

Blooded Cats In Medford

How many people are aware that Medford possesses a gennet of long-haired or Persian cats, known as the Westover cattery, where the animals have been imported from England's most highly pedigreed stock? And is it generally known in the west that the United States department of agriculture sanctions a stud book for these beautiful animals?

der tinge, and some are so pale as to seem practically white, until they are placed beside a really white cat. The Silver-tabbies have the same gray under coat, overlaid with broad black stripes and wheels. During the winter the cats have very heavy coat, but as they shed much of it during the summer months, they have not gotten their heavy coats on yet.

The breeding of cats is yet in its infancy, particularly in the west, where little attention has been paid to a cat of any kind unless it proved to be a disturber of the midnight peace, where it has been carried on in a hit or miss fashion for a number of years. And it is only recently that fanciers have come to realize that a cat must be bred in its own color for many generations to command any price.

The Westover cattery breeds only silvers and silver tabbies. The former are pale gray, almost a lavender.

Government Expert for College.

CORVALLIS, Or., Sept. 23.—The regents of the Oregon Agricultural college have just announced the appointment of George A. Samson of the U. S. department of agriculture at Washington, D. C., as instructor in animal husbandry for the coming year. Animal breeding and feeding investigations in the government bureau of animal industry occupied Mr. Samson's attention for the past four years. Previously he was engaged in experiment station work at his alma mater, the University of Illinois, where he received the degree of B. A. in 1902, and that of B. S. in 1906.

Installs Home Science.

CORVALLIS, Or., Sept. 23.—Miss Emily Fern Rogers of Portland, a graduate of the domestic science department of the Oregon Agricultural college last June, has gone to Baker City, Or., where she is installing a department of home economics in the public schools. Not only has Miss Rogers been elected to head this department, but she has also been requested to plan the entire course of study to be given, choose her own equipment and establish an ideal kitchen in which to give her instruction to the school girls, a high tribute to her ability and training.

RAILROADS ACTIVE NEAR CRESENT ORE.

CRESCENT, Or., Sept. 23.—Railroad activity in the vicinity of Crescent has been renewed by the arrival here of a large surveying party under command of Engineer Drumm of the Southern Pacific. The party expects to be in the field until snow flies, changing the line running between Lakes Odell and Crescent and swinging it nearer into Crescent. The party, which has been at work between Hazel Dell and the summit of the mountains, will shortly have the line revised up to the point where it joins on with the revision now in progress under Drumm.

Work on the location of the line of the Oregon Trunk from the north edge of the Klamath Indian reservation to Odessa has been completed and, it is understood, the crews of Engineers Milligan and Kyle are now on their way northward. A change of about five feet in the grade through the canyon between the Williamson river and the agency has been made, to take the tracks above high-water mark. It is said the Southern Pacific survey, which parallels the Oregon Trunk line through the canyon, will also be raised five feet.

The Most Perfect Block of Trees in the Pacific Northwest

Sixty-six and a half acres of SUNCREST ORCHARDS is offered for sale in five and ten-acre tracts on terms that should prove most attractive.

This tract is planted, two rows alternately, to Yellow Newtown, Spitzenberg and Jonathan Apples, the very choicest standard commercial varieties.

They are eight years of age and have a good crop this year. They are well set with fruit spurs for next year's crop.

The trees are large for their age, are uniform in size and exceptionally thrifty.

The soil is the very best. Drainage is perfect. Altitude about sixteen hundred feet. Distance from shipping station about a mile and a half.

Price and terms: $1000 per acre, half cash, balance in three equal annual payments, with interest at six per cent.

A five-acre tract of this bearing orchard will cost the purchaser $2500 in cash, $833.13 in 1911, $833.13 in 1912 and $833.13 in 1913. After the first payment is made the crop should a great deal more than pay the balance.

This is an exceptional opportunity to become the owner of what is unquestionably one of the finest young orchards in the northwest. The trees are the right varieties, they are in perfect condition, and there is a surety of a satisfactory income.

The time to buy is now. Let us show you these tracts.
