HOW ONE YOUNG MAN MADE GOOD.

THE best possible answer to the Oregonian's attack upon Oswald West, anti-assembly candidate for governor, is the following tribute, under the caption, "How One Young Man Made Good In Public Life," taken from the Oregonian's editorial columns before the campaign began:

"Oswald West, formerly state land agent and now a member of the railroad commission by virtue of appointment by the governor, is recognized all over the state as a young man who has 'made good' in public service. This recognition he has attained by the aggressive spirit he displays in taking up any work that may be assigned to him. Where many others in official position would have been content to let things drift along in well-worn ruts and in accordance with out of date customs, he has been prompt and persistent in efforts to establish a better order of things. Because he found practices in force was not the slightest reason why he should continue them. If they were good, very well; but if not good, they must make way for the better. Whether the desirable thing can be done he seldom, if ever, stops to inquire. He proceeds upon the theory that a thing can't be done without trying, and he makes the effort. Everybody told him he couldn't secure convictions in the state land grant cases, and he didn't but he made a try at it and at least brought to light the facts as to the manner in which the state lands had been purchased. The only reason he didn't secure convictions was that the criminal laws did not cover the violations of the land laws. His aggressiveness disclosed the laxity of the criminal laws.

"West is an aggressive member of the railroad commission. He does not worry himself over the question whether the commission has the power to take proposed action for the benefit of patrons of a railroad. If it is something that ought to be done, he believes in doing it, and letting the other fellow do the worrying. Legal obstructions have no terrors for him. If shippers make a complaint he believes in trying it on the merits first, leaving the railroads to raise the question of law if it be found that a cause for complaint existed. There are scores of young men in official positions in Oregon—city, county and state offices—who could win recognition as West has if they were willing to undertake reforms which they admit should be inaugurated, but which they hesitate to attempt because they doubt whether anything can be done."

IS YOUR CONGRESSMAN FOR OR AGAINST YOU?

EVERYBODY'S Magazine for November contains an article that every voter should read, under the caption, "Choose Your Congressman." A portion of it is as follows:

"We used to think that the remedy was to put somebody in jail, to levy a twenty-nine million dollar fine, or to change some charter or amend some law. Now we see that, as Mr. Roosevelt says, we must abolish Privilege; we must repeal all the privileges that are created by law. That is a long process, and necessarily a slow one, but we can begin it now.

"How? "By going to the polls on November 8 and voting for men who will represent us; or, if there are no candidates that represent us, then we must defeat those representatives, regardless of party, who have shown by their records that they represent not us, but—Privilege.

"This is setting up a new standard in American politics; it is applying the test, not of personal character, but of representative character, to a man; it is asking, not whether he is honest, but whether he is true to the people. And by way of example the records of representatives in the last congress have been studied, and lists made of them. In these lists of men condemned upon their records will be found together good men and bad, honest and possibly dishonest. There has been no inquiry as to that. No inquiry whether a man has been conscientious. Undoubtedly some of those that should be defeated are thoughtful, studious, well meaning men. And the question of personal integrity in a man is by no means to be belittled. But the time has come to ask of our representatives another, equally essential question, viz.:

"What do they represent? "And so the congressman named below have been listed according to the answers they gave, themselves—by their votes—on roll calls in the house of representatives—to the question: "What do they represent? Privilege or the people? "IT" OR US?

"The following republicans supported Cannon and Cannonism. Through the organization of the house, and the preservation of the rules, they are responsible for the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. We do not attempt to pass on the honesty or integrity of these men, nor do we know the motives which prompted them in supporting Cannonism; but the roll call finds them on the side of Privilege. To the voters of a district familiar with the declarations, pledges, or character of these men (some of whom have been defeated at the primaries since this was written) this record is furnished to aid them to a choice which should be influenced by some consideration for the American people as a nation."

And in the list of system republicans appears the name of Willis C. Hawley of the First Congressional District.

