A. F. Poole of Trail was in Medford Saturday on a business trip. Dr. Stephenson is a graduate optician. Over Allen & Reagan's, 195 E. G. Burgess of Wollen spent Sunday in this city. Medford Collection Agency, 10 per cent charged. Over Hurbart's new store. R. R. Nell, democratic candidate for state senator, was in Medford Saturday. Do you know that you can buy any amount, from a half acre up, in Oakdale Park addition on easy terms? Oakdale Land Investment Co., 214 Fruitgrowers' Bank bldg. W. W. Wood of Eugene was in Medford on business Monday. G. W. Barnum & Co., contractors and builders. Country work a specialty. Orders solicited. Inquire at The Toggery. The Portland team was greeted Monday morning by a number of Medford fans, who had assembled at the depot when No. 15 came in to congratulate them on the record of 89 consecutive innings without a score against them. The only regret expressed was that they hadn't 14 more goose eggs in the basket. Fifty-three acres special, 10 acres coming into bearing orchard. Call on J. B. Wood, Condor Water & Power Co.'s office. Reuben Johnson of Trail was a Medford business visitor Monday. William von der Hellen of Eagle Point spent Sunday in Medford. J. Frank Brown of Eagle Point was a Medford business visitor a few days since. Sam Swenning of the forestry department spent Saturday in Woodville. John R. Wilson of upper Jackson creek was a recent visitor in Medford. J. W. Carey of Ashland was a recent visitor in Medford. B. F. Mulkey has returned from a visit in Ashland. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Calder were recent visitors in Medford from the west side of the valley. T. E. Hamersley, of Portland, deputy United States marshal, was in Medford Sunday on professional business. F. J. Lowry will lay flooring on the work in exchange for a bicycle. J. W. Jacobs, who is in charge of the Kentner store at Woodville, was in Medford Monday. Mr. Jacobs reports business at Woodville on the grow. There is a spirit of optimism in that section which is like the Medford spirit and as a consequence the town is growing rapidly. Mr. Jacobs' visit here was for the purpose of securing more goods from the parent organization for the new store. For insurance, phone 3491. Huntley-Kremer Co. 1917. Many gunners went out Sunday looking for the small elusive bird, which in connection with a large cold bottle is so popular among the swift ones. The bags were not extra large as not only are the birds shy, but trespass notices are numerous and the statements contained therein are usually backed either by an athletic looking farmer or a good-sized dog. Permission can be had to shoot over closed farms, but the hunter must be pretty well known before he can secure the permission. John H. Carlin, attorney-at-law, over Jackson County Bank. C. W. Henderson of Trail is spending a few days in Medford. B. F. Heidel has returned to Prospect after a visit in Medford. Dr. J. R. Barbour of Wollen was in Medford from his fruit farm Sunday. Mrs. D. A SHREWD SHOPPER.

The Little Play by Which She Won Attentive Service. "Chicago people certainly have the knack of getting on," a shopper said. "In the suit department of a big store I met a Chicago woman who had been in New York less than a week. She said she wasn't buying anything; had just come to get the lay of the land. In the process of getting it she stopped a cashgirl and said: "Is that Miss Blake selling white linen skirts to that fat woman? I understand you have a Miss Blake in the department." "No; that is Miss Barton," said the cashgirl. "The Chicago woman wrote the name in her address book. Then she showed me the names of saleswomen in several other stores. "This is only a preliminary to real shopping," she said. "It pays to take the extra trouble. If I expect to buy more than $5 worth of anything at a strange store I learn beforehand the name of the saleswoman whose looks I like best. Then when I go back to buy I can say, as I shall do here tomorrow, 'I would like Miss Barton to wait on me,' and, although Miss Barton has never set eyes on me, the fact that I can call her name gives her the impression that she must have sold me a $100 dress at some time, and get twice as good service as I would get if I knew nobody by name."—New York Sun.

THE HOPEFUL ATTITUDE.

