

PATROL SHORE IN SEARCH FOR DEAD

Six Are Drowned Off Columbia River Jetty When Gasoline Schooner Turns Turtle—Engineer Alone Escapes.

ASTORIA, Or., Feb. 14.—Members of the Point Adams life saving crew patrolled the beach today searching for the bodies of six members of the gasoline schooner Oshkosh who were drowned when the little boat turned turtle three miles off the Columbia river jetty yesterday. At the home of friends at Hammond, George May, the engineer who escaped after a terrifying experience is reported to have practically recovered.

The drowned:
CAPTAIN THOMAS LATHAM, master.
W. R. DEANE.
GUS RAMSAGER.
CHARLES LARSEN.
GUS CHILBERG.
AL DAVIS.

May saved himself under terrifying odds. For over three hours he fought for his life in the dark engine room until the overturned boat, driven by the heavy gale struck high on the beach two miles below the government jetty and May was able to escape. He immediately set out for aid and met one of the life-savers who hurried him to the shelter of the station.

May said that the boat overturned without the least warning. At the time Captain Latham was in the pilot house and the other members of the crew at their stations. When the craft went over May grabbed hold of the engine and clung. He did not dare let go as the engine room below him was awash and to do so meant death.

The Oshkosh was en route from

Tillamook to Umpqua river, southern Oregon. For two days previous the little ship had fought against an 80-mile gale which had driven her north out of her course.

Not a Day in Bed.

Gramling, S. C.—In a letter from Gramling, Mrs. Lula Walden says: "I was so weak before I began taking Cardui that it tired me to walk just a little. Since taking it I do all the housework for my family of nine, and have not been in bed a day since. Cardui is the greatest remedy for women on earth." Weak women need Cardui. It is the ideal woman's tonic, because it is especially adapted for women's needs. It relieves headache, dragging feelings, and other female misery. Try Cardui. A few doses will show you what it can do for you. It may be just what you want.

$4000 A YEAR FOR CIRCUIT JUDGES

Lawyers in Senate Favor Higher Pay for Oregon's Judiciary—Bill Will Be Soon Introduced Raising Salary of Judges.

STATEHOUSE, Salem, Or., Feb. 14.—Raising the salaries of all circuit judges in Oregon to $4000 a year is the plan of the lawyers in the legislature. During the noon recess a joint meeting of the senate judiciary and revision of laws committees was held and they unanimously favored a bill, to be introduced this afternoon, which will give all the circuit judges the same pay.

The vacation squad of the circuit bench in Multnomah county receives $3000 a year from the state and $1000 from the county, making their salary $4000. Several other judges in various districts receive that sum, the $3000 of the state being swelled by contributions from the counties in their circuits. Judge Campbell, for instance, receives $250 a year from each of the following counties: Clatsop, Columbia, Clackamas and Washington, while Judge Eakin, who is a judge in the same circuit, receives only his $3000 from the state. Many other inequalities in the pay of judges were cited in the joint committee and there were said to be judges who have been on the bench twice as long as some others, yet do not draw as much money.
