BRILLIANT FINISH PLANNED FOR NEW YORK CAMPAIGN

BOTH SIDES ARE SANGUINE; HOT FIGHT IS NOW ON

Republican Leaders Admit That Roosevelt Campaign Tour Has Not Been Unqualified Success—Personal Influence Has Not Brought Response Expected.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—With both sides claiming victory, leaders of the democrats and republicans are planning a brilliant finish for the New York state campaign. Cabinet officers will follow former President Roosevelt on the stump for the republicans and Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri, minority leader in the house, and a number of democratic senators will tour the state in the interest of their party.

"I believe we have Tammany and Wall street on the run," was the confident assertion today of Theodore Roosevelt. "The election of Henry L. Stimson for governor is certain. If the signs which point to his victory should be misleading, however, and we should lose, we will go on fighting the unholy alliance of dishonest business and dirty politics."

Democrats Confident.

The democratic leaders are equally confident of success. State Chairman Huppuch predicts the election of John A. Dix and the other nominees on the state ticket and predicts that the next United States senator from New York will be a democrat.

"Dix will be elected," he said, "and the democrats probably will control the state legislature, insuring that the successor of C. M. Dewey in the senate will be a democrat. There also will be substantial gains in the congressional delegation for the democrats."

The prediction of Chairman Prentice of the republicans was as sweeping, though less specific.

"I can give you no figures," he said, "but I am confident that the state will remain republican."

"Silent Vote."

Confidential reports to the leaders of both parties are said to give little indication of the probable trend of the "silent vote" and this is causing the leaders some worry. That this vote is to be a big factor in the result in New York managers for both parties admit. It is to bring as much influence as possible on the "silent voters" that the whirlwind finish has been planned.

Republican leaders admit guardedly that the Roosevelt campaign tour has not been an unqualified success. In several places his audiences were small and unenthusiastic. His personal influence did not bring out the response that was expected in some parts of the state, and, though he met with rousing receptions in other places, the vote-getting quality of his campaign is something of a puzzle.

During the closing week of the campaign the administration forces will flood the state and will endeavor to arouse enthusiasm for the party. The democrats will answer with as much spirit and the close of the campaign promises to be exceptionally hot.

THIRTIETH AVIATOR PLUNGES TO DEATH

ROME, Oct. 27.—An aeroplane in which Lieutenant Sagliette was maneuvering fell here today, carrying the aviator to death. Sagliette was planning toward the ground when his machine turned over. The driver was unable to right it and the aeroplane fell, crushing him under the bent framework and the heavy engine.

Sagliette's death is the 30th in the history of aeroplaning. Lieutenant Selfridge, U. S. A., who was killed at Fort Meyer, Va., was the first victim of the aeroplane.

New York's Two Candidates For the Governorship

PURE FOOD CASE FILED AGAINST LOCAL CREAMERY

Was in Habit of Reducing California Cream After Arrival Here—When California Reduced Then Standard Here Fell Below That Required.

Another case is being investigated by the district attorney's office, brought under the Oregon pure food law. This involves the shipment of cream from a California creamery to the Southern Oregon creamery, which was alleged to contain a certain percentage of butter fat, and after was reduced by the receiver and sold as cream to a lower percentage than is permissible under the Oregon law. The receivers claim that they had been receiving a grade of cream from the California concern of a certain percentage and had been in the habit of reducing it to a few points of the standard prescribed by the Oregon law, by the addition of fresh milk thereto. In the case now being investigated the cream was not found to test to the standard and the dairymen claim it was because the product sent him by the California creamery was of a lower grade than it had been heretofore and that he had no means of detecting the change.

EMPLOYEES OF WELLS-FARGO GO OUT ON A STRIKE

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 27.—Employees of Wells Fargo and the Adams Express companies struck today, following the example of the wagon helpers of the American Express company, who already are on strike.

Many small riots occurred today, when the companies attempted to move traffic. A general strike of teamsters is threatened unless the companies accede to the demands of the men.

JIM HILL DAY IS TO BE OUTLINED AT MEETING SOON

Next Session of Commercial Club Will Be Devoted to Great Degree to Outlining Plans for Celebration—To Commemorate Completion.

