

FISH HOGS WOULD NOT QUIT RIVER

Effort Being Made to Insure Repeal of Law Passed at Last Election Closing Rogue River to Commercial Fishing.

BANDON, Or., Jan. 5.—Effort is being made in Coos and Curry counties to insure the repeal of the Rogue river fishing bill, passed as an amendment to the constitution November 8 last.

Copies of the following petition were circulated over this part of the state last week, and similar copies will be sent broadcast:

"To the governor, the senate and the house of representatives: "Whereas, the law recently passed closing the Rogue river to commercial fishing will by its needlessly sweeping terms result in great injustice to vested interests, deprive many fishermen of their livelihood and work hardship upon many farmers, render valueless fish hatcheries, canneries and similar plants valued at over $250,000, and seriously set back the country tributary to the lower river with no resulting benefit whatever; now, therefore,

"We, the undersigned citizens and voters of the state of Oregon, respectfully petition and request that said law be so amended as to carry out the intent thereof and to do justice to all concerned by allowing commercial fishing, under proper restrictions, upon said Rogue river below the mouth of the Illinois river, except for steelhead trout."

The petition is said to have been signed by persons in the cities of Marshfield, North Bend, Coquille, Bandon, Port Orford and Gold Beach, and by farmers whose homes are close to Rogue river.

MAIL CLERK SHOT SEATTLE STATION

Bullet Plows Its Way Through His Face, Knocking Out Every Tooth—Sheriff and Detectives Are Close on Trail.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 5.—Mail Clerk H. O. Clark, who was shot by the masked bandits who held up the Northern Pacific train as it pulled out of the local station last night, was resting comfortably at the hospital today, and it is believed that he will survive.

Nearly every tooth in his mouth was shot out when the bullet ploughed its way through his face.

The sheriff's posse is still searching the suburban district and 30 detectives are scouring the lodging house district for the two men who perpetrated the holdup. It is feared that if the men gain entrance to Seattle they will escape.

The chief of the railroad detective force maintained by the Northern Pacific started from St. Paul today to take charge of the investigation.
