NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The Rev. Percy Grant, pastor of the church of the Ascension, of Fifth avenue, has been making a study of New York newspapers. Classification of 10,000 news items printed over a period of three months, he says, showed the following result:

Worth while, 3900. Trivial, 2100. Unwholesome, 1700. He urges that the newspapers should be an "educational agency, not a mercantile medium," and declares that the public may secure a better type of newspaper "by suggestion, that is, by refusing to read papers that will not print what is wanted."
