boundaries of the city of Medford, greater drop in prices is looked for. and from that hour will daily complete as many new connections for local service as the capacity of their (Prices paid by Medford merchants.) large force of linemen will permit.

About 500 telephones have already been contracted for in the city, and while all of them will not be ready by Saturday morning, a large number will. Everybody will put more into service with the result that instead of placing a permanent directory into the hands of subscribers from the commencement of service, a weekly "phone book" will be put out, and will give only those phones in actual operation.

The equipment of the Home company includes all the latest and most up-to-date inventions obtainable and represents absolutely the last word in telephony.

In the business section individual and two-party lines have been laid and out in the residential section either individual or four-party lines may be had.

The most important feature of the new system from the subscribers' point of view is the fact that by use of the Dean Harmones party line vibrator the central operator can call any one phone on a party line without ringing any other phone. This finsures secrecy and eliminates the distraction caused by the ringing of the bell when some other instrument is being called. The Home phones 1 1 1 1 Notice. also call "central" without the ne-

the second floor. The operating plant switchboards and an auxiliary power over 300 miles, have been laid underground-3500 feet of conduits having been installed to hold them. This part of the equipment is said to be sufficient for as many phones as would be required in a town of 50,000.

Over $100,000 has been expended in plant and equipment so far, fully 75 per cent of which, the company states, has gone into local channels. About 50 people are now on the company's payroll here and all of the local officers have already selected locations upon which to erect their
