SMALL GAINS IN STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 21.—There were few important changes at today's opening stock market. International Harvester gained 3/4, Texas and Pacific 5/8 and Utah Copper 1/2. National Railways of Mexico second preferred lost 5/8 and Southern Pacific 3/8.

The market closed strong. Bonds were steady.

A want ad campaign will cure you of your pessimism concerning a man's chances, nowadays, to find profitable and suitable employment—where the road to promotion is not closed.

ARM MILLION IF NECESSARY

Criticisms of German Military Expert Answered by Congressman Hull Points Out Possibilities of Present Army—More Warships Needed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Answering the criticisms of Colonel Gaedke German military expert, who declared that the American navy is very weak, army officers here today point to the statements of former Congressman John A. T. Hull, of Iowa, who for twenty years was chairman of the house committee on military affairs.

"We can arm 1,000,000 men in the mobile army today," declared Hull. "We are within 25,000,000 rounds of the supply of small arm ammunition that the ordinance bureau thinks we should have as a reserve. It is true that in case of war we would have to draw upon all our reserve artillery ammunition, but that is because the supply is ordered by another committee which has frequently been anti-military."

"We have a small army and should not be niggardly in ammunition supply."

"I believe that this government should have a great reserve of volunteer forces. An army of 100,000 regulars is not too big, and a reserve force of 250,000 trained and officered men should be created. This force could be maintained at an expense of not more than $20,000,000 a year."

Answering Gaedke's criticism of the navy, Hull, said: "Our only safeguard of the oceans is the fact that we control them. Great ships today could land a large force on our shores more easily than could be done by land. We must have warships to make it unsafe, if not impossible, to transport troops by sea."

Japs to South America.

TACOMA, Wash., March 21.—Japanese in large numbers are leaving Tacoma and vicinity for some point along the South Pacific coast, according to local National Guard officers today. Forty Japanese left Lacey last week in a body, embarking from Seattle on a steamer for San Francisco whence militia officers say, they planned to sail for some point on the West Coast of Mexico. Dozens of foreigners are said to be quitting their employment in saw mills and lumber camps and departing for the south.

NO CHANCE TO BOND FOR ROADS

Attorneys Reames States Defect in Law is Lack of Provision Authorizing County to Call Special Election to Pass Upon Bonds.

That there is no question as to the constitutionality of the county issuing bonds for road purposes but that the trouble lies in finding a method of procedure is the belief of A. E. Reames who has been looking into the question for the county to determine if there be any way possible for Jackson county to act under the law passed by the people at the last general election and issue bonds for road building purposes in order that Jackson county may have better highways.

The difficulty experienced by Mr. Reames in finding a way out in which the county can proceed lies in the fact there is at present, so far as he has determined, although he has not completed his researches as yet there is no way in which to obtain an expression of the will of the people. The county has never been given the power to call a special election and this in itself may prohibit the county from issuing bonds.

"There is absolutely no question as to the constitutionality of the bonds once issued but there seems to be no way to proceed. However I have not gone into the matter as far as I intend and it may be that a way will be found."
