

SPOKANE MAN IS GREATLY PLEASED

Comes Here to Investigate Irrigated Orchard Tracts and Reports That He Is Indeed Highly Pleased With Valley.

Frederick Wilson, a prominent business man of Spokane, for the past week has been carefully investigating the irrigated orchard tracts of Roguelands, Inc., the canal system and water storage plans of the Rogue River Valley Canal company, and has returned to Spokane with the very highest opinion of both enterprises and with great confidence in the future of the Rogue River valley.

Mr. Wilson has invested in an orchard tract which will be set to Bartlett pears and developed by the company. In addition to this investment Mr. Wilson has selected two 40-acre tracts which he will purchase and set to commercial orchards at the next planting season.

The real object of Mr. Wilson's visit was for the purpose of giving the company's enterprises a thorough examination, to see for himself and report to his Spokane associates as to the real value of Roguelands irrigated orchard tracts.

Mr. Wilson assures the Medford officers of the company, and Mr. Cummings, the manager, that he is greatly pleased with what he has seen and will not only make an additional investment himself, but will advise his friends who have invested to increase their investments, for he believes that the so-called desert will be the greatest orchard district of this wonderful orchard country.

In discussing the matter before leaving the city Sunday afternoon Mr. Wilson said: "My reasons for believing that your desert will be one of the very remarkable districts of the country is that it has one of the first essentials of successful orcharding, and that is the finest drainage that land could have. Under the rich, red soil, which experts have told me is your best orchard soil, there is a gravel strata mixed with sand and clay which is from 25 to 50 feet deep, assuring to the orchardist a drainage which is equaled nowhere in your valley and rarely equaled in any district.

"To say that I am pleased with what I have seen is but a mild ex-

Louis W. Hill Is Quoted In Oregonian as Saying That the Pacific & Eastern "Will Have to Be Built" —To Develop Oregon.

In the Sunday Oregonian, Louis W. Hill is quoted as follows: "Mr. Stevens has charge of the work in this country," he said, "and I don't know what his plans are. A number of routes have been surveyed south of Bend, however. One of these provides for a terminus at Medford. That line will have to be built. Another leads to Klamath Falls. It is probable that an extension will reach that place, too in a short time. "But when it comes to entering California, I believe that our system will draw the line. We expect to develop Oregon, but don't see any reason why we should go to California."

LEGAL BATTLE FOR CRIPPEN ESTATE STARTS

LONDON, Jan. 30.—A legal battle for the estate of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, who was hanged for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, was begun here today when Theresa Humm, half sister of the murdered actress, filed a contest for the Crippen property, which is said to be worth about $10,000.

Attorney Grazebrook, representing Ethel Clare Leneve, with whom Crippen fled to America, is fighting the Humm woman's contest. The matter has been taken under advisement.

"I am greatly pleased, in fact, I am astonished at the great resources of this splendid district. It has not been misrepresented, although the claims have been strong, and up at Spokane we have heard some remarkable statements regarding the production of some of your orchards. I am confident that the Rogue River valley will be one of the great fruit districts of the country."

SANDERS HANDS ONE TO FRISCO

Before Senate Committee Louisiana Executive Attacks Claims of San Francisco as Site for Exposition—Vote Comes Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.—At the hearing today before the senate committee, Governor Sanders of Louisiana attacked the claims of San Francisco as the site for the Panama exposition. He said that under both the resolutions presented by San Francisco and New Orleans the federal government would be equally responsible to the foreign nations whom it would invite to make exhibits. Under the San Francisco resolution, Governor Sanders said, the government would have the responsibility without power, but under the New Orleans resolution it would have the power of supervision.

"Our bill does not provide for any subsidy or appropriation," said Governor Sanders. "We say that since the United States government will invite foreign nations to go to the expense of making exhibits, it should also make an exhibit of its own resources. San Francisco says it does not want a government exhibit. And so we are asked to put our government in the humiliating and ridiculous attitude of asking foreign countries to exhibit in an exposition we don't intend to patronize ourselves."

Sanders, after speaking for half an hour, suspended his address on account of the condition of his voice. He will address the committee again on Wednesday.

Sol Wexler of New Orleans, vice-president of the largest national bank in the south, gave an analysis of the financial backing offered by New Orleans and said it was of the highest grade. Referring to San Francisco, he said:

"We have no bootblack stand that can contribute $500 to the exposition funds; no Masonic lodges that can contribute $250,000; no merchants rated at $10,000 or $550,000 who feel themselves strong enough to give $25,000 to the exposition fund."

Mayor Behrman of New Orleans and T. P. Thompson, president of the proposed Southern exposition, also put in pleas for the Crescent city. In the house the advocates of both Excursionists From North Are Presented With Literature On Medford and the Valley—Could Not Stay but May On Return.

A trainload of excursionists, bound from their homes in Seattle, Vancouver, B. C., and Victoria, B. C., for a pleasure trip to Los Angeles, Cal., stopped in Medford Sunday afternoon for a short time.

During their visit, which was too brief to permit of their visiting the city, the excursionists were supplied with local papers, some commercial club literature and a number of copies of the November number of the Sunset Magazine containing a write-up on Medford and the Rogue River valley.

Secretary Charles A. Malboeuf of the Commercial club also caused a number of boxes of choice apples to be distributed through the train.

DEATH OF AFFIANCED COUPLE STILL PUZZLES

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 30.—Grace Elosser and Charles Twigg, the affianced couple found dead on a sofa in the Elosser home here, died through either suicide or murder, according to statements today of physicians who performed autopsies on the bodies. Death was caused by cyanide of potassium, they assert.

The physicians denied that carbon monoxide, the gas from the stove in the parlor, could have resulted in the death of the couple. A test made on cats confined in the same room under similar conditions proved that gas could not have killed the man and girl.

Not a clue as to the way in which the cyanide was administered has been found.

Attorneys are lining up for the vote tomorrow, which practically will decide where the fair shall be held.

San Francisco boomers are full of confidence and are making claims of larger support than any of the New Orleans boosters have so far advanced.

I understand there is a chance of a six-round go in Philadelphia soon."

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY

Grew a Full Growth of Hair on a Bald Head

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.
