

"Prince of Pilsen" Saturday

"The Prince of Pilsen" has contributed more to the gaiety of nations than any other musical comedy of American authorship. Under Manager Henry W. Savage's directing care it has covered five several times the theatrical highways of the United States and Canada. Still under his direction it invaded England, played 18 weeks at the Shaftsbury theater, London, and for 18 months has been, and still is, one of the most successful attractions touring the English provinces. It was taken to South Africa by a company organized to present a number of American musical comedies there, and was made the opening attraction and scored a hit such as had never been made there before. The continued popularity and exhaustless vitality of this musical comedy is ascribed to the rare combination it presents of tuneful airs, lyrics of striking beauty and imagery, and a story in which hilarious comedy is a natural corollary to its incidents and development.

When "The Prince of Pilsen" is shown here in the all-star cast at the Medford theater Saturday, November 12, Jess Dandy will be seen in the role of Hans Wagner, which he has played more than a thousand times. The cast will offer Edwin Moran, Iver Anderson, Walter L. Catlett, Robert O'Connor, Frances Cameron, Vera Stanley, Dorothy Belmont, Lillian Lawson, Miss Olive North, Wallace Berry and others, in lending characters and the customary Savage quality of choruses and orchestra factory.

Yale Team Improves.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 10.—Reports that the Yale football squad is undergoing a rejuvenation are said to be causing the Princeton coaches a good deal of worry, although little doubt is expressed, but that Princeton will beat Yale when the two meet next Saturday. It is reported that Yale has materially strengthened her line, which was its weakness earlier in the season.

Moran-Attell Draw.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 10.—Little interest is expressed today over the annual reunion of Owen Moran and Abe Attell last night, who fought their fourth draw fight in this city. Both men put up a good exhibition, but each was too clever to permit the other to gain an advantage in the six rounds. Both
