A PRODUCT OF NATURE.

Warmed into life by the sun shining on Southern cotton fields, nurtured by rain and dew, the cotton plant concentrates in its seed that life-giving and life-sustaining quality which is the basis of Cottolene. From Cottonfield to kitchen, human hands never touch the oil from which Cottolene is made. It is a product of Nature.

Lard comes from the fat of the hog—often impure, always indigestible. Cottolene, on the contrary, is pure, and elly made from the juice of choicest nut is not more easily digested than its product of the oil extracted from the kernel of the cotton seed.

SUTHERLIN, OREGON, WIPED OUT BY FIRE

SUTHERLIN, Ore., Dec. 6.—Fire of unknown origin swept through the business center of Sutherlin today, practically wiping out the heart of the town. The loss is estimated at $25,000 and is partly covered by insurance. Four structures housing seven stores and a number of offices were burned.

A misleading advertisement would be almost as disastrous to a store as a fire—with no insurance.

The old ideas about store advertising die hard—but they die, nevertheless. Store advertising nowadays has news value.
