EXPECT LOWER CENSUS FIGURE

Portland Will Have Less Than 200,000 People Reported—No Evidence of Discrimination—Expect Announcement on Next Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Director Durand expects the Portland census figures to be given out next Tuesday and end the unnecessary controversy which now prevails. He says Supervisor Beach and the Seattle supervisor came here and went over the figures of their respective cities with the census officials. The figures are under the 200,000 mark. Each agreed that the proposed eliminations should be made. Durand said that the reductions will be approximately the same in each city. He said: "So far as I can see there is no evidence of a discrimination against Portland in favor of Seattle."

Farmer Makes Record.

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 19.—Because he made the round trip from the foot of the Sierra Madre mountains to the summit of Mount Wilson, 15.2 miles, in eight hours, Otto Fleischner, 84, retired farmer of Keokuk, Ia., today is the possessor of a $60 Jersey cow and the holder of a unique mountain climbing record. Fleischner started his climb after Augustus Weiner, 60, had boasted of his own record for the trip. Fleischner disparaged the performance whereupon Weiner readily declared his friend could have the cow if he hung up a better record. Fleischner won with an hour to spare, and offered to repeat the trip the same day for another Jersey in the Weiner pasture. He won the worse for his climb.

Arrested at 107.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Nov. 19.—Probably the oldest man ever arrested in the United States, was imprisoned at Fort Totten by a deputy marshal when he placed in custody C. M. Ziebach, 107 years old, on a charge of introducing liquor on the Indian reservation. Ziebach's case will be considered by the next federal grand jury and in the meantime he will be allowed freedom under bonds.

Yes, He's Dead.

CASPER, Wyo., Nov. 19.—Daniel McMillan, an expert in the use of powder and dynamite, employed at the North America asbestos mines, committed suicide by exploding 100 pounds of dynamite under his head. His body was blown to atoms and the 100-foot level of the mine where he ended his life, was badly wrecked.

LARGER QUARTERS FOR NEXT SHOW

Howard Elliott and Ren H. Rice Will Remain as Officials—Permanent Quarters Are Wanted to House Annual Apple Exhibit.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 19.—E. F. Cartier Van Dissel, second vice-president and chairman of the board of trustees of the third national apple show, announced today that Howard Elliott, president, and Ren H. Rice, secretary and manager of the organization, will be invited to continue in their present offices for another year at the annual meeting in January, adding also that Spokane will have the fourth annual competitive exposition in 1911.

"We shall have to have larger quarters for the next show," Mr. Van Dissel said, "and it is not unlikely that a coliseum will be erected. This could also serve for national and state conventions and other large gatherings, horse shows and other functions which require more room than is now available."

"Our exposition space is a matter of more than three and a half acres this year, but we were not able to accommodate all the exhibits that could have been obtained this year.

As it is, we have 30 carloads, including 19 straight cars, and the exhibition easily is the largest of its kind that has ever been put together anywhere.

"The show this year is a greater success than last year, which was far ahead of the first exposition in 1908, and if the plans now in making go through the 1911 show will be as far ahead of the present one as this week's exhibition leads the one in 1908."

Charles M. Fassett, secretary of the Spokane chamber of commerce, gave out this statement today:

"The apple show, which is of so much benefit to the entire northwest, should be provided with a permanent building. There is no doubt that the trustees of the chamber of commerce will solve the problem when it is brought before them."

Veterans Fed Rat Poison.

STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 19.—Fifteen inmates of the State Soldiers' home are ill here as the result of a meal of rat poison. Through the carelessness of an attendant a plate of bread and butter which had been prepared for rats in the cellar of the dormitories was placed on one of the tables in the dining hall. The steward immediately called the soldiers to the hospital and administered drastic remedies.

It would be no better business policy for you to try to find a tenant for a furnished room, without advertising, than for a department store to try to do business without advertising.

SAILORS FIGHT WITH FRENCHIES

Naval Commanders May Cancel All Leaves of Absence—Report Out That Dead Seaman Was Robbed and Stabbed and Not Drowned.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Street fighting between American and French sailors continued today and the finding of the bodies of a bluejacket and a woman at Kerlouan gave rise to wild rumors.

Several policemen were wounded in trying to quell the disturbance and the situation is considered so serious that the authorities of Brest are considering asking the naval commanders to cancel leaves of absence.

La Presse, a French publication, appeared on the streets this afternoon with an elaborate account of the death of Seaman Fitzsimmons from the battleship Louisiana. The paper stated that Fitzsimmons died in a hospital at Cherbourg after having been stabbed. This is regarded as disproving the stories of drowning given out by the French authorities.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—That the American sailor whose body was found yesterday in the inner harbor at Cherbourg, France, had been stabbed and robbed and that American sailors were maltreated by French soldiers were the charges made today by London newspapers following the receipt of dispatches from France describing the riots at Cherbourg yesterday.

The newspapers defend the American sailors in their fight with the French bluejackets and refer skeptically to French attempts to place the blame on the Americans.

It is asserted that the men of the American squadron were attacked by French artillerymen and that property belonging to four American seamen was found in the possession of a number of artillerymen.

HOXIE MAKES THREE

DARING FLIGHTS AT DENVER

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 19.—Archie Hoxie, defying snow, sleet and wind, made three flights in a gale blowing 25 miles an hour at Overland Park today and lent an added interest to the most daring meet in the history of American aviation.

Coachman Heir to $150,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 19.—Henry C. White, a recluse who died on October 26, left practically his entire estate, valued at about $150,000, to his coachman, Joseph B. Corbett, "as a reward for long and faithful service." The coachman had refused many offers to leave the White stables and receive much more money as a chauffeur.

MAN FACING SERIOUS CHARGE

Cleveland Wilson Bound Over to Appear Before Grand Jury on Statutory Charge Preferred by Eva Stallsworth.

Cleveland Wilson of Sam's Valley was bound over to appear before the grand jury by Justice Jones of Central Point Friday, accused of a statutory crime by Eva Stallsworth. The crime is alleged to have been committed about ten months ago, when the girl was less than 15 years of age. Subsequently—about five months ago—she was married to Charles Painter, and Painter was in court Friday, bearing in his arms a three weeks old child. Painter is standing by his wife in the prosecution, stating that she was irresponsible.

While Constable Holmes of Central Point was taking Wilson to the train Saturday morning en route for Jacksonville the prisoner escaped, and the last seen of him he was breaking the Marathon record in a direction due north. Officers are on his trail.
