

MANY GOVERNORS MEET IN SALEM

Governor Benson, Acting Governor Bowerman, Governor-elect West, Ex-Governors Chamberlain and Lord All Meet in Capital City.

SALEM, Nov. 21.—Salem has been favored during the past week with as many governors almost as the state of Oregon has United States senators. For instance, there is first of all Governor Frank W. Benson, who is also secretary of state and secretary of state-elect. Then there was Acting Governor Jay Bowerman, also president of the state senate and state senator from Gilliam county. Ex-Governor William P. Lord is a resident of Salem and is engaged at building a new code of Oregon laws. Last Tuesday former Governor George E. Chamberlain, now United States senator from Oregon, was in Salem and there is the coming governor, the new governor, Governor-Elect Oswald West, who is also yet state railroad commissioner.

Mr. Benson's first act last Tuesday was the issuance of the annual Thanksgiving proclamation appointing Thursday, November 24, a universal holiday for the purpose of giving thanks for the blessings of the year. He will also canvass the votes of the official returns of the recent election and declare the new state officials elected and issue the proclamation making the measures of the law of this state which were approved by the people at the polls last week.

It is current rumor here that Mr. Bowerman does not expect to return to Condon to make that place his home, but he will take up the practice of law in Portland as soon as the next session of the legislature has adjourned. Mr. Bowerman should be assured of a large share of the legal business in the metropolis.

CATTLE MARKET IS REPORTED STEADY

NORTH PORTLAND, Nov. 21.—Receipts at the Portland union stock yards for the week ending today have been as follows:

Cattle, 1509; calves, 110; hogs, 2219; sheep, 4221; goats, 330; horses, 3.

The cattle market has been steady. The quality of the offerings has not been such as to call forth any higher prices, but buyers have been asking for a better quality of heavier and fatter cattle.

The sheep market has been strong to high. Good quality of mutton has been in strong demand and good wethers have sold for $4.75. The demand for fat and finished sheep was in excess of the supply and the larger part of the offerings came from Mountain points.

TO FLY TO CUBA IN AN AEROPLANE

HAVANA, Nov. 21.—A flight from Havana to Key West in an aeroplane is the latest thriller to be contemplated by aviators. An offer to fly over that route was made today by John B. Moissant to President Gomez of Cuba. Moissant is seeking the aid of the Cuban chief executive in promoting a two weeks' aviation meet in the island, and would terminate it with the attempt he proposed.

The feat is considered one of the most hazardous ever attempted by bird-men. Practically the entire flight would have to be made over water. This might not seem so bad were it not for the knowledge that a man would be torn to pieces within a few minutes after he struck the water by man-eating sharks that infest the sea in those waters.

Sudden squalls are common occurrences also in the gulf region, making air flights doubly hazardous.

BIG INCREASE IN BANKS OF PASS

Thirty-nine Per Cent Growth Is Made—Total Deposits Reach Nearly a Million—Much Civic Progress Expected.

GRANTS PASS, Nov. 21.—No better index of the prosperity of a town can be found than its bank deposits. Grants Pass makes an exceptional showing in this respect, for its bank deposits have increased thirty-nine per cent since the first part of November a year ago. Few cities can show so phenomenal a gain. And this in face of the fact that the past year has been one of great improvement and money has been expended rather than placed in the banks.

The deposits a year ago totalled $705,000 in round figures. At this time there is placed in the banks of the city deposits aggregating $980,000 in round numbers. This shows a gain of $275,000 in a period of twelve months.

This is not the only indication of the prosperity and growth of this city. Many substantial business blocks have been erected and several hundreds residences have been built.

In the matter of street improvements the city has made great strides and strangers visiting the city remark that Grants Pass has the finest streets of any city in the northwest of twice its size.

Already plans are being formulated for next year's development and it is confidently predicted that the coming season will witness more civic progress than any previous year.

FROM PLAYERS BENCH TO GOVERNOR'S CHAIR

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 21.—From players' bench on a baseball field to governor's chair of a great state is a far cry, but that is precisely the step taken by John K. Tener, governor-elect of Pennsylvania. Incidentally it is rumored that Tener is still interested in baseball, being the real owner, it is said, of the Boston National League club.

