COMMISSION NOT A COURT.

"It may be of interest to note that the proposed amendment would, of course, work equally against the truth being brought out on the part of the complainant. In most of the complaints that are heard before the commission the complainant is not represented by counsel—in fact, one of the main purposes of the commission law is that such complaints can be sifted without the necessity for an individual going to the expense to employ attorneys or experts. If the commission was bound to compel a complainant to produce all his testimony at the first hearing in our judgment it would result in a miscarriage of justice in many cases and the complainant would not receive the relief to which more thorough and painstaking examination of the facts would require. Very frequently it is necessary to examine into records or call for data which the complainant does not know are in existence.

"I wish to state in connection with the Southern Pacific matter brought to our attention that no objection whatever was raised by the complainant to the request of the Southern Pacific company for time to examine the ten voluminous exhibits introduced by plaintiff upon the hearing. The commission first desired to set the hearing for an earlier date than was done, but this was resisted, as we recall it, by the attorney for the Medford traffic bureau, who said that he would prefer that the matter come on a few days later. In four years' experience in working under the present rules of the commission, this is the first complaint of this character that has ever been brought to our attention.

"We have gone over this matter with the attorney general, who coincides with the views here expressed."

YOUNG WOMAN GIVES MAN A HORSEWHIPPING

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Belinda A. Corbonneau, a comely young woman who looks anything but a man handler, today admitted that it was she who administered a severe thrashing to A. F. Ruser, cashier of the Dome City bank of Dome City, Alaska, in a room in the Archibald hotel Saturday evening.

Mrs. Corbonneau is stopping at the New Washington hotel. Mrs. Corbonneau said that she gave Ruser a horsewhipping because of his alleged persecution of her sister, Miss Margaret Mulroony. Ruser came to Seattle to prosecute a suit against Miss Mulroony instituted by the bank to regain $10,000 the bank alleges Miss Mulroony obtained by fraud while she was cashier of the institution.

Mrs. Corbonneau admits that she lured Ruser to a room in the hotel and pled the lash. Ruser complained to the police and declared that Mrs. Corbonneau was aided by two men, who held him while she lashed him.

The woman has not been arrested.

EGGLESTON'S BILL PASSES.

(Continued from Page 1.) the house. Thompson of Lake county tried hard to have the resolution re-referred back to the committee, but the house showed by a large vote that it wants to be fair to Steiner.

A big fight is on in the house this afternoon over the Amme bill, which is supposed to be aimed at the Associated Press. Fouts of Multnomah in advocating the passage of the bill grew caustic at the expense of one of the reporters for a Portland paper, whom he accuses of misrepresenting him in his reports. Representatives of the Associated Press are here trying to have the bill killed. It probably will fail to pass the house, as few members outside of Fouts and Amme have championed it.

MORE TROOPS TO PATROL BORDER

American Cavalry Arrives Under Orders to Resort to Most Stringent Action to Prevent Passage of Mexican Insurgents.

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 30.—American cavalry arrived at Marana, Texas, today to relieve the United States infantry which has been patrolling the Mexican border in an effort to maintain neutrality. The cavalry is under orders to resort to the most stringent action to prevent the passage of Mexican insurgents.

Reports from Naco, in the state of Sonora, today say that the revolution there is imminent and that a company of Mexican federal troops have arrived there to overawe the Moderists.

The report that Colonel Kosterlitzky, commanding the Sonora rurales, has been killed in an action with the rebels is denied by the officials of the Diaz government.

HUACHUCA, Ariz., Jan. 30.—Reports concerning the fate of Colonel Kosterlitzky of the Mexican federal army, rumored killed in a battle with rebels in the Sahuaripa district, where Madero's forces are being recruited and re-organized, are conflicting. A report from Cananea today says Kosterlitzky is in a private hospital there.

Mayor Arnold of Cananea considers the situation there so critical that he has sent his wife to Tucson. Ammunition for the federal army is being shipped from Bisbee to Cananea. American troops along the border will be troubled, according to the latest reports.

HUACHUCA, Ariz., Jan. 30.—A mining man from Montezuma reported today that the jefe politico of that town was slain in a battle with rebels. The revolutionists and the jefe, with a small force, clashed on the outskirts of Montezuma.

TO WAGE FIGHT ON SECTIONAL LINES

Representatives From Agricultural States Will Oppose Canadian Treaty—Mining Communities Will Be In Favor of It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.—The lineup today of congressmen on the Canadian reciprocity treaty shows that the fight is to be waged entirely on sectional and not on political lines. The representatives from the agricultural states will oppose the agreement and those from the mining communities will be in its favor. Opponents of the measure today are using all the pressure at their command to induce the house ways and means committee to pigeonhole the treaty referred to them.
