SPANISH PARLIAMENT MEETS SOON FEARED IT WILL BE LAST SESSION

World Wide Fight of the People Against Property is Being Waged in Spain, Taking the Form of a Battle of the Church Against the State.

MADRID, Oct. 2.—By courier to Hendaye, France, Oct. 3.—The Spanish parliament meets here tomorrow (October 3) in what many fear will be its last session. Premier Canalejas, disregarding the advice of those who would temporize, has called the parliament and Madrid today is conscious of the fact that all Europe is awaiting almost breathlessly the developments of the next few days.

The world wide fight of people against property, the very fight which is engrossing America and England today, is being waged here. In Spain it has taken the form of a battle between the church and the state, but the issue is the same as in other countries, save that here the church is really property and the state personal interests.

The fight is really a three cornered one.

The conservatives and the clericals, constituting practically a single group—for a conservative is always a clerical and a clerical always a conservative—want the church left absolutely alone. They are monarchists, but if King Alfonso sticks to his present program of interference with church privileges, they will favor deposing him and elevating Don Jaime, the Carlist pretender, to the throne. Upon Jaime's loyalty to church interests they can count unquestioningly.

The liberals are the second group. They are monarchists, too, but they think the church's authority in Spain too great and want it limited.

Thirdly, there are the extreme radicals—republicans, socialists, anarchists, trades unionists, Freemasons, and, in Catalonia, separatists—together with various subdivisions of each group. They want the Spanish church and state completely divorced, church property confiscated by the state, state support to the church withdrawn and the religious orders driven out of France as they were driven out of France a few years ago. Most of them also want a republican form of government for the country. Incidentally, the separatists want the Catalan provinces to secede from Spain and set up as an independent nation.

Trouble will probably come in one of two ways. Premier Canalejas may succeed in holding King Alfonso to his present determination to limit the church's powers, upon which there is practically no doubt that the church will declare for Don Jaime and attempt a forcible change of sovereigns. Or the king, who is much under the church's thumb and a by no means enthusiastic supporter of the limitation program, may turn Señor Canalejas out of office and put a conservative premier in his place. If this happens the anti-clericals will revolt and undertake the establishment of a republic.

What Premier Canalejas proposes is to make church establishments in Spain subject to ordinary civil law, to tax them, to put some limit upon the number of monastic orders in the country and to grant freedom of public worship to others than Catholics.

Wrights Enter Denial.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—Orville and Wilbur Wright, charged jointly with infringing patents held by C. H. Lamson of Pasadena, Cal., today filed answer to his suit in the United States court here. The Wrights deny that they appropriated the Lamson ideas. They assert that Lamson patented a box kite, but that it was extremely impractical and that it did not fly.

In writing an ad about that furnished room you have to rent say, in a convincing way, just what you'd want it was like, "and all about it," always.

CITY IS QUIET TODAY.

Smoke blackened wall to the flag-staff descended.

In a row inside the police lines, four black ambulances stand awaiting for the burdens they undoubtedly will have to carry to the morgue.

Coroner Heartwell today assumed personal charge of the ten men detailed to the wreck.

Dozens of friends and relatives of the lost men are being cared for at the central police station, less than a square distant.

Otis Visits Scene.

General Harrison Gray Otis visited the ruins late last evening for a second time. Surrounded by a guard of plain clothes men, he watched the laborers who sweated in the pit beneath the glare of hundreds of incandescent lamps strung over the ruins. His entire thought appeared to be for his employes who had lost their lives at their posts of duty.

The committee of citizens appointed by Mayor Alexander to administer the $25,000 fund voted by the city council to probe the dynamiting already is in possession of clues which may lead to the apprehension or the guilty persons.

Attorney Earl Rogers, who had an active part for the defense in the recent trials of Patrick Calhoun in San Francisco, is a member of the committee.

With two detectives, committee employes, Rogers today is en route to San Francisco to investigate one of the clues in the committee's possession.

Before leaving, Roberts refused to state the nature of the information he has secured, but it is generally believed here that he will probe further into the reported purchasing from the Giant Powder company of San Francisco of a large amount of high explosive by men who gave the names of A. J. Bryson and William Morris.

The dynamite found under the home of F. J. Zeehandelaar bore the stamp of the Giant company and further bore the date on which men giving the above names purchased the powder, ostensibly to blow out stumps on a ranch near Auburn.

Mass Meeting Called.

The Merchants and Manufacturers' association, of which Zeehandelaar is secretary, called a mass meeting of citizens for today. The association is planning a campaign for private subscriptions to increase the regard offered for the apprehension of the persons responsible for the Times dynamiting and for the attempted Zeehandelaar and Otis outrages. Several business men have promised varying amounts to the fund. Zeehandelaar said before the meeting today that an effort will be made to increase the reward offered to $100,000.

Mayor Alexander has increased the city's offer to $10,000. The state building trades council has offered $7500 and a local newspaper has increased the total amount by $1000.

It was announced that General Otis would attend the mass meeting and probably would speak. No Gas Explosion.

The police have abandoned the theory advanced by officials of the Los Angeles labor unions that the explosion might have been caused by gases in the basement of the building.

Three men employed in the Times mechanical department declared after the explosion that the odor of gas had been noticeable all day. Their statements led to an investigation by the authorities.

Earl Rogers, head of the committee named by the city council to direct an investigation of the catastrophe, accompanied by officials of the Los Angeles Gas company and dynamite experts, made a thorough survey of the ruins.

City Is Quiet.

The gas men declared that only recently their pipes in the Times building had been inspected and found in good condition. They further stated that no amount of illuminating gas could have caused such an upheaval.

They admitted that the shattered mains in the building probably added to the rapid spread of the fire following the explosion.

The dynamite experts were unanimous that the explosion was caused by carefully placed explosives. They could not agree on the nature of these, several declaring that nitroglycerine had been used.

Los Angeles is quiet today and the police anticipate no further difficulty. Nevertheless, scores of extra police are on duty and Chief Galloway has ordered all men back from vacations. A second order was issued postponing all vacations in the department scheduled for this week.

HOMESTEADS. 7 fine homesteads.

where the explosive could have been either shipped by Southern Pacific or by automobile. At the request of the police the Southern Pacific officials today began a search of their records for dynamite shipments at all points between here and Los Angeles on September 22 or later.

The Peerless, according to information received from Sausalito at noon today, disappeared from its anchorage there about a month ago and has not since been seen there.

The Peerless has been frequently seen about Sausalito during the past two years.