The suggestion recently made to hold a "Jim Hill" day in the Rogue River valley to commemorate the completion of the Pacific & Eastern line to Butte Falls has met with instantaneous favor at the hands of local business men and at the next Commercial club meeting, which will be held November 2, plans will be outlined and plans discussed for a proper observance of such a day. The officials of the Hill line, including James J. Hill and John F. Stevens, will be asked to attend, and the valley will endeavor to show its appreciation of the incoming Hill line.

ROGERS NOT YET READY TO SERVE SUBPOENAS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Earl Rogers, after a conference with Chief of Police Seymour, this afternoon, announced that no subpoenas would be served by him in San Francisco and vicinity until the Los Angeles grand jury had decided whether the Times building was blown up with dynamite.

He added that if this should be determined he would serve subpoenas only on persons whose names had been mentioned in connection with the investigation that had followed the explosion. This would include the officials and employees of the Giant Powder company, the men who own and rented the launch Peerless and the men and women acquainted with those who purchased the giant gelatine at Giant, which it is alleged was used in the destruction of the Times.

JUDGES FOR CONTEST CHOSEN.

John S. Orth, cashier Medford National bank; W. H. McGowan, of Weeks-McGowan Co., and William F. Isaacs of The Toggery will be the judges who will make the final count of the votes cast in the Mail Tribune's great contest.

The ballot-box was sealed Monday evening and all votes deposited now will remain in the box until 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon, at which time the above well-known business men will break the seal on the ballot box and begin the final count.

The closing of the contest and the awarding of the prizes is not in the hands of the Mail Tribune or anyone connected with it.

ONLY TWO MORE DAYS—HAVE YOU HELPED HER YET?

GRECIAN REBELS IN CONTROL

Advices Received in Berlin Say That Revolutionists in Greece Have Gained Upper Hand—Movement Has Long Been Expected by the European Powers.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The most serious crisis in the history of Greece has occurred today and that the revolutionists are in control of the city of Athens is the belief expressed in financial circles in Berlin.

There was a persistent rumor to that effect early today and later in the day it was confirmed in private dispatches to parties having large interests in Greece.

One dispatch that makes any pretense of going into the events of the day stated that an attack was made this morning on the parliament building by a mob that seemed bent on the destruction of the government buildings. They were rushed by armed constabulary and there was an interchange of shots. Several persons were killed or wounded.

SHROCK MAKES FULL REPORT ON CONDITION HERE

Deputy State Food and Dairy Inspector Shrock has made the following report to Dr. J. E. Shearer, city health officer, regarding local conditions. Mr. Shrock's report follows:

Dr. J. E. Shearer, city health officer, Medford, O.—Dear Sir: After having inspected your city dairies supplying the people of Medford with milk and also the slaughter houses of your city, I beg leave to submit the following report:

I found the dairy owned and operated by J. W. Snider in exceptional good and sanitary condition. His score, as shown by the score card in use in this state, shows his dairy to be one of the highest scoring dairies in the state, with the exception of the two certified dairies selling milk in Portland. His cows appear to be in a healthy condition and are kept clean. His milkhouse is white-washed and screened against flies. All the utensils were scrupulously clean at the time of my visit.

The other large dairy, owned and operated by J. C. Calhoun, scored considerably lower, but with the changes contemplated, some of which are already begun, his dairy will have a very creditable scoring. His cows appear healthy, with the exception of two, which he has promised to remove at once.

The three slaughter houses visited are those owned by Bybee & Heil, Nichols & Ashpole and Warner, Wortman & Gore.

Messrs. Bybee & Heil have taken the precaution of providing a screened cooling room where carcasses are hung free from flies after slaughter. They also have taken the precaution to take proper care of hides and glue stock so that no offensive odors come from them. Their hog pen and offal are kept too close to slaughter house at present, but plans are on foot to remove them.

The other two slaughter houses, like many found throughout the state, are not provided with cooling-rooms and offal has been allowed to accumulate until the odors are unbearable. Lack of drainage at the Nichols & Ashpole slaughter house helps to intensify the nuisance.

These conditions have come about through carelessness and neglect and when the owners' attentions were called to the matter they promised a hearty co-operation and will make the needed improvements.

