

"A Stubborn Cinderella" Here Soon

Of all the musical comedy successes which have been produced in recent years no work of the kind has surpassed in popularity that of Hough, Adams and Howard's "A Stubborn Cinderella," which Charles A. Goettler will present at the Medford theater Wednesday, October 5. The reasons for "A Stubborn Cinderella's" popularity are easily explained. In the first place it differs widely from the usual musical comedy in that there is not a line from the beginning until the end which can be misconstrued. It is funny, but the fun is clean; there is not a line at which the most captious could take offense. The other reason is in the music. There are more than 20 as charming musical numbers as have ever been given to a work of this kind. From the opening chorus until the finale there is a flow of melody that not only pleases the ear, but is of that quality which once heard is not easily forgotten. "A Stubborn Cinderella" is being presented with all the attention to detail that characterizes a Charles Goettler production. The scenery, properties and effects are all new and the costumes are gorgeous in their beauty.

FISH FRY FOR UPPER LAKE

Game Warden Lewis of Klamath Will Receive Large Consignment of Black Bass, Sunfish and Ring-Necked Perch.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Oct. 3.—The upper Klamath lake is to be stocked with black bass, ring-necked perch and sunfish fry. Ten thousand bass and some of the two latter varieties of fish are now on their way to this city from the state fish hatchery and are to arrive on this evening's train.

These fry were applied for some months ago by Game Warden Lewis and they are coming consigned to him. When he first made the application for the bass it was his aim to put the bass in Lost river, but since the government reclamation service is to turn that stream out of its old bed and run it into the Klamath river a few miles below town he had just as well put the fry in the waters of the upper lake, as they would eventually stock all the waters of the country, including Lost river, anyway, and vice versa.

The waters of our lakes and streams are said by fishermen to be ideal for the propagation of the black bass, and while not so much is known of the sunfish as well as the ring-necked perch, it is believed they will thrive, and from what is known of the sunfish they are said not only to be gamey fish for the hook and line fishing, but are an excellent table variety. They do not grow to very large size, but afford a great deal of sport because of their fighting qualities.

FOOTBALL HAS CLAIMED VICTIM

Divers Cannot Find Any Trace of the 29 Men Who Were Swept Out to Sea by the Tide Tuesday Night.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—One death and a score of injuries is today's summary of football games played last Saturday on eastern gridirons.

Although the football season has just begun, the list of casualties leads experts to believe that the new rules have not eliminated danger, and that the game is as full of risk as it was before the revision of the rules.

The Yale-Syracuse game resulted in eight injuries, two of which are serious.

The preliminary game furnished material for criticism on the relative merits of the various teams. The consensus of opinion is that Harvard is showing the best form. The crimson team has a wealth of material and is apparently the most versatile on the field.

MILLIONAIRE SLAIN BY AN IRATE HUSBAND

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 3.—C. Edward Gibson, a millionaire oil operator, was shot and killed today by Menlo Moore, wealthy owner of a number of theaters in Indiana. The killing occurred at the Union depot. Moore boarded a train for Washington, Ind., but was arrested en route. It is said that the affair is the result of attentions paid by Gibson to Mrs. Moore.

BIG FUND BEING RAISED.

(Continued from Page 1.) funds for the widows and fatherless children of the men who lost their lives in the disaster. Many of these are said to be in straitened circumstances. Efforts will be made to raise at least $20,000 for distribution.

The city was thrown into wild excitement shortly before noon when a rumor was circulated that another infernal machine had been found in the basement of the new hall of records. Police were driven to the hall in automobiles, but the report proved to be without foundation.

Another body, the eighth recovered, was taken from the wreckage at noon. A smoke blackened watch case bearing the number 802,889 and a battered Waltham movement, No. 5397409, may establish the victim's identity. A job, bearing on its reverse side the mark of the Watab Paper & Pulp company, Sartell, Minn., was attached to the watch.

SAILORS LOST IN CHOPPY SEA

First Day of Gridiron Battles Results in Death and Many Injuries—Harvard is Showing Good Form.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Owing to a strong ebb tide prevailing in the North river, divers searching for 29 members of the crew of the battleship New Hampshire were unable to find any of the men who went to their deaths when a whaleboat loaded with sailors, overturned Saturday night on their way back to the warship. The divers expressed fear that the wind and tide had carried the bodies seaward and that it would be several days before any were recovered.

Small boats from the warships grappled all night in the choppy waters of the river, but failed to find any trace of the missing men.

MAN'S FOOT LOST OWING TO WOUND

The foot of George T. Woodbury of Phoenix, who accidentally shot himself in the ankle last Saturday evening, was amputated this morning. Though the bullet was only from a 22-caliber rifle, it shattered both bones of the ankle to splinters. The bullet was of soft lead, which spread when it struck.

