GOOD POLICY FOR THE PEOPLE.

CORPORATIONS and special interests are bi-partisan in politics. Wherever possible, they control both parties. They seek to dominate legislation for their own benefit; and switch support from one party to the other as occasion demands.

The party organization is a cloak whereby the system is enabled to elect whom it pleases. Regardless of party platforms, it is the candidate himself that the corporations rely upon. In republican states, they are republicans, in democratic states, democrats. One year they support the republican and the next year the democrat. Whichever candidate will serve the system's selfish interests they rely upon.

Why, then, should not the people be equally discriminating? Why should not the people support whichever party or candidate they can rely upon? If it has proved such good policy for the corporations to be bi-partisan, is it not equally good for the people? Two of the system's candidates come before the voters of this county-Jay Bowerman, the Southern Pacific attorney, assembly candidate for governor, and Willis C. Hawley, also assembly nominee, who, as congressman, voted for every measure wanted by the system.

Is it not good policy on the part of the people to support their opponents, as against these men who are receiving the active support of every corporate interest in the state and nation?

Messrs. Akins and Benton have had a serious time getting opened on account of the delay in the building, all of which was unavoidable, but a hindrance just the same.

The new store will fill a want in this community and add to the assortments of lines already here for which there is more demand than can be supplied.

The new store will occupy the two rooms at the north end of the St. Mark's building, with show windows on two sides. This will make one of the prettiest fronts in all southern Oregon, and the interior will be the lightest in this city. There is not a side, to beg that I give them back dark corner in the entire store.

The large stock of general merchandise carried by this store, including almost everything worn by man, woman or child, should gain for them a strong hold on the trade of this section right from the start. Not a person living within a radius of 20 miles but what will find many things that they could use at this store.

It will be up to the people of Medford to call on this new store Saturday and learn about the wonderful values they are offering. There is no doubt but what you will receive a hearty welcome, even though you may not find anything that you care to buy.

Messrs. Akins and Benton are pleasant men to meet and will be very pileased to have you call whenever you are down town.

The saloon is an absolute failure as a help to the individual or to the state. The 8th of November will again reveal the fact that the saloon stands condemned by the popular vote of the citizens of Jackson county. The saloon has had a long time to prove its worth. Let us have an equally fair chance to prove the worth of prohibition. The saloon by its friends is said to be indefensible. Alcohol is said by its friends to be useless and unnecessary to the human system.
