

JOHN KENNETH TURNER, AUTHOR OF "BARBAROUS MEXICO" TELLS OF WAR

Says That United States Overstepped Its Authority When It Ordered Out Troops to Prevent Mexicans From Returning to Republic.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 23.—When the United States government sent troops to the Rio Grande to prevent armed Mexicans returning to their own country to join the insurrectionists, it overstepped its authority, according to John Kenneth Turner, author of "Barbarous Mexico."

Turner declared today that any Mexican citizen has a right to return to his country and that no fair interpretation of any clause of the neutrality law can prevent him. He intimated the belief that the same agents and influences he claims caused the arrest of the Mexican liberals, Villareal, Mazon and Rivera, and their subsequent incarceration in the territorial prison at Florence, Ariz., are responsible for the despatching of American troops to the border.

"The neutrality law now effective," Turner said, "distinctly prohibits invasion by an armed force of a neighboring friendly power. If one armed Mexican constitutes an armed force, the premises from which that conclusion is drawn must be ridiculous."

Turner defends his views by quoting a decision rendered a year ago in a United States court in Texas by Judge Maxey. Diaz Guerra, a Mexican liberal, was accused of crossing the border to aid the insurrectionists who were concerned in the La Brea "revolution" in which scores of rebels were killed.

"In rendering the decision that freed Guerra," said Turner, "Judge Maxey held that the crossing of the international boundary by an armed Mexican or by a small number of armed Mexicans could not be construed to be an invasion by an armed force." Both the revolutionists and the federal government were well prepared for the present outbreak.

Turner made this statement guardedly after telling of the preparations for the struggle he saw on every hand during his periodic trips into Mexico during the last three years. He does not predict that the present movement will be successful, but he said it is at least the forerunner of a series of insurrections that will result ultimately in the overthrow of the Diaz regime.

"Mexicans are inherent fatalists," Turner said. "They have hopes that in the end the revolutionary movement will triumph. Even though they were in the majority now, it would not be certain that they would win for military organization such as obtains among the Diaz forces would temporarily offset numbers."

"On the other hand, the revolutionists are fairly well prepared. It is certain that arms and ammunition have been going across the American frontier for many years in preparation for this day."

"Madero has a wonderfully large following. If the movement becomes general in the outlying states and the leader starts toward the interior, he will be joined by thousands on the way. Thousands of Mexicans in the United States right now are preparing to return to aid the revolution. Hundreds already have started quietly from the border states."

"It is impossible for any one to say just how far-reaching the present movement will be."

"The insurgents are earnest and determined. They believe that it is at last the beginning of the end."

MANY CASES NOW ON DOCKET IN KLAMATH

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Nov. 23.—One of the most important terms of circuit court ever held in Klamath county will begin on December 5. It will be the winding up of Judge George Noland's term on the bench. Beginning with that date he will be a busy judge until he turns the reins over to his successor, Judge Henry L. Benson, by whom he was defeated at the recent election by less than 60 votes, although in Klamath and Lake counties the republicans have a majority of close to 1500.

In the county jail there are at this time two men to be tried on murder charges, one for assault with a deadly weapon and highway robbery and three on forgery charges. Among the latter is Thaddeus E. York, alias Frank B. Houston, accused of getting away with several thousand dollars by getting the confidence of Fred Melhase, the president of the American Bank & Trust company. Besides these cases there will be a number of prosecutions for violations of the local option law.

ASHLAND CAR OFF TO CHICAGO

All-Round General Appearance of Car Accounted for Its Selection—Apples Perfect in Size and Are Well Packed.

Says the Tidings: The following is the gist of latest telegrams received from Secretary Frohbach at Spokane relative to Ashland apples: "Ashland car selected to go to Chicago over Hood river on account of its better all-round appearance, such as color and size. Pierson goes to Chicago with me."

"More honors for the Ashland carload of Newtowns. The car offered by the Chicago Association of Commerce for the best commercial pack was awarded to Ashland over all other carloads exhibited. The commercial pack takes into consideration exact measurements and appearance of box, number of nails used, wrapping, lining and every feature such as pack, bridge, etc. The score was 198 out of a possible 200 points. Thanks are due to the Ashland Manufacturing company for their exactness in box measurements and the packers and nailers for their careful work. Our apples were boxed and loaded on car morning of 20th by 7 o'clock. It was an all-night job."

