H. D. Mill has gone on a trip to Medford and Portland in connection with the sawmill plant and it is expected that the coming spring will find everything booming hereabouts, as many new enterprises will be installed.

The railroad is hung up on its roadbed and travel cannot be made over it as in several places the heavy rains have washed the bed very much, and much work will be necessary to put the bed in good condition, but it will only be for a few months for when the weather settles work will be rushed and travel will be easy over all the line.

The government at Lodge Pole and other points above have been working under extreme difficulties in seeing as the snow has covered the ground, making it impossible to do much work, yet the force remains of the grounds ready to take advantage of good weather.

Rev. Jones has been fortunate in getting a few of his household goods in and getting his home arranged a little more comfortable.

There is a dearth of news hereabouts, and nothing exciting going on, yet our mill is running and working a few men and preparing for a big opening in the spring.

It is expected that some outside capitalists will establish a box factory and erect one or more saw-mills near the townsite in the near future.

Wana has gone to the valley and was accompanied by Alven Hayes who was on his way to attend the Grand Jury.

There are quite a number of inquiries for houses and some applications for business property as people look forward to spring having many hopeful things in store for Butte Falls.

Will Perry has returned from a trip to Eagle Point and is busily engaged in looking after his farm interests. There is a fine opening for manufacturers and business in town, but it is necessary for capital and social conditions to be changed somewhat to induce families to locate among us. Time will change conditions and we will yet have a lively town with good fruit country near us and thousands of acres that can be planted when the timber is cut from it.

Frank Netherland is expecting to make a business trip to Medford in the near future on business matters.

Mr. Hawk of the unsurveyed was trading in town on Wednesday of last week.

It is almost impossible to get store freight in over the road and our merchants are very much worried over the supplies they are expecting.

Ben Fredenburg has been killing and salting down this winter's meat supply and we can call on him if we get meat hungry.

These days are gloomy and they make ones spirit sink and tend to discourage, but it is always the darkest before the dawn and soon the bright sunshine days of spring will be upon us and all nature will be smiling.

MAN BREAKS NECK ON EVE OF WEDDING

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12.—Devoured a few days ago, and on the eve of his second marriage, Andrew Wayland, 22 years old, fell and broke his neck at his home here today.

Wayland was to have been married and called on his fiancée to discuss the final wedding arrangements. In leaving her home he mounted a flight of steps leading from a basement, stumbling at the head of them and heading to the girl's feet. Laughing at what she thought a small mishap, she went to his assistance and found him dead.

Dennos Baby Food

Saves Life Medford Baby

Ours was a vigorous, healthy baby weighing 8 pounds at birth, and until he was three months old (at which time I stopped nursing him) he was in perfect health, having neither colic nor the little stomach disturbances which many babies have, and weighing 13 pounds.

At this time we began the use of artificial food and used it for our baby all during the summer until gradually his bowels were so seriously affected that the best physicians and the most careful nursing accomplished nothing, and he grew steadily worse until we despaired of his life, and for long days and nights we agonized over him.

At this point a friend sent us several cans of Dennos Baby Food to try. With the very first feeding it seemed that a miracle had been performed, and in time it healed the bowels and without a medicine of any kind whatever Dennos Baby Food effected a complete cure.

At the time the enclosed picture was taken our boy was eight months old and weighed twenty and a half pounds. He is the embodiment of health and good spirits. His flesh is firm and his color glorious, and to Dennos Baby Food is given positively all the credit.
