"A Stubborn Cinderella" Here Soon

"A Stubborn Cinderella", soon to be presented to this city, is one of the largest musical comedies by the author of "The Times", "The Place and The Girl", "The Girl Question", and "The Goddess of Liberty". It was produced for the first time in Chicago and has been a phenomenal and brilliant success ever since. The dramatic critics, without exception have been loud in their praise of "Stubborn Cinderella" predicting many years of prosperity for it. Its authors have supplied an ingenious and amusing book and a series of tuneful and bright lyrics. The story of "A Stubborn Cinderella" is divided into three scenes, the first showing the campus of Columbia University, the second a railroad wreck in the far west, with the third disclosing the view of the Natatorium of Coronado Beach hotel, California while an organ fete is in progress. The attraction will be seen here on Wednesday, Oct. 5 at the Medford Theatre. "A Stubborn Cinderella" ran for one solid year in Chicago; six months in New York, twenty-two weeks in Boston and Philadelphia. The company which is an exceptional strong one is headed by Cort Alber-son. 10 a. m. Seals now on sale at Haskins'.

PACKERS LACKING IN BIG DISTRICTS

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 1.—"Reports from practically every commercial orchard district in the Northwestern and Pacific states and provinces in Canada indicate the lack of sufficient competent packers to handle the crops this season, thus strongly emphasizing the need of institutions where men and women can learn the principles of preparing apples for the market. Packing schools should be established in every community in the fruit belts, as the labor problem is becoming more serious every year." Ren H. Rice, secretary and manager of the National apple show, inc., said this is an interview today, adding: "The demand for experienced packers in the box apple districts this fall is the best evidence that provisions must be made at once to supply growers and shippers with competent help in the future. Calls are coming from all over the western country and the supply of packers is so limited that in many instances it has been found necessary to send wholly inexperienced workers into orchards and packing houses. With the many orchards coming into bearing in 1911 and the following years the problem is bound to assume proportions."

FARMERS AID ONE ANOTHER IN STORING OF WHEAT

MOSCOW, Idaho, Sept. 30.—With in five minutes at the big farmers' union meeting, held here yesterday, over $20,000 was offered by farmers on wheat receipts to other farmers who wished to hold their wheat for better prices. Over 90,000 bushels are to be handled in this way. The farmers' warehouse here today is offering 71 cents to its members for red wheat, which is two cents above the price offered by other buyers. Because the crop this year is only 50 per cent of the usual yield, the

THINK WOLGAST IS MERELY STALLING

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Oct. 1.—Fight fans are accepting with bad grace the announcement that Champion Ad Wolgast will be out of the game for several months because of an injured arm and many are inclined to the belief that the Milwaukee scrapper is "stalling." Wolgast said a glancing blow on Tommy McFarland's head during their bout last night reopened an old injury and he would not again enter the ring until it had thoroughly healed. Occasionally we meet a man whose train of thought reminds us of a row of flat cars. farmers think that prices should be better. Since they have an abundance of money of their own, it is the intention to hold their wheat indefinitely.

THE GREATER OREGON HOME RULE ASSOCIATION The Brewers, Distillers and Saloons or THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF OREGON—WHICH?

Have You Registered

Tuesday, November 8, is ELECTION DAY. One saloon and two temperance measures will be on the official ballot as follows:

Proposed by Initiative Petition.
For Constitutional Amendment giving to cities and towns exclusive power to license, regulate, control, suppress or prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors within the municipality. Vote YES or NO.

328 YES
329 NO

This is the "Home Rule bill," the revised Reddy Bill, a saloon measure, cunningly drawn to deceive the people. It is against popular government and in the interests of the brewers, distillers and saloons. "Greater Oregon Home Rule Association" is the "saloon crowd." Vote 329 X NO

Proposed by Initiative Petition.
An amendment of Section 22 of Article I of the Constitution of Oregon, prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor and the traffic therein within the State of Oregon, on and after the 1st day of July, A. D. 1911, excepting for medicinal, scientific, sacramental, and mechanical purposes. Vote YES or NO.

