

BOULEVARD IS TO BE SURFACED

Ashland Rushing Work on Popular Driveway—Paving Is Bringing It Out to the Best Advantage—

ASHLAND, Nov. 10.—Now that the paving improvement is looming up on the boulevard, property owners can begin to realize the scope of the work and what it means in the way of substantial betterment. Although he figures respecting the big job have been given many times, they are repeated as a reminder of the extent of the paving area in that locality.

The limits on the boulevard work for this season at least, extend from the junction with Main to the east line of Carfield street, or practically opposite the Granite City hospital. There is really a double line of paving, running on the north and south sides of the street respectively, with a wide parkway in the center. Each paved section is 23 wide, the center parkway being 24 feet in width.

Up to Friday last the paving had been completed eastward as far as Morton street on the north side, and on Liberty street on the south side. Crushed rock is already distributed to the limits on one side of the street, while on the other grading operations are nearly completed ready for the material.

The curbing is practically finished. At each street intersection the curbing surrounding the parkway is rounded at the corners, a pleasing feature adding measurably to the general appearance. In fact, when the entire job is completed, these subdivisions of parkway lying between street intersections may be utilized for landscape effects—at least until that street railway comes along—or they may be reserved for strictly boulevard purposes, such as a broad city avenue specially designed for pleasure walking or driving, generally planted with trees, often in the center.

Certain it is that the boulevard is destined to become an ideal thoroughfare, and paving is bringing out to best advantage the substantial as well as attractive phases of street development.

All citizens should take a stroll out in that direction and witness the progress of a municipal enterprise, the benefits of which are not wholly confined to boulevard territory, but are rather a matter of town pride in general.

TWO LIVE ONES IN THE POLICE DRAGNET

The police gathered in eight violators of the peace and dignity of the city last night. Out of the bunch there were two live ones who had money enough to pay the fines assessed.

The others were invited to make their departure at once. The whole outfit had arrived in town yesterday and had proceeded to fill up—either as a celebration for the victory of the wets or to drown their sorrow on the victory of the dries—they were uncertain which—either result seemed a good excuse to them.

One chap was arrested in a rooming house for raising a rough-house. He disturbed the other inmates by parading the corridors in the "altogether" and declaring his ability to "lick his weight in wildcats." The roomers objected to this, and while the landlady was telephoning for the police they lined up along the hall and each one took a crack at the erratic person as he came by. When arraigned in court this morning he seemed to have recovered from his temporary wildness and Judge Caution, after viewing his countenance as Exhibit 1, concluded that he had had enough.

Fire Team is Intelligent.

"Tom" and "Jerry," the new fire team, pulled off a stunt Wednesday night for which they had not been trained and sprang a surprise on their trainers.

The colts have only been in training for about six weeks, but during that time have shown great intelligence and attitude for the work.

Wednesday evening they were being put through the drill, consisting of coming under the harness at the clang of the gong and then going back to their stalls. As the team was going back after one trial, an alarm came in from the outside. The horses were half way to their stalls at the time. When the alarm bell rang, quick as a flash both horses turned and were under the harness in an instant. "Nobody ever taught them that," say the fire boys, and Tom and Jerry are now the heroes of the fire house.

ASHLAND CLUB ELECT OFFICERS

G. G. Eubanks Elected President—Report of the Secretary Shows the Club to Be Doing Aggressive Work for Upholding Community.

ASHLAND, Or., Nov. 10.—The bone of contention at the semi-annual meeting of the Ashland Commercial club was the salary of the publicity manager, H. O. Frohbach. Six months ago the club created the office of publicity manager for one year with a salary of $200 per month and elected the secretary as such publicity manager, receiving no salary as secretary.

Some of the members took exception to doubling the salary of that official, and Mr. Frohbach brought the issue before the club for a decision. It was freely discussed along with the condition of the finances of the club, some of the members declaring the salary was more than the club's finances could support. The showing made by the secretary's report indicated that the club had prospered under Mr. Frohbach's regime and more than made good on salary and expense accounts.

As finally amended the proposition before the house was whether the salary of Mr. Frohbach for the next six months should be $200 per month. A ballot was taken and the result was in favor of the proposition, 25 to 14. The discussion was earnest, frank, sincere and respectful, and when it was decided the house was unanimous in re-electing Mr. Frohbach secretary.

The following officers were elected:

George G. Eubanks, president.
Homer Billings, vice-president.
H. O. Frohbach, secretary.
J. W. McCoy, treasurer.

Trustees—C. B. Watson, six months; Louis Dodge, 12 months, and H. G. Enders, 18 months.

PINCHOT TALKS OF ELECTION

Overwhelming Rebuke for Reactionaries "and Unmistakable Demand for Kind of Progress for Which Insurgents Stand, Declares Chief.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—"The lesson taught by the election is clear," said Gifford Pinchot today, in commenting on the showing made throughout the country by the insurgent branch of the republican party. "Taken as a whole, it is an overwhelming rebuke of the reactionaries and one unmistakable sign for a demand for the kind of progress for which the insurgents stand. The returns I have seen show that not a single insurgent candidate for governor, with two exceptions, failed of election, and that every standpatter was beaten. The congressional elections tell the same story. The only serious resistance to the republicans was made by men frankly insurgents. Where administration figured in the campaign, as in Ohio and New York, the democrats won. Where the republicans were not supported by the administration, as in California, Kansas and Wisconsin, the republicans won.

"The people are tired of government by big corporations for their own profit. Clearly the people resent the failure of the republicans to stand between them and the domination of the big interests, and they believe that congress did not keep faith with them regarding the tariff.

"When a republican congress and a republican president approved the iniquitous schedules of the Payne tariff law they made their own defeat inevitable. Refusing to relieve the oppressed people caused the people to turn temporarily democratic. Evidently the republican party must be reorganized along progressive lines or quite business altogether."
