

Morgan's Nephew Advanced To Power In English Cabinet

While members of J. P. Morgan's firm are being advanced in diplomatic and political circles in the United States, the king of Wall street is entering into English political circles via a nephew. The appointment of Lewis V. Harcourt to secretary of state of the colonies is a long stride for the young man and one that was held up owing to his connection with J. Pierpont Morgan. Eleven years ago Mr. Harcourt married Miss Ethel Burns, the eldest daughter of Walter H. Burns and a niece of Mr. Morgan. The salary of the new secretary will be $25,000 a year.

GRAHAM BACKED UP IN DECISION

National Commission Affirms His Rulings in Helting Case—Portland Cares But Little, as Pennant Was Won in Spite of It.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 18.—Judge Thomas Graham, president of the Pacific Coast Baseball league, refused to comment today on the decision handed down by the national association affirming his rulings against Manager McCredie of Portland in the Helting case. According to the national board, both McCredie and the management of the Spokane club will have to pay a fine of $100 for their manipulation of the Helting case. "The decision speaks for itself," said Judge Graham. "I have no desire to crow over it. I tried to act according to the rules as I saw them, and the sustaining of my judgment shows that I interpreted them correctly. That is all I have to say."

PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 19.—When Portland fans today read that the ruling of Judge Graham of the Pacific Coast league, in the Gus Helting case, had been affirmed by the national board, they grinned and bore it with a spirit of true Christian resignation, due probably to the fact that Portland won the pennant despite the decision that cost the Beavers three games. McCredie, owner of the club, did not smile, however, for the board fined the Spokane club and Portland each $100 for "farming out a player." Helting, who belonged to the Beavers, was sent by McCredie to play in the Northwestern league and after was brought back to play with the Beavers toward the end of the season.

Judge Graham ruled that Portland had no right to do this after Manager Wolverton of the Oakland team had protested three games which Portland had won. President Graham declared these games forfeited. The national board holds that Graham's ruling was correct in every particular.

ART EXHIBIT IS MONEY MAKER

Pictures Chosen to Place in School Rooms of the City—Miss Snedecor Did Splendid Work in Connection With Affair.

At the close of the art exhibit Saturday afternoon it was found that the receipts from the sale of tickets was $143, and as the expenses of the exhibit were only $7, a balance of $136 was cleared. This money, according to agreement with the Elston people, is to be invested in pictures to be chosen from the collection. A committee was chosen from the Greater Medford club and the public school teachers to select pictures which would be suitable for all the schools, as it was decided to present as many as possible to the schools. Twenty-seven copies were selected, which will give each room in every school a picture and four for the auditorium of the high school. A picture was also selected for the new public library.

It is due to Miss Snedecor, the art teacher of the schools, to a great degree, that such an interest was taken in the exhibit, as she gave to each teacher two artists to study up, and the best picture of each artist was brought before the pupils of each room, so that when the children came they had an idea of at least two pictures in the collection. All the pupils have been working for the past two weeks selling tickets. The Washington school sold $75.60 in tickets and the North $39.20. Both schools will receive a picture from the Elston company as a prize. The exhibit came here from Ashland, where only $30 was realized, but the Ashland people did not have the co-operation of the schools as did Medford.

With such a good showing for the first art exhibit in Medford, it is a certainty that many more and better ones will follow, for the interest taken in this by every one shows that Medford is up-to-date in art as well as everything else.

One of the biggest attractions booked for the Medford theater this season is John Cort's production of "The Kissing Girl," which comes November 30. Mr. Cort has never sent even a mediocre show to Medford, as such names as Maude Fealy, Florence Roberts, "The Alaskan" and Max Fighian attest, and this, his latest venture, opened his new Cort theater in Chicago last spring and ran all through the summer.

CHANGES MADE IN MUSIC PARLORS

For the third time since coming to Medford Mr. Whetsel has made changes in his Victor and Edison parlors.

The third time is the charm, and it has proven true in this case. By taking out the three partitions and dividing the three small rooms into two he has accomplished wonders. The two rooms are large and much more suitable for the business.

A gallery runs across the back room and provides offices and storerooms and an extra salesroom. If you haven't been in to see the Whetsel Music company lately you should pay them a visit soon. You will not only find the rooms more pleasant, roomy and delightful, but you will find everything that you could wish to find in the very latest Victor machines and records and a complete line of Edison machines and records.

GREAT DAM IN EASTERN OREGON IS COMPLETED

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 19.—The Furnish-Coe dam, across the Umatilla river at Coe station, the one largest project of its kind in the state, is completed and will be turned over to the Furnish-Coe company by the contractors within a day or two. The work of filling the great reservoir formed by the construction of the dam will be started upon the arrival of the flood season. The water thus stored will be used during the summer months in irrigating 10,000 acres of land contained in the Furnish-Coe project. The dam is 11,000 feet long, is 50 feet high, 220 feet wide at its base and 20 feet wide at its top. A concrete core extends from bank to bank and from its bedrock foundation to within five feet of the top of the dam.

You've probably missed more profitable opportunities through "over-looking" want ads than through "bad