342 YES
343 NO

The saloons must go. Morality and real prosperity go together. Vote for a clean state, progress, the rule of the people, the sanctity of the home, and against crime, dirty politics and saloon rule by voting 342 X YES

Proposed by Initiative Petition.
A bill for a law to prohibit, prevent, and suppress the manufacture, sale, possession, exchange or giving away of intoxicating liquors within the State of Oregon, except for specific purposes; to govern the shipment of the same, declaring what is intoxicating liquor within the State of Oregon, and providing penalty for violations of the act. Vote YES or NO.

344 YES
345 NO

This law means the enforcement of the people's will. The prohibition amendment will be enforced by the prohibition law. Vote 344 X YES

Men make our country. The type of our manhood will determine the type of our national life. Man's life is the thing of first value in all the universe. What unfits man for his duties to himself, his home and his country is an evil, and a blight upon the financial, political and spiritual life of a people. The saloon not only unfits men for their duties but threatens their very life. Julien A. Mock said, "I was drinking to some extent the night the trouble occurred when I took the life of Jesse Smith. I hardly knew what I was really doing." That is what whiskey which is sold at the saloon always does ultimately. It takes life. It produces crime. Let us compare one year of Medford's ten saloons, from September 1st, 1909, to Sept. 1st, 1910, with Ashland's no saloons as shown by the records of the city court as found in each of the cities:

The arrests and causes of the same as given in the records of the city court of Medford from September 1st, 1909, to September 1st, 1910: Drunkenness, 110; disturbance of the peace, 88; assault, 17; fighting, 27; disorderly conduct, 44; resisting an officer 3; interfering with an officer, 2; selling liquor to a minor, 1; indecency, 5; obscene language, 1; riding on sidewalks, 2; carrying concealed weapons, 3; vagrancy, 15; profane language, 1; jumping on cars in motion, 2; exceeding the speed limit, 3; begging, 1; selling sandwiches without license, 1; running an auto for hire without license, 1; causes of arrest not given, 8. Of these there is little doubt that 300 arrests were due to drink alone, because of our ten saloons. The arrests and causes of the same as given in the records of the city court of Ashland from September 1, 1909, to September 1, 1910: Drunkenness, 7; disorderly conduct, 3; fighting, 2; profane language, 1; exceeding the speed limit, 4; obstructing the sidewalk, 2. The grand total is 19 for the year—Ashland has no saloons. Does the presence of ten saloons in Medford produce sobriety and temperance? Does the absence of saloons in Ashland increase the number of her drunks? Look to the above figures. GOV. W. A. STUBBS, of Kansas,

In his address delivered at the Great Northern theater, Chicago, March 27, 1910, said: "While I am not an expert in the affairs of the local government of Chicago I venture the assertion that conditions which are due largely to the saloon and kindred evils of society constitute your most disturbing and distracting problems. Usually cities having an ambition to solve such problems commission delegations of its wisest and best citizens to investigate the treatment of these problems by other communities. As chief executive of my state it would give me great pleasure to welcome delegations from Chicago to Kansas for the purpose of showing them the results of prohibition. We have had commissioners from Canada, New Zealand, England and Australia and even now the governments of Italy and Russia are investigating our methods of dealing with this evil, the greatest social and governmental problem on the face of the earth today.

If wisdom should cause you to send such a delegation to Kansas I will guarantee they will not find a business man of standing in the state who will not testify that prohibition is the best business asset of Kansas.

Prohibition must be judged by results—it must stand or fall upon its merits. The people of Kansas are very progressive, very positive and intensely practical in their ideas and habits. If the prohibitory law had not given us a better civilization and a higher type of manhood and womanhood it would have been repealed years ago. If it has increased drunkenness, crime and perjury, as saloon men claim it has done, the saloon-keepers would all be supporting the law instead of fighting it, for it would increase their revenue.

This is an age of conservation. Prohibiting the manufacture and sale of whiskey is more closely identified with a sound conservation policy than are the laws prohibiting the wanton destruction of the forests.

You may think that Frances E. Willard and Gifford Pinchot were far apart in their line of effort, but they were not—both were protecting the natural resources of the American republic.

"Woodman spare that tree" is fine sentiment, indeed, but it is not finer than "Brewer, spare that youth."

The saloon destroys manhood, and impoverishes our country. (Paid Advertisement.)
