SCRAP ON OVER ASHLAND'S P. O.

Editor Wagner Out Against L. D. McKee, Who is at Present Assistant Postmaster - Fight is Waxing Warmer and Warmer.

Ashland is in the throes of a contest for the postmastership though no one would know it if they depended upon the newspapers of the heavenly city to find it out.

Postmaster J. R. Casey's term of office expires in February, he having held the position eight years. Mr. Casey is a candidate for re-appointment and the other candidates are E. D. Wagner, editor of the Ashland Tidings, and L. D. McKee assistant postmaster for the past six or eight years.

Mr. Wagner's claims are pre-eminently political, as he has been for years the editor of the republican organ of Ashland and is noted for his conservatism and obedience to the dictum of the party machinery.

Mr. McKee's campaign is being managed by himself strictly along the line that his record is good, that the public wish him to hold the office, though he is a republican in politics he is not pressing this feature as the government service requires that postal officials must refrain from taking an active part in politics.

Mr. Wagner's claims are pre-eminently political, as he has been for years the editor of the republican organ of Ashland and is noted for his conservatism and obedience to the dictum of the party machinery.

RAILROAD MAY BE FORCED TO PRINT TABLES

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 4.—How can a railroad publish a time table in a newspaper in a town where no newspaper is published, was a query propounded in the senate by Daniel C. Clackamas.

Quick as a flash came the answer from President Seeling: "Where there is no newspaper the time table will not be published. That answers itself."

RESULTS OF DIRECT LEGISLATION.

SINCE direct legislation obtained in Oregon twenty-six important questions have been settled by the people. Twenty-five measures proposed by initiative petition, three measures enacted by the legislature against which the referendum was invoked, and three measures passed and submitted to the people by the legislature, have been approved.

Above all claims for good or evil made regarding direct legislation, its chief benefit lies in its educational value, in its creating popular interest in government and in its upbuilding of citizenship.

The sixty-four measures voted upon have been supported by seventy-one different organizations. Each of the initiative measures averaged over 10,000 signatures.

Political machines and bosses have been abolished. The people are giving more and more attention to matters of government. Partisanship is becoming less and less marked. The people are learning to think instead of letting others do their thinking for them.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN EGGLESTON.

DEATH has called Captain M. E. Eggleston, representative of Jackson county at the legislature, one of the most widely and favorably known and most prominent citizens of Southern Oregon, who for many years has faithfully and efficiently served the public in various capacities.

Reared on an Indiana farm, appointed to West Point at an early age, Captain Eggleston served as an officer in the army at various posts for ten years after graduation. Tiring of army life, he resigned and for a period pursued the avocation of mining engineer.

Abandoning journalism, Captain Eggleston studied law, was admitted to practice and for many years held the dual position of municipal judge and recorder of the city of Ashland. Few cities have enjoyed as impartial and efficient an administration as that given by him, and public appreciation was manifested by his repeated election.

In politics Captain Eggleston was a sincere believer in progressive politics. He played a prominent role in the old Populist party days, and as manager of the Bryan campaign in '96, helped to carry Jackson county by a thousand majority for the Nebraskan.

Though but a short time in the legislature, Captain Eggleston's ability was at once recognized. He was a formidable candidate for speaker and was made a member of the most important committees. The bills he introduced are evidence of the care and study spent in their compilation, and his loss is a severe blow to Jackson county.

Captain Eggleston was the pioneer booster of Southern Oregon. A score of years ago he wrote the first "boom" literature, the first publicist pamphlet, and played a leading role in advertising the Rogue River Valley and Ashland. As president of the Commercial club he blazed the path that has since been followed with such material success.

After the junction of Blanco's forces, which were fatigued by their long march, went into camp ten miles south of Juarez. Their condition may prevent an attack tonight.

Terror high was caused in Juarez at noon today when a huge dust cloud in the South was believed to presage the immediate insurgent advance was allayed later when it was rumored that a windstorm had caused all the fear and that the insurgents were still inactive, save for the skirmishing out of the outposts.

The rebel generals Orozco and Blanco joined forces at noon today on miles from Juarez. They are waiting reinforcements of horses and men before starting the attack on the city, but are expected to enter before tonight. The leaders are deliberating as to the best point to attack.

Mitchell May Resign. NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A report that John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, had resigned from the National Civic Federation was current here today but Mitchell refused to discuss the matter.

Under such conditions was the newspaper born. With it came the growth of education and the spread of democracy, creating a demand for the writer and an opportunity for the newspaper. And as humanity has learned to read, so it has learned to think and the field of the newspaper has broadened.

Thinking breeds independence. Empty formulas are discarded. The people are thinking. So the newspaper must also discard formulas and learn to think, and as a mere matter of self preservation, become free and independent in thought and action.

CROWN PRINCE TO VISIT AMERICA

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Announcement that Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm of Germany will cross the United States from San Francisco to New York next year is made here today by Berlin dispatches.

The messages say that the prince will resume next autumn the world tour recently abandoned on account of the plague in the far east. His plans, of course, provide for a trip across Siberia and thence through China and Japan to San Francisco, whence he will return direct to Berlin.

HOUSE TAKES FALL OUT OF SENATOR

Resolution Adopted in Ridicule of Waste of Time on Oregon System - Decide to "Let George Do It."

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 4.—With the label, "Instructions to Let George Do It," the following resolution, in the drafting of which half the Representatives are said to have taken part in order to show their contempt for what they call "child's play" on the part of the Senate, was introduced yesterday afternoon by Dr. Smith, of Josephine:

"Whereas, All eyes of the United States are upon that popular form of government commonly known as the Oregon System; and

"Whereas, The dignified upper body of the law making power of this great commonwealth, commonly known as the State Senate, has lost considerable sleep, and has worried and caused personal motives to be questioned in recommending said Oregon System to the Legislatures of the various states of this Union as the best system in the world; now therefore be it

"Resolved, By the House of Representatives in the Oregon Legislature assembled, that George is a better name than Jonathan for a United States Senator from Oregon. So let George do it."

"The resolution will be sent to the 'stand pat' resolutions committee," said Speaker Rusk. "Somethings happening at this session have made me very tired, but maybe this is coming to the Senate."

JUAREZ WILL BE SEEN OF BATTLE SOON

Insurgents on rapidly gaining recruits en route and claims that the federal army is disloyal and that a large proportion of Diaz' forces will rally to its standard.

TALK NO. 3 Myopia of the Eye

Myopia means near sight. When an eye is myopic or near sighted the object looked at does not focus on the nerve. The focus is in front of the nerve. The eyeball, therefore, is too long. Now, as we cannot change the shape of the eyeball, we put in front of it a concave lens. This kind of a glass has the property of putting the focus back to the nerve. Myopic persons hold reading close to the eyes, objects at a distance being dim. Vision is certainly the most important of the senses, therefore a word to the wise should suffice. Visit my office and learn more about correcting imperfect eyesight.
