Mills Close Down.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 26.—Five out of seven tie-cutting mills on the north fork of the Lewis river, in Washington, have ceased operations and the remaining two will close down next month, according to an announcement today.

The general close-down is due to the fact that the railroads have purchased only a few ties recently on account of the retrenchment policy adopted not long ago on account of financial unrest in the east.

CHINAMAN DIES ON SOUTHBOUND TRAIN

T. Sam, a Chinese who, in company with another compatriot, started from Gervais last night on No. 15, died on the train between Gold Hill and Central Point this morning and his remains were taken off the train here.

His companion could speak little English and all that could be learned from him was that the other Chinese had been ill and he was accompanying the sick man to San Francisco for treatment. At Grants Pass Sam was examined by a physician and his condition was found fairly good. However, he began to fail shortly after and died before reaching Central Point.

THOUSANDS LOSE VOTE IN OKLAHOMA

GUTHRIE, Okla., Oct. 26.—Up-holding the "grandfather clause" attendant to the Oklahoma state constitution, the supreme court today handed down a decision that will disfranchise thousands of Indians and negroes. The court holds that the amendment puts an absolute educational requirement on voters or descendants of voters who did not vote or had no right to the ballot in 1886. Such a requirement, the court holds, is within the power of the state. The decision probably will be carried to the federal courts.

The clause was voted on at the August primaries and the decision today is considered as absolutely assuring a democratic victory in the state at the coming elections. The decision will be appealed by republican leaders.

FOREST FIRE HERO HERE FOR TREATMENT

Harry A. Young, son of H. L. Young of Brownsboro, who, while fighting fire in the Ashland reserve sustained severe injuries to his eyes, was brought to Medford Wednesday for treatment.

The smoke and heat had caused inflammation and ulcers formed under the eyelids in consequence.

On recommendation of Dr. Holt of Eagle Point he was brought to Medford Tuesday to be placed under the care of a specialist. While the inflammation has been reduced, expert treatment is needed to prevent injury to the young man's sight. The fact that he sustained his injuries in a battle against the flames gained for him a "favorably recommended" report to Washington from his chief in the local forest.

TRIBES ON ALEUTIAN ISLANDS DYING OUT

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 26.—Tuberculosis, measles and pneumonia are responsible for an unusually large number of deaths among the natives in the Aleutian Islands and remedial measures are operative according to Captain Quinlan of the revenue cutter Tahoma today.

The Tahoma has just returned from a cruise in Behring sea. Captain Quinlan said that he believed that all the tribes now scattered throughout the islands should be assembled at some central point where they could be given medical attention. Unless the tribes can be given medical aid they are threatened with extinction through disease.

WALTER HAYTER IS FREED FROM CUSTODY

Before Judge Neil Tuesday afternoon Walter Hayter was released from custody on a charge made by California courts of obtaining property, to-wit: 600 head of sheep, under false pretenses. Requisition for the defendant was honored by the Oregon authorities, but a writ of habeas corpus was served on the sheriff of Merced county on his arrival and the matter brought up before Judge Neil, who decided that the complaint was insufficient and therefore sustained the writ.

The facts as brought out are as follows:

The allegations of the complaint state that they represented that they were agents of Phillip Steffens, a stock buyer, and that they would pay to the owner of the sheep $2700. The facts are that James Hayter and not Walter Hayter purchased the sheep and promised to pay the owner $2700 for them. Walter Hayter was merely an employe of James Hayter and had nothing to do with the purchase of the sheep, merely driving them to the train, and assisted in shipping them. The money paid for them was paid to James Hayter. But Walter Hayter was arrested, charged with obtaining the property by false representations, with his brother, James Hayter. A promissory note was given by James Hayter for the stock and on which is paid some $700. No part of the money was ever paid to Walter Hayter for the sheep, it appearing that he never received any of the money from his brother and that he had nothing to do with the transaction.
