

GINSENG WILL BE PROTECTED

Law Passed by the Legislature Prohibits Shipping of Deceased Roots and Compels Inspection of Gardens by County Horticultural Inspectors

As the cultivation of ginseng promises to become quite an industry in Jackson county, a law passed by the legislature at its recent session protecting the industry is of general interest. The law provides as follows:

"No ginseng grower or dealer in ginseng nursery stock, either seed or roots for planting purposes, shall send by mail or express or freight, or otherwise cause to be sent into the state of Oregon, or from one county, town or person, within the boundaries of the state, to another county, town or person, ginseng seed or root stock for planting purposes, except the package, box or bag containing same shall have securely affixed thereto a printed or typewritten label, stating in plain English language, the full name and postoffice address, county and state of the grower or dealer where the seed was grown, and must state that the ginseng seed and root stock contained herein is a pure American seed or stock and not adulterated with Japanese or any other foreign ginseng, seed or root stock and was grown in a ginseng garden that is known to be free from the Alternaria disease or any other contagious ginseng disease. Said label shall contain the certificate of the county or state fruit inspector, personally signed, as a corroboration of said statement, with his postoffice address.

"It shall be the duty of the person purchasing ginseng seed or root stock for planting purposes, either from parties residing within the state of Oregon or from other states foreign to the state of Oregon, upon receipt of package, box or bag containing the same, and before opening, to submit the same to the county or state fruit inspector, or his deputy, whose duty it shall be to copy and compare the contents of the label thereon, and if it is found that the same does not conform to the provisions of this act, the package, box or bag containing same shall either be returned to the seller and shipper at the seller's expense, or confiscated and destroyed by said fruit inspector.

"It shall also be the duty of said county or state fruit inspector or his deputy to become familiar with the various ginseng diseases and to inspect all ginseng gardens within his county three times during each season. The first inspection to be made between May 25th and June 15th; the second between July 25th and August 15th and the third between September 10th and October 1st, and if at any time of inspection there is found to be any ginseng disease of a serious nature, to make a note of same, and to report it at once to the Oregon agricultural college experiment station, department of plant pathology, at Corvallis, Oregon, whose duty it shall be to send a competent person to inspect the reported diseased ginseng garden, and if the same is found by him to be affected by the Alternaria or any other infectious disease, the garden shall at once be quarantined and said fruit inspector a sufficient time to enable the owner to take up the root stock in the fall to be for market, provided, none of said root stock or seed gathered therefrom shall be replanted or sold to others for planting purposes. Provided, further, that if the owner of any diseased ginseng garden that is under quarantine, fails to remove and dry all of the roots that shall be contained in said affected garden, by January first of the following year, it shall be the duty of said fruit inspector to destroy said garden.

"Any fruit inspector, ginseng grower or dealer in ginseng, or other person violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500 for each offense thereof."

WAR VETERANS DENOUNCE JAP AMERICAN TREATY

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 4.—Characterizing the passage of the recent treaty between the United States and Japan as "the dastardly action of congress" and declaring that it will result in the populating of the Pacific coast with an alien "unassimilable race" the members of the local camp of Spanish War Veterans today telegraphed resolutions passed by the camp to President Taft and congress.

The resolution declares that the treaty is "in the interest of the capitalists and not the common people" of the United States.