At one time Tener was considered one of the best pitchers in the game. Under Captain Anson he was a member of the old invincible Chicago White Sox, and won many games for them through the cunning of his throwing arm.

Tener does not figure in the records as the owner of the Boston club, but his interests are said to be represented by John Harris, president of the club. It is generally believed that Harris is merely a figurehead.

HEAVY RAIN FALL THROUGH NORTHWEST

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 21.—According to the local weather bureau today, all records for rainfall for 24 hours were broken Sunday, when nearly two inches fell in 17 hours. The heavy storm of rain and wind started Saturday afternoon and was a source of trouble for the telegraph, telephone and railroad companies throughout the northern portion of the state. The wind blew a gale all night and the weather bureau holds out no hope of abatement before tonight. No damage was reported in Tacoma as a result of the storm, but all railroads entering the city are expecting washouts and trains are reaching the city several hours late today, owing to slow orders, calling for careful running to avoid possible washouts and slides. All of the rivers are rising rapidly. This rain, with the snow which has fallen during the past week, is causing some apprehension on the part of the railroad officials.

Exhibit Was Late.

Fred Riedel of Gold Hill is mourning because his box of Galls creek Spitzenbergs reached Spokane too late to be entered in competition at the national apple show, which opened on the 14th, says the News. They were three-tier fruit, packing seventy-three to the box, perfectly shaped and finely colored, and Mr. Riedel considers himself justified in having expected that they would be prize winners. They came from four-year-old trees which came into bearing this year, yielding ten boxes from five acres. They will be exhibited at the Spokane chamber of commerce, however, and perhaps entered at the Portland and other apple shows.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Lance of Gold Hill were Medford visitors Monday.

REFUSED FULL FARE; ARRESTED

Residents of Seattle Suburb Have Trouble With Street Car Company—Citizens Aroused Over Apparent Discrimination.

4 REFUSED SEATTLE, Nov. 21.—Twenty-five residents of Riverton, a suburb of Seattle, were arrested by deputy sheriffs today upon their refusal to pay the increased car fare recently imposed by the interurban electric lines terminating in Seattle.

The arrests are the culmination of bitter controversy between the transportation company and the citizens of Riverton over the fact that under the new schedule of rates the fare was almost doubled.

The residents contented themselves with vehement protest until Sunday morning when through a preconcerted plan all Riverton commuters refused to pay more than the old rate. Cars were stopped on the sidings in rapid succession and finally to relieve the congestion, the company set out the cars containing Riverton passengers, and eliminated the little hamlet as far as its being a regular stopping place until 6 o'clock in the evening when deputy sheriffs appeared on the scene and restored traffic.

More than 200 people were involved in Sunday's dispute.

From 8 o'clock Sunday morning until 6 p. m. the interurban cars did not even hesitate at Riverton, passengers to catch the trains.

Bright and early today the trouble was renewed and the arrests of the indignant commuters resulted.

The people of Riverton are thoroughly aroused over what they consider discrimination on the part of the interurban company, and are rallying to the support of their incarcerated fellow citizens.

MAN SAID TO BE WIFE DESERTER ARRESTED

Chief of Police Shearer took into custody Sunday, Theodore Adamson, wanted at Elma, Wash., for wife desertion.

Adamson is alleged to have married a young girl who is now less than 15 years of age, in Louisville, Ky., a year ago, and deserted her at Elma, Wash., four months ago, leaving her destitute.

Adamson, who is about 40 years of age, was recognized by the chief on account of his predilection for wearing a red vest. He was just about to board a southbound train with a ticket to Los Angeles when taken into custody. Adamson expresses a willingness to return to Washington without requisition papers, and claims he will be able to prove justification of his act.

Two Duels Fought.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—Insults, mental and physical, were avenged with honor in two duels today. Count Raymond de Castellane, brother of Boni, split the right hand of Count y'Estang with a rapier thrust in the first duel, and George Cassela, punctured the right arm of Jean Marnold in the second encounter. The wounds inflicted were not serious.

The first duel was a result of y'Estang's facetious humor in tipping de Castellane in the grand parade at a skating rink. Cassela and Marnold watched the first duel and then crossed rapiers. Marnold had offended by writing a polemic against Cassela in the newspapers.

H. von der Hellen, a representative elect, was in Medford from Welton, Monday.
