SQUARES SELF WITH COURT

Samuel Gompers Quick to Explain to Supreme Court That He Did Not Make Statement Accredited to Him.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—Anxious to have it understood that he is not seeking the role of defendant in another case for contempt of court, Samuel Gompers today made a rather peculiar explanation to the United States supreme court.

Gompers' troubles grew out of the similarity of the names "Wright" and "White." The labor leader discussed his contempt case in New York yesterday, in which Justice Wright of the supreme court of the District of Columbia figures as the aggrieved person.

In reporting Gompers' speech several newspapers substituted the name of Chief Justice White of the United States supreme court for that of the jurist affected, making Gompers say:

"Can Justice White imagine that if we went to jail our voices would be stifled?"

As Gompers' case is pending in the United States supreme court, he lost no time in making his explanation.

Not a Day in Bed. Gramling, S. C.—In a letter from Gramling, Mrs. Lula Walden says: "I was so weak before I began taking Cardul that it tired me to walk just a little. Since taking it I do all the housework for my family of nine, and have not been in bed a day since. Cardul is the greatest remedy for women on earth." Weak women need Cardul. It is the ideal woman's tonic, because it is especially adapted for women's needs. It relieves backache, headache, dragging, feelings, and other female misery. Try Cardul. A few doses will show you what it can do for you. It may be just what you want.

REBEL. SHOT, IS CAUGHT BY WIFE

Body of Man Stood Against Wall of Home and Shot by Diaz Soldiers Falls Into Arms of Wife—Murdered Man Accused of Being Rebel

GALVESTON, Texas, Feb. 13.—Murder of a Mexican merchant, Alquis Saldon, in Pueblo, Mexico, by adherents of President Diaz is reported here today by Dr. H. A. Bates of San Antonio.

The physician says the Diaz adherents discovered that Saldon was acting as treasurer for theinsurrectors.

When the Mexican troops first reached Saldon's home and he refused to surrender they opened fire with machine guns, riddling the residence. Finally a charge was made and when the house was entered Saldon and his family were found hiding in a cellar. A further search revealed $1500 and numerous revolutionary documents which were confiscated.

Saldon was ordered shot. The soldiers of the firing party stood him against the wall of his home and as his body fell, riddled with bullets, his wife, who was standing nearby, rushed forward and caught the body in her arms.

KING'S "SKELETON" IS MAKING HIM PEEVED

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Edward Holton James' Paris publication, the Liberator, containing a repetition of the story of the king's morganatic marriage, was circulated throughout England today. King George and Queen Mary are most exasperated that the scandal will not down, and it is understood the king may have the attorney general ask France to extradite James from Paris to be tried for criminal libel.

BANK ROBBERS IN SACRAMENTO

Safe of Nippon Bank Blown Up and $5000 Cash Is Taken as Well as Much Jewelry—Night Watchman Is Seriously Wounded.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 13.—A gang of desperadoes to an early hour today blew up the safe of the Nippon bank here and escaped with $5000 in cash and several thousand dollars worth of jewelry that had been left with the bank as security for loans. One of the robbers with a shotgun seriously wounded Charles Pullen, a former night watchman, and slightly wounded Albert Allison. Reports are conflicting as to whether there were four or five bandits. They are believed to be the same gang which attempted a robbery at Winters, Cal., recently.

The detonation of the nitro-glycerine was terrific. It was heard all over the southwest quarter of the city and the interior of the bank was totally wrecked.

According to the most reliable stories, three of the robbers were stationed at separate corners as pickets. They halted a score or more before and after the explosion. Two of the pickets had shotguns, the other a rifle.

The robbers had stolen a rig belonging to James Knapp. They hatched this near the bank and after the robbery made their escape in it.

About seven blocks from the bank the police found a quantity of jewelry dropped from the buggy.

Pullen and Allison were walking along the street toward the bank and heard the explosion. They saw a man with a shotgun guarding the street crossing. He commanded them to halt.

Pullen stepped forward to investigate and the bandit fired both barrels at him. The distance was about 50 paces. The shot struck him in the legs from the hip down. A few stray shot hit Allison.

The police were summoned. Investigation disclosed a 6-ounce bottle standing near the wrecked safe. It was half full of nitro glycerine. The remainder had been poured into a hole in the safe and touched off with a fuse of powder.

A large piece of steel crashed through the floor past the heads of two Japanese sleeping in the basement below, just grazing, but not wounding them.