Mr. Woodbury was in the act of storing the rifle away preparatory to a trip to Chicago via San Francisco when the accident occurred. Mr. Woodbury is an eastern man who has purchased an orchard in the Phoenix district.

only a few yards distant. He fired hastily at it but did not stop its onrush. Jumping backwards into the brush he tried to throw another cartridge into the barrel but a stick caught in the trigger and clogged the action of the gun. Dropping his gun he started playing tag with the ferocious old bruin, with the bear "it." At this juncture Summerville made a dash at the bear trying vainly to get in a position from which he could shoot without endangering the life of his friend. The dog, in the meantime, had made an onslaught upon the cub which had started a hasty flight with the dog in hot pursuit. Attracted by the cry of the cubs the bear ran to the aid of her offspring, leaving big Benninghoven badly scratched and bruised, but not seriously injured.

The party killed three deer on the trip and saw a great number more. Much anxiety was experienced by friends of Broker and Chamberlain on Friday and Saturday, as they were reported lost.

Fall is nearly here and the first football accident of the season has been reported.

DRY FARMING CONGRESS READY

Will Open Its Sessions in Spokane Tonight—Progress of Dry Farming Will Be Considered in All of Its Features.

SUOKANE, Wash., Oct. 3.—The fifth convocation of the International Dry Farming Congress will convene here tonight for a four day session. The congress will be formally opened by President Taft, who will flash a message of welcome from the White House at Washington over a telegraph wire connected directly with the convention hall in Spokane. The president's message will be received a few minutes after the congress convenes at 8 o'clock by Alfred Atkinson of Montana, chairman of the congress.

Afterwards the convention will join in a salute to the international colors and 225 school children will sing the national anthem.

Following the invocation by the Rev. Dr. William J. Hindley, there will be addresses of welcome by H. W. Newton, chairman of the local board of control; Charles M. Fassett, president of the Spokane chamber of commerce; and Governor Hay, the session closing with the president's address by Congressman F. W. Mondell of Wyoming and a response in behalf of international delegates by Hewitt Bostock of British Columbia, representing the government of Great Britain.

During the progress of the convention dry farming in all its phases will be discussed by the most eminent American and European authorities on the subject.

The convention will adjourn Thursday evening, October 6.

Delegates have been pouring into the city for the last three days and wheat growers from all points of the northwest and the Alberta country are here to attend the meetings of the congress.

PRICE OF FIREWOOD STIRS YE POET'S IRE

CENTRAL POINT, Oct. 3.—"Woodman spare that tree, Touch not a single bough, And I'm cold and shivering now." One limb from it has busted me. Firewood in Central Point is so high in price that many people are putting the old isinglass fronts in their stoves and are adopting the "Colonel Sellers" method of keeping warm; $3 and $3.25 per tier, and the tears flow freely from the eyes of housewives as the dollars tumble from the wampum belt of the husbandman.

Fall is nearly here and the first football accident of the season has been reported.

MORE TROUBLE FISHING RIGHTS

England and America, Despite Their Acceptance of Decision of Hague Tribunal, Still Feel That Matter is Not Entirely Closed.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Further trouble between England and the United States over the question of fishing rights in Newfoundland, notwithstanding their acceptance of the international board of arbitration's award, is believed by well informed Englishmen to be inevitable.

As long as Newfoundland remains sparsely settled the award will prove satisfactory, but at the present rate of population increase, Newfoundland will soon have as many people as she wants and then, it is freely predicted, the privileges granted to American fishermen are bound to arouse fresh friction.

The immunity granted to the United States fishermen from customs supervision will be quite sufficient in itself to bring about chaos. Local differences will again become acute and it may be that another long and expensive litigation between American and England will be entered upon.

During the recent discussions on this latest development of Anglo-American affairs, however, a solution of the Newfoundland question which might prove final has suggested itself. There has been a great deal of indignation in England lately on account of the suspicion which is current to the effect that the United States, in contravention of treaties made at different times, intends fortifying the Panama canal.

On every side the cabinet is being urged never to allow this. "A breaking of diplomatic faith" and a "betrayal of English interests" are the usual expressions heard in connection with the expected fortifications. In fact some especially pugnacious agitators urge that the British navy should be stationed on the spot to prevent anything of the kind happening.

Cooler people, however, believe that in the matter of the canal will be found the opportunity for a deal and at the same time for a settlement of the Newfoundland dispute. To them it seems reasonable that Great Britain should say to the United States, "By the treaty you undoubtedly have no power to fortify the Panama canal on your own account. Still we are ready to withdraw our opposition if on the other hand you are willing to give up all that you gained under The Hague award." Many people are beginning to think it might very easily be possible for an arrangement of this kind to be made.

STOCK MARKET STRONG

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The stock market was unstable today. Prices fluctuated and many small gains and losses between changes were noted. Chesapeake & Ohio rose to above 80. The advance affected the entire market. American Sugar sold readily. A number of liquidations caused American Sugar preferred to break 3 points. Western Union declined 2 points. Wisconsin Central rose 4, and other large concerns showed strength, but as a rule the advances were small. The market closed firm. Bonds were irregular.
