PROGRESSIVES TO CONTROL IN '12

Joseph W. Folk States That Roosevelt Influence Is on the Increase and That Either He or LaFollette Will Be Next Party Nominee.

SPOKANE, Wash., March 22.—The progressives will control the next republican convention and the Roosevelt sentiment has increased considerably of late, epitomizes the remarks of Joseph W. Folk, ex-governor of Missouri who is here today on a tour of the west.

"Roosevelt is not down as many seemingly believe," said Folk. "He wields much influence. If the rank and file of voters have their way, and they have learned to do so, I believe that either he or LaFollette will be the next presidential nominee. And if the voters don't have their way the federal machine that disregarded their voices will be heard from later.

"According to my ideas the wave of progressive democracy is strong enought to control both the political parties. I believe this sentiment is for real democratic principles and if the democrats make a strong firm stand for real principles and if the democrats make a strong firm stand for real principles they will profit by this sentiment.

"The progressives in the republican party, by advocating democratic ideas saved the regular organization from complete annihilation.

"Yes I favor reciprocity. It is a good thing—a step in the right direction."

FORTY RIOTERS IN FIGHT ARE SLAIN

Rebel Troops Refuse to Relinquish Their Arms as Agreed and Riot Breaks Out—Federal Troops Shoot to Kill, Slaying Forty.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, March 22.—Forces of General Matuty today patroled the scene of Sundaly's battle between rioters and Honduras troops at Comayuguela, in which Generals Lara and Palma were slain. 40 rioters killed and 50 injured.

Rioting began when the troops of Lara and Palma occupied the pueblo and failed to relinquish their arms, according to agreement between the Honduran government, the rebel forces near Tegucigalpa and the peace commission. When the federal troops retained their weapons, a mob, led by insurrectos, attacked them.

GREAT STRIDES BY EXPRESS OFFICE

Local Office Jumps to Third Place in State Putting Eugene Behind—Ratio of Growth Leads Entire State According to Official Reports.

The local Wells-Fargo express office will jump to third place in the state this month. At present it is the fourth office, Eugene leading by seven dollars. Portland is first and Salem second. The local office has been climbing steadily for the past year and from a poor fourth is now running and neck with Eugene.

Last month the receipts for the local office totaled approximately $3200. This doubled the receipts of Grants Pass and Ashland.

The population of Eugene is said to be over 13,000, while Medford is accrediated with 10,000. It is stated that the receipts of the Wells-Fargo office are good indications of the population. This means that Medford has nearly 12,000 people and Ashland 6000, and this is relatively true.

The ratio of growth in receipts here is greater than in any city in Oregon, according to official reports.

NATHANIEL THAYER, PROMOTER IS DEAD

BOSTON, Mass., March 22.—Nathaniel Thayer, for many years known as one of the foremost railroad promoters in America, died here today. He was a director of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, of the United States Steel Corporation and of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and many other financial institutions.

BIG SUM FOR CARRYING MAIL

Uncle Sam Will Pay Over $50,000,000 for Transportation—Will Be an Advance of $5,000,000 Over a Year Ago.

PORTLAND, Or., March 22.—Uncle Sam will pay the railroads of the United States $50,000,000 this year for carrying the mails, an advance of $5,000,000 over any previous figure.

The new postal law, copies of which have been received by post office officials in Portland, shows the appropriation for the inland transportation of mails by railroad lines to be $50,092,200, of which about $19,000,000 will be available on July 1 of this year.

Wooden mail cars will have to go out of commission soon, however, unless what may be a joker in the new postal law, kills the intent of the department. The law provides that after July 1 no wooden cars excepting those approved by the post master general can be operated in trains where the majority of the cars are steel or of steel underframe, or between the locomotive and a steel frame car.

WORSE EVERY YEAR.

Plenty of Medford Readers Have the Same Experience.

Don't neglect an aching back.
It will get worse every year.
Backache is really kidney ache.
To cure the back you must cure the kidneys.
If you don't, other kidney ills follow—
Urinary troubles, dropsy, Bright's disease.

A Medford citizen tells you how—the way is easy.

A. Betz, 130 Front street, Medford, Ore., says. "I am just as willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills today as I was in September, 1907, when I publicly told of my experience with them. I suffered from kidney trouble for at least five years and as time passed I grew worse instead of better. Sharp pains darted through the small of my back and sometimes the attacks were so severe that I could hardly stoop. At night my back ached intensely and sound sleep was out of the question. Being told to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Haskins' drug store and they soon gave me relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

JUDGE GALL IS 78 YEARS OLD

Pioneer Who Came in 1852 and Gave His Name to Gall's Creek, Celebrates Birthday by a 78 Mile Ride on Southern Pacific Train.

Celebrating his 78th birthday today by riding 78 miles on the Southern Pacific, Judge C. C. Gall, who crossed the plains to Oregon—yes from Missouri—in '52, is no doubt allowing memory to cast "the light of other days" around him. As that 78 miles are pounded out over the gleaming S. P. track, his mind is far back on another and a longer track—the danger-beset Oregon trail stretching out like a dusty ribbon across the sun-scorched plains, into the Rockies, over lofty, wind-swept passes, down on the other side into Oregon the fair. At last the creaking schooners rested and the oxen were turned out to graze in a pleasant land, where the grass grew tall and a roaring river sang a strident song as it rushed and tumbled to the sea. His father found a little creek that chuckled and gargled as it hurried to get to the roaring river. There was gold in its sands and the pasture was the best he had seen since the sweet May morning in Missouri months before, when he turned his back to the sunrise, swung his great whip over his strong, sleek cattle and set out for Oregon, the land of promise, whither so many of his neighbors were gone and going. He made a home on Galls creek, as it was soon and is still called, and he and his sons fought the Rogue River Indians to make that home secure. Time there were when the midnight sky was red with the blazing homes of other settlers, and news came fast of lives lost at the hands of the savages. At last came peace and the expulsion of Chief Sam and his people, and the beautiful valley of the Rogue was ain the undisputed possession of its rightful inheritors. A little later the judge took up land in Sams valley, and, as justice of the peace, united many a pair of pitty-patting hearts when there was no preacher to be had in many miles. There he himself married and reared his family and saw them leave the home-nest one by one to make home-nests for themselves. These and many thoughts like these will perhaps march through the mind of the venerable pioneer justice as that 78 miles are covered by the train that is so much swifter than the train of which he was one of the crew when he was 19 and six feet two of supple young Missourian.