I found a number of violations of the pure food law in your city, but trust that the eight prosecutions within the last week will insure a closer adherence to the law. The eight prosecutions were as follows: Three cases of short-weight butter; three cases of adulterated meat by the use of poisonous preservatives; one case of adulterated lard; one case of adulterated cream.

M. S. SHROCK.

WILD MAN, WHO HAS LONG TERRORIZED APPLIGATE, CAUGHT

Clothed in rags, his hair and beard long and unkempt, and hiding like a wild animal in the brush, Milton Carter, the halfwitted young man who has been terrorizing the country west of Jacksonville for past three weeks, and has committed numerous depredations, was captured at the junction of Poorman's and Forest creeks Wednesday evening by Alex. Watts, Lewis Eaton, K. Springer and John Matney. They had "jumped" the fugitive several miles away earlier in the day, and although he followed the backbone of the ridge, carrying nearly 100 pounds of stuff, and was followed by the party of horseback, he had reached his hiding place before the arrival of his pursuers. In spite of his great strength and endurance, however, he couldn't keep up the pace and was easily overpowered.

In the pack which he carried was part of a sack of flour, part of a side of bacon, baking powder, two frying pans, coffee pot and a miscellaneous assortment of cartridges, Pocket knives, a woman's beaded purse filled with shotgun shells and many other small articles pilfered from various cabins in the mountains from Footh creek to the head of Applegate. In addition he carried two guns, one a .30-caliber single-shot rifle and the other a 10-gauge shotgun.

Carter was born and raised in the wilds of the upper Applegate and has never been considered as having proper wits.

The shotgun was identified by its owner Thursday morning. John Donegan of Footh creek came into the sheriff's office on other business and casually remarked that somebody had stolen his gun a few days before. The size, factory number and all corresponded and Donegan will get his gun after Carter's fate is decided. Numerous guns and other small articles have been missed lately by residents of the scene of Carter's operations, and it is presumed that he has several caches of such articles in his mountain haunts. These will be sought for now that the seekers are certain that the half-wild dead shot is not roaming the woods.

RELIEF NOW UNDERWAY IN SO. ITALY

King Victor Emmanuel Visits Abodes of the Distressed and the Destitute and Causes Relief to Prevail, as Far as He Is Able—Greetings Given Him Are Pathetic.

NAPLES, Oct. 27.—King Victor Emmanuel today inspected the relief work undertaken by the authorities in the provinces of Naples and Salerno, where a maelstrom and hungry victims of Wednesday's volcanic eruption, tidal wave and earthquake are in need of aid.

The king, accompanied by the minister of public works, by several Italian admirals and minor officials, visited Cetera and other places on the Gulf of Salerno. The greetings given him by the sufferers were pathetic. Inspired by the presence of the king, refugees from the mountain towns who have hitherto refused to take part in the relief work, volunteered their services and aided the authorities in distributing the supplies that have arrived at Naples from Rome for the succor of the distressed.

Burying Bodies.

Gangs of men today were employed at Casa Micciola in burying bodies of sailors drowned while the storm raged. The carcasses of animals were collected in great heaps along the shore and burned.

Scientists from the observatory on Mount Vesuvius returned to their quarters today following the disturbances within the volcano, which had caused them to leave their posts. They reported that the river of lava which had descended the slope of the mountain in the observatory had not destroyed any portion of the building and that the instruments were intact.

The work of the local authorities is praised by the minister of the interior and it is probable that the government will confine its further efforts to aiding the distressed, to appropriating money to build homes for those whose houses were destroyed and reimbursing the farmers whose crops, orchards and vineyards were wiped out by the mud and lava.

The warships in the bay of Naples withdrew their marines today and the civil authorities again took up the work of policing the city. It is probable that the "flying squadrons" of relief will be broken up tonight and the vessels returned to their stations.

VICTORIA HAS $1,000,000 FIRE

Block of Business Structures Goes Up in Flames—High Wind Prevails—Yachts in Harbor Catch Fire From Burning Brands.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 27.—It is estimated today that $1,000,000 damage was sustained from a fire which, starting late last night, practically wiped out a block of business structures bounded by Government, Fort, Broad streets and Tronca alley, in the heart of Victoria, before the flames were brought under control early today.