The above refers to Ashland's car of Newtowns recently exhibited at Spokane, which is now on its way to Chicago, where it will be exhibited at the apple show there instead of at a meeting of the Commercial club last Friday evening, just as soon as it had been learned that Ashland had missed capturing the sweepstakes prize by the narrow margin of 13.3 out of a possible 1000 points in the score. It was an emergency case and something had to be done, and that, too, in a hurry. Messrs. Wilbur, Gillette, Cleo, Edgington, McWilliams, Meikle, Cyester, R. P. Neal, T. F. Smith and others were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions toward a $250 fund necessary to forward the car to Chicago, and they turned themselves loose on the community Saturday morning, with the result that the amount was practically all raised within a few hours, the ladies of the Civic Improvement club opportunely coming to the rescue in the sum of $50 toward the venture. The minimum subscriptions received were $1. The money was wired to Spokane, and at this writing it is supposed the apples are on the way to the Windy City by the big lakes, in charge of Messrs. Frohbach and Pierson.

The Ashland car will be exhibited at the apple show instead of the land show in Chicago for obvious reasons. Both are exhibitions on a big scale, but vary as to certain features. At the land show there are various displays besides fruit, and an admission fee is charged, whereas the apple show is a horticultural one exclusively and admission is free. Consequently it was decided to take advantage of the latter, where much greater space is allowed for display than at the land show. Publicity facts and figures regarding this community will also be made a part of the Chicago exhibit. There are no cash prizes awarded at this apple show, the only reward of merit being the ratings given, with all that such imply in the way of advertising this particular section should Ashland be successful. Having come within 13 points of reaching the goal at Spokane, the club felt it duty bound to retrieve at least, instead of withdrawing from the field. The Chicago show opens November 28, giving abundance of time for the shipment to arrive there and be placed in first-class shape, the show closing December 4.

"I cannot advocate a safe and sane November 24th," he said today. "I believe that the eating public is entitled to one day in the year upon which the inner man shall be satisfied without thought of Dr. Wiley and the microbe. I would have you tell the populace that the lid is off and that I bid everyone enjoy himself—cold storage turkey, of course, excepted."

DEMOCRATS HAVE HOUSE BY 64 VOTES

They Also Figure on Gaining Control of the Senate Two Years Hence. When Thirty-one Senators Retire From Office.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The democratic representation in the next house will be 227, against 163 republicans and one socialist, according to the roster of the house published today.

These figures give the democrats a majority of 63 and a plurality of 64.

Elated over their success in the recent elections, success that exceeded their fondest hopes, democratic leaders are now figuring also on capturing the United States senate two years hence. Five seats, and possibly four now filled by republicans, will give them a majority, provided they hold what they now have. And a survey of the field indicates that the democrats may attain their end, especially if there be no reversal of sentiment in the next two years.

Thirty-one senators are to be elected two years hence; that is to say, the terms of 31 senators will expire on March 4, 1913. Of this number, 19 are republicans and 12 are democrats.

Of the 78 democrats, all are certain to be re-elected or succeeded by other democrats with the possible exception of Owen, Paynter and Taylor, and the chances strongly favor the democrats in Oklahoma, Kentucky and Tennessee. On the republican list, however, may be found a number of senators whose chances, viewed in the light of the recent election, are decidedly doubtful.

EAT YOUR FILL OF MICROBES SAYS WILEY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—"This message I would send the hungry American people: Eat thy fill on Thanksgiving day and forget Wiley and the microbe. But do not eat cold storage turkey," says Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, who has fought the germ in its every infinitesimal form. Dr. Wiley will not stay a single microbe next Thursday. Instead he will be on a dining car between Pittsburg and Cleveland, partaking of canned goods, preparing a lecture on pure food which he is to deliver that night and sitting occasionally as he glances out of the window at some straggling gobbler which escaped the ax.

"I cannot advocate a safe and sane November 24th," he said today. "I believe that the eating public is entitled to one day in the year upon which the inner man shall be satisfied without thought of Dr. Wiley and the microbe. I would have you tell the populace that the lid is off and that I bid everyone enjoy himself—cold storage turkey, of course, excepted."

YALE'S RECEIPTS FROM FOOTBALL IS $70,000

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 23.—Yale's receipts from football this fall will reach about $70,000. The main items in this total are as follows: Harvard game, $34,000. Princeton game, $29,000. Brown game, $5,000. Vanderbilt game, $1500. Colgate game, $1500.

The total is about $2000 less than in years when Yale has had the game with Harvard in Cambridge. Yale fills her stands at home, no matter whether Harvard or Princeton plays here, but when Yale's other big game is with Princeton at Princeton, there are only 29,000 people present, while there are 39,000 people at the game Yale plays biennially in Cambridge. This is, then, an off year in Yale football receipts, although the attendance at the early season games was larger than ever before.

Captain Daly of Yale and Captain Withington of Harvard will meet in Philadelphia in a day or two to flip a coin for the permanent possession of the football used in Saturday's game. Referee Langford has the ball.

The tonnage of the several fruits dispatched is as follows: Apples, 75 tons; apricots, 20; cherries, 25; grapes 200; peaches, 6000; pears, 800; plums 4000. Growers estimate that 250 tons of oranges and 250 tons of olives will be shipped this season.