STRUGGLE FOR GUN; HUSBAND IS KILLED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 25.—Frank C. Emery, 40, is dead, and Mrs. Emery is booked at the city jail today on a charge of murder, the result of a struggle between the couple for possession of a .32 caliber revolver, which was discharged with fatal results. According to the statement of Emery's mother, the younger woman, during a dispute with her husband, seized the revolver and ran into another room. Her husband, evidently thinking that she intended to shoot herself, grappled with her and during the struggle the weapon was discharged, Emery being instantly killed.

MILLER TO DEFENSE OF MRS. CRIPPEN

LONDON, Oct. 25.—A plain statement of the conditions in the Crippen home at the time Dr. Crippen alleged his wife was friendly with Bruce Miller of Chicago, was given the United Press today by Miller.

"I first met Mrs. Crippen at a dinner in London," said Miller. "Our relations were always proper. I kissed her only once and that was in jest. I knew that, although jolly and fun loving, she stood on high moral ground, trusting her husband self."

"I visited her at Crippen's home when he was there and he knew our platonic friendship. "I came to England to vindicate the character of one who is not here to speak for herself. I bear no grudge against Crippen for using my name. It was like a drowning man catching at a straw."

JONES SAYS HE WILL NOT APPOINT WM. ULRICH

Jacksonville, Or., Oct. 25, 1910. To the Editor:

During the past week my attention has repeatedly been called to a certain line of argument that is being advanced to the voters of the county to the effect that, should I be re-elected to the office of sheriff that I would at once appoint William Ulrich as deputy sheriff.

This statement is not true, and I respectfully ask space in your columns to contradict it. I have not promised to appoint Mr. Ulrich as deputy sheriff, and I will not appoint him as such deputy should I be re-elected at the coming general election.

During a portion of my first term of office Mr. Ulrich served as a special deputy in the office, performing special duty at such times as the work in the office required extra help.

I desire to make it plain and go on record at this time as stating squarely that in the event that I am re-elected, sheriff that Mr. Ulrich will not be a deputy sheriff during my term of office. Yours very truly, W. A. JONES, Sheriff. tf

SAYS WIFE COMPLAINED THOUGH BURIED LONG

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 25.—Alleging that his wife appeared to him in a dream and told him that Eastering & Whiting, undertakers, had substituted a wooden box for the metal-lined casket in which she was supposed to have been buried, E. B. Bridgeman today is plaintiff in a suit against the firm for $50,000 damages. Bridgeman declared that his wife came to him in a vision three successive nights, causing him to investigate the story he said she told. He then filed the suit.

The undertakers declared that the box was substituted with Bridgeman's knowledge and that allowance was for the difference in price made in the bill for their services, which they say he paid without protest.

Sherman Passes Taft Up.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—James Schoolcraft Sherman, passing through Washington today en route to North Carolina, called at the war and navy departments, but failed to pay official respects to President Taft, and gossip at that suspected slight started immediately.

Many believed that the vice-president purposely avoided the portly presence at the White House because of his "bawl out" by Taft recently at the time of the fight for the temporary chairmanship of the republican state convention at Saratoga, N. Y. Taft, at that time, practically charged Sherman with misrepresentation and since the publication of the criticism Taft and Sherman have not communicated, so far as is generally known.

What the Home Rule Bill [328] Really Is

It gives cities and towns the right to have saloons or no saloons. It gives the people who live in cities the right to vote on and decide this question themselves. It puts the control of the liquor traffic into the hands of the voters of each precinct, so that every residential district in a city or town is protected. It means real local option. All state criminal laws are maintained. Under it the farmer has the same protection he now enjoys. It is a law fitted to local conditions as they exist in every section of the state. It gives absolute control of the liquor traffic, particularly in towns and cities, where it is most needed. It will prevent the county from wiping out the city vote on city measures. It is a law which makes prohibition possible where wanted, and impossible where not wanted. It means regulation which regulates.

MODERN HAIR DRESSING

has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making the old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.