The bank is owned by G. H. Kishi. There are 40 stockholders. The loss is covered by insurance. The bandits are believed to have fled toward Roseville.

WEST WILL STAND BY PEOPLE'S LAWS

Intimates That He Will Veto Measure to Open Rogue River—Points Out Extract in His Message to Legislature as Answer.

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Or., Feb. 13.—"I say now that during my term of office I will zealously guard the integrity of these laws of the people and will combat with every means in my power any attempt to injure, infringe or subvert them. The people of Oregon, at different times and in no uncertain tones, have declared for these laws, and no men or hostile influence should be permitted to attempt in any manner to wrest from the people their hard-earned victory." This is an extract from Governor West's message to the legislature.

Asked what he would do in case the house bill, throwing Rogue river open for operations by the Hume mining interests in defiance of the initiative law passed by the people, should also pass the senate and be put up to him, Governor West turned to page 38 of his message and laid his forefinger upon the paragraph given in the foregoing.

That was his answer. He would say nothing further, but that answer spells defeat for the men who, on the representation that the people blundered, that, as Seneca Fouts said, they made "a slight mistake," exhibited the temerity and effrontery to try to overthrow the people's will as expressed by a majority of 16,000 votes.

STORM NOT OVER AS YET

Rain or Snow Is Prediction for Tonight—Field of White Greet Local People This Morning—Storm General.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 13.—The general storm warnings issued Sunday against any vessels going to sea is still in force today, and although the gale has subsided somewhat, a falling barometer indicates that the storm is not over, and may again resume the intensity that characterized it yesterday. A whistling wind, accompanied by flurries of snow, obtained in Portland today. The predictions for today are for continued rain and snow.

Over four inches of snow fell Sunday night in the valley. The prediction for tonight is rain or snow.

SENATORS WORK FOR HATCHERY

Senators Bourne and Chamberlain State That They Will Do All in Their Power to Secure Trout Hatchery for Rogue.

The Mail Tribune, in behalf of the Rogue River Fish Protective association, recently requested Senator Bourne and Chamberlain to secure a $15,000 appropriation for the establishment of a trout hatchery on Rogue river to be operated by the bureau of hatcheries. The following replies have been received.

Senator Bourne writes as follows: "I note your desire to secure an appropriation for a trout hatchery on the Rogue river. I have recently introduced and secured passage through the senate of a bill appropriating $50,000 for hatcheries on the Columbia and its tributaries. This, I think you will agree, is as much as we could expect to secure for Oregon hatcheries in one congress and I think it would be absolutely impossible to secure and I think it would be absolutely impossible to secure an appropriation for another hatchery now. The bill passed by the senate has not yet passed the house but I am hopeful of the congressmen securing favorable action upon it."

"After this is done we shall be pleased to take up the trout hatchery question at a subsequent session and if the showing made seems to justify the appropriation we shall endeavor to secure it. What I mean by this is that as Senator Chamberlain and I view government affairs, we will not ask the United States government to appropriate money even for our own state until we can show that it is a wise investment from a business standpoint."

Senator Chamberlain writes: "With reference to an appropriation of $15,000 to be used by the bureau of hatcheries in the establishment of a trout hatchery on Rogue river to be used in conjunction with the salmon hatchery near Trail, permit me to say that it will afford me pleasure to do anything I can to secure this appropriation, though your letter comes most too late to lead me to hope that this can be accomplished at this session of congress. The appropriation bills generally are so well under way that from now on it will be difficult to secure additions thereto on account of the crowded condition of the calendar and the short time until the adjournment of congress. I will, however, do the best I can in the premises."

Sewed His Nose On.

MARTINS FERRY, Feb. 13.—Harry King, 14 years of age, and employed in the Wheeling Corrugating company's plant, on turning his head suddenly struck his nose against a sharp piece of tin, which protruded from a pile, and the end of that organ was almost severed. Twelve stitches were necessary to get the disfigured member into proper position.

Medford Soon to Meet Albany

The Medford High school basketball team will compete against a team from the Albany high school for the championship of the state Tuesday evening.

Albany now holds the state championship, having cleaned up all the school teams in the northern part of the state and as the local boys have so far shown themselves superior to any teams in the Rogue river valley, it is expected that the game tomorrow night will be a hard fought one.

The game is called for 7:45 o'clock sharp and will be fought out on the Natatorium floor. There will be skating after the game.