It Helps One In Striving to Realize His Ambition. There is a tremendous power in the habit of expectancy, the conviction that we shall realize our ambition, that our dreams shall come true, says Orion Sweet Marden in Success Magazine. There is no uplifting habit like that of carrying an expectant, hopeful attitude, of expecting that our heart yearnings will be matched with realities; that things are going to turn out well and not ill; that we are going to succeed; that, no matter what may or may not happen, we are going to be happy. There is nothing else so helpful as the carrying of this optimistic, expectant attitude—the attitude which always looks for and expects the best, the highest, the happiest—and never allowing oneself to get into the pessimistic, discouraged mood. Believe with all your heart that you will do what you were made to do. Never for an instant harbor a doubt of this. Drive it out of your mind if it seeks an entrance. Entertain only the friend thoughts or ideas of the things you are bound to achieve. Reject all thought enemies, all discouraging moods—everything which would even suggest failure or unhappiness.

Ingratitude. "You remember dat guy, Jim Burke?" asked an irate Bowers denizen. "He's dat stiff dat's doin' time up der river—Sing Sing—bolginary—ten years. Well, you know all I done fer dat stiff. When he was pinched didn't I put up der coin fer der lawyers? Didn't I pay der witnesses? Sure I did. De oder day I tinks I'll just go an' see dat munt just t' leave him know his friends an' tied de can on 'im. So I drives out to de jail an' goes into de warden's office, an' he says I gatter send me card in. Me card! D'ye get dat? Well, anyway, I writes me name on a piece o' paper, an' a guy takes it in to Jim Burke, an' what d' you tink dat stiff tells dat guy to tell me?" "I've no idea," said the listener. "He tells him," concluded the angry one. "er tell me dat he ain't in!"—Success Magazine.

Women in a Sailboat. There is just one place on a sailboat for women. That is the cockpit. Remember that and keep them there, even if it takes a somewhat pointed request. The average woman on a boat is not happy unless she is taking risks by sitting out on deck or on top of the cabin or going forward of the mast. Warn her and she laughs at you. She does not know that she is endangering herself. Less than a year ago I saw two women knocked overboard in a heavy sea because they insisted on sitting on top of the cabin despite the protests of the man who was sailing the boat. He himself was a greenhorn and let his boat jibe, the boom clearing the top of the cabin before any one could say Jack Robinson.—Outing.

Had a Better Story. "Did you see the account of that flash of lightning that burned the hair from a boy's head without otherwise hurting him?" "I did," answered the cheerful liar, "and I was pained to note the incompleteness of the story. Now, I happen to know of a case that is really remarkable. The lightning entered a barber's shop and not only undertook the task of singeing a man's hair, but is rung up the proper amount on the cash register."—Outing.

Fear of Revenge. "Why are you crying, my little man?" "Cos I don't want to go to school." "But why not?" "Cos sister jilted the schoolmaster last night!"—London Opinion.

Advertising. Adversity has been the means of making many men famous, but advertising is still in the lead.—Pittsburg Press.

Why Not Woman's Suffrage?

(An address given recently at the Y. M. C. A. hall in Portland by Clarence True Wilson, D. D.) When two armies face each other in the battle the army of aggression, before it can engage the main body, must drive in the skirmish lines of the enemy. The woman's suffrage propaganda has thrown out certain skirmish lines in the public thought and these must be driven in before we can come to the main argument. First, then, those who claim that the ballot is women's right quote from the Declaration of Independence that "Taxation without representation is tyranny." But the quotation is not in point, for that sentiment was uttered with no possible reference to individual voters, male or female. It was a declaration of the representatives of the 13 colonies that unless these colonies could have a representative in the parliament and in the cabinet to protect their interests King George should ask us to pay duty. It had no reference to the casting of ballots, for men voted in every colony, but it was a declaration that one government ought not to tax another without due representation.

In order to make it refer to woman's suffrage it would have to be proven that women are not now properly represented by their husbands, fathers or brothers; that the government does not protect them in their property interests, and that they do not get value received for their money. The question of voting has no reference to the paying of taxes. We pay our taxes in return for the protection to life and property, by the laws of a civilized nation. Some men who have no property vote and many who have no vote pay large taxes. Numerous young men and women, heirs to large estates, pay immense sums to the government, but have no vote. Corporations pay immense sums in taxes, but have no vote. Persons residing in foreign lands or who have lived in this country only a few years pay taxes, but have no vote. In fact, voting has no reference to taxes. Oregon State Association Opposed to the Extension of the Suffrage to women. MRS. FRANCIS J. BAILEY, President. (Paid advertisement)
