

SUBURBAN GOSSIP

Central Point Items

It is common talk on the streets today that Lynn Purdin has made arrangements to move the Central Point Globe to Medford. Your correspondent does not give the story as authentic, inasmuch as Mr. Purdin has not been called upon to affirm or deny the report.

General Manager O'Brien and General Ticket and Passenger Agent William McMurray, after being entertained for two hours Wednesday evening by Mayor Leever and his committee, expressed themselves as highly pleased with Central Point and gave assurance that we are to have a new depot as soon as the work can be reached and at the farthest not later than next summer.

W. A. Cochran of South Dakota is here visiting his mother, Mrs. A. E. Cochran, and his sister, Mrs. W. E. Alexander, and other relatives who live in and near Central Point.

E. L. Chase of Webster City, Ia., is here visiting his daughter, Mrs. M. R. England. Mr. Chase is a prominent business man of Webster City.

Mrs. Anna Sprague Smith, recently of Boston, Mass., has purchased two fine residence lots in the Pattison addition from W. A. Cowley. It is understood that Mrs. Smith will at once erect a fine home on the ground and become a permanent resident of Central Point.

W. C. Owen is greatly improving his residence property and is getting ready to mow a lawn which was planted only six weeks ago.

John Orville of Bremerton, Wash., is in the valley looking for a location for a law office. Mr. Orville has excellent recommendations from Bremerton, Seattle and Tacoma. He rather thinks that he will locate in Jacksonville, but has not as yet reached a permanent decision.

Charles H. Harmon, the San Jose artist, was in town a few minutes Tuesday evening, being on his way to Butte Falls, where he will make scenic sketches for a painting.

Mrs. Charles Gillette of Ashland was in the city Friday, the guest of Mrs. J. W. Merritt.

H. Von der Hellen, republican nominee for state senator, was looking after his political fences in this vicinity Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Lester Davis of Ashland is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Davis, of this city.

R. H. Cornelius, local agent of the Southern Pacific company, has moved his family into his new and handsome bungalow, recently completed, on Manzanita street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Neal were in from the ranch Friday transacting legal and other business.

Drs. Anderson and Polnitz performed a most successful surgical operation on Arthur Moore, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Moore, Friday. The operation was the removal of enlarged tonsils.

Another large shipment of machinery was received today for the Bear Creek Cement Pipe & Block company.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bradley have rented their Oak street home and have removed to their new cottage, recently completed, in Oak Park addition.

J. W. Myers, democratic nominee for county commissioner, is making a vigorous campaign and is gaining ground throughout this end of the county, and it looks to a non-partisan, who is ensconced amid the Alpine boughs of a monarch of the forest, as though Myers is rapidly reaching the twig that supports the plum.

Eagle Point Eaglets

—By—
A. C. Howlett.

K. Thomson, one of the civil engineers on the P. & E. railway, spent the night with us last Friday and the next morning procured a rig at the Sunnyside stable, went to Butte Falls and returned as far as Derby, where he was met by Roy Smith, who brought the team home.

The same night Messrs. J. C. Johnson, who is teaching in the Big Butte district; Professor Wright and Mrs. Barrett, Butte Falls teachers; Miss Edith Graham of the Higginbotham district, and Mrs. Foster, who is teaching on Trail creek, all spent the night here and the next morning all except Professor Wright took the different stages for their respective homes, Mr. Wright going up on horseback, as there was not room in the stage. They all had been to Grants Pass to attend the teachers' institute. They reported having had a royal good time.

Elmer Spencer and Mrs. Smoot of Dudley came out on Friday and Saturday took a team from the Sunnyside stable, went to Medford and back on Saturday and Sunday morning took passage on the work train for Derby.

Walter Wood came in last Friday with a huge bear that he had killed on the north side of Round Top. It was so large that it took five men to put it on the horse to bring it in and the poor horse almost gave out under the immense weight.

Scott Claspill, one of the business men of Butte Falls, was a pleasant caller this week; also Mr. Marcy, another one of the Butte Falls merchants, called on his way to Medford to buy goods.

There seems to be some stir in the land circles around Eagle Point, Mr. W. M. Woodward being here, representing Mr. Hamilton, who bought the William Ulrich place, and is getting some interest manifested in the subject, and the knowing ones are of the opinion that there will be some changes here in that line in the near future.

There was a deal in real estate in this neighborhood a few days ago. James H. Smith of Chicago, who bought a 20-acre tract of land off the old Moomay place, has bought what is known as the Wilson place, lying east of and joining the old Dr. Pace place, containing 20 acres, and one-half is planted to Newtown and Spitzenberg apples; consideration, $2500.

G. H. Eades and N. A. Clark came out Sunday and took in a load of the things belonging to Mr. Guthrie, formerly of the firm of Tronson & Guthrie.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Henry Childreth, October 16, 1910, a young blacksmith.

Rev. W. H. Jones, a Presbyterian minister, recently from Bellingham, Wash., came out on the Butte Falls stage last Monday after his family. He is in charge of the church at Butte Falls, where he expects to reside.
