. He was internally injured.

Stephen Reynolds, mechanic, was less seriously hurt. The accident occurred during a preparatory spin for the Vanderbilt cup race October 1.

Church to Be Dedicated.

The Seventh-Day Adventist church building of Medford has been completed and the last bill of expense has been paid. On Sunday, September 25, at 2:30 p. m., Elder F. S. Bunch, president of the Southern Oregon conference, will be present and deliver the dedicatory address. Elder J. Mark Comer of St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. Dr. Walker and others will take part in the program. This will be an interesting service to all. We extend a cordial invitation to all.

REGULARS FIGHTING.

Acting Governor Jay Bowerman is the so-called machine candidate for governor. He is opposed by Colonel Hofer of Salem, who advocates the enforcement of the direct primary law, Albert Abraham and Grant B. Dimick. It is conceded that the fight lies between Bowerman and legislative candidates to vote for the United States senatorial candidate who receives the popular endorsement at the preceding general election.

Widespread Protest.

As a result of widespread protest against the assembly, a number of direct primary candidates entered the field and have waged a determined battle against the assembly ticket.

While it is generally believed that the anti-assembly ticket will capture a large percentage of state legislative nominations, assembly leaders claim they will win out in one congressional district and succeed in electing their candidate for governor, for secretary of state and state treasurer. They base this opinion on the theory that those favoring the assembly plan of nominations will vote solidly, while the insurgent vote will be scattered, due to the multiplicity of anti-assembly candidates for each office.

Governorship.

Hofer for the nomination. Governor Benson, who is ill at Roos, Cal., is seeking the nomination for secretary of state. He is opposed by G. Wingate, insurgent.

Insurgents are waging a strong fight against the renomination of Congressman W. R. Ellis in the second congressional district and against Congressman Hawley in the first. In the second district A. W. Lafferty, C. J. Reed, George S. Shepperd are opposing Ellis, while B. F. Mulkey is out against Hawley. Each insurgent congressional nominee has secured indorsement of big eastern insurgents. Reed is backed by La Follette and Lafferty by Cummins. In the first district Mulkey is given endorsement by Senator La Follette.

STOCK MARKET STEADY

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Southern Pacific, American Beet Sugar and St. Paul fell 1, Amalgamated Copper 1 1/2, and other leaders large fractions at the opening today. The range of trading was not wide and the sales were small. After the opening the market showed an inclination to rally, but there was little strength to the effort and another break followed. The railroads suffered worse in the ensuing decline. St. Paul fell 2, Northern Pacific 1 1/2, Chesapeake & Ohio and Canadian Pacific 1. Later the market hardened and trading became dull. Towards noon there was some recovery, Reading preferred scoring a gain of 1/4. Bonds were steady.