With the exception of the Victoria Times building, the entire square is a mass of ruins. Only the shells of the burned buildings remained standing at sunrise. Although the Times building was flooded with water, the editors of the newspaper announced today that the paper would be issued as usual.

The fire started in Spencer's department store at 10:45 p. m., and soon spread to adjoining buildings, owing to the high wind that prevailed. Several yachts in the harbor caught fire from the flying brands and two of them were consumed.

The entire fire department and a number of troops from the garrison made a hard fight against the flames and through their efforts the conflagration was confined to one block. The Spencer department store was the heaviest loser. Its entire stock, valued at $250,000, was lost.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY AT WORK ON TIMES DISASTER

Chief Engineer Mulholland of Los Angeles Aqueduct Is Expert Witness—Exhibits May and Report—Rogers Will Be Witness.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 27.—The special grand jury called to investigate the destruction of the Times building October 1, assembled today to hear testimony in the grand jury room of the federal court. Witnesses called in the early session were W. H. Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles aqueduct, who was a member of the commission appointed by the city which returned a report that the explosion and fire that destroyed the Times building were caused by high explosives placed with evident intent. Coroner Calvin Hartwell also was a witness. Mulholland exhibited a map of the Times property and a sketch of the building, designed to show the extent of the damage done.

Deputy District Attorney G. C. Mac Comas will examine witnesses for the district attorney's office. When he was asked today whether Earl Rogers will appear before the jury as a prosecutor, he exploded: "No, he will not; he will be one of the witnesses."

Assembled in the corridors of the courthouse were a score of relatives of the men who lost their lives in the Times disaster.

WASSON WILL FILE LIBEL SUIT

Dr. W. B. Riley, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Who Denounced Rev. W. A. Wasson, Now in This City, Must Answer in Court for Calling Pastor "a Renegade"—Civil Suit.

Charges of criminal libel and a civil suit for heavy damages will be the result of the attack made from the pulpit of the White Temple last Monday night by Dr. W. B. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Minneapolis, who denounced Rev. W. A. Wasson of Grace Episcopal church, Riverhead, L. I., as a renegade pastor. According to a statement made here today by Dr. Wasson, he will begin proceedings against Dr. Riley upon his return to Portland the last of this week.

"Advantage was taken of my absence from Portland," he said "to begin a scurrilous attack upon my character and reputation—an attack altogether unwarranted and without the slightest foundation of fact. My attention was called to the libelous

RUNAWAY CAR DEALS DEATH TO LABORERS

Construction Car on Burlington Extension of United Railways Gets Away and Plunges Down Grade—Five Killed, Three More Will Die.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 27.—Five workmen are dead, three are probably fatally injured and twenty-five are suffering from minor injuries today as a result of a wild plunge of a construction car on the Burlington extension of the United Railways down the west slope of Tualatin hill last night.

Near the end of the grade the car collided with a flatcar which stood on the main track. Among those who probably cannot survive is C. C. Pruitt, the brakeman.

The dead are all Greek laborers. Among the 35 persons on the car when it started was a woman who cooked for the men and her two children. They were only slightly hurt. The injured were removed to the hospital.

The accident occurred at the construction camp. The men, the woman cook and her two children were placed on the construction car near the west portal of the new tunnel through Tualatin hill, with the intention of moving them to a point a mile farther west, where a new construction camp was to be built. Another car was between the construction car and the locomotive.

article, quoted from the lips of Dr. Riley and appearing in the Oregonian, by Archdeacon Chambers of this diocese yesterday, and I immediately got in touch with Portland counsel regarding the matter. I have instructed that complaints be drawn up and proceedings will be taken in both the federal and state courts, if need be, to secure redress for an attack which is too cowardly and untruthful to be passed by unnoticed. Dr. Riley will be given opportunity without delay to prove these baseless charges before a court and jury. In the quoted interview appearing in the Oregonian, Dr. Riley did not dare to use my name directly, but no one can mistake the intent of his interference and innuendoes. These will be made the basis of the action to be brought."
